

Blue and White Combine in Dainty Color Scheme for Afternoon Ceremony

HILLS CHURCH TO BE SCENE OF RITES

Lorraine Lambert Names Her Bridal Attendants For Wedding

Blue and white is the color scheme selected by Lorraine Lambert for her wedding Saturday, when she will become the bride of William L. Martin, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Benjamin Martin of Detroit. The marriage will be solemnized Saturday in Christ Church Cranbrook at 3:30 o'clock, with the Rev. W. Hamilton Aultman, assistant rector, officiating.

Attending Miss Lambert will be Janet Lambert, as maid of honor, and as bridesmaids, Dorice Sutfin, Betty Bird, Jane Alexander, and June Botsford. Junior bridesmaids will include Polly Mulkey and Joan Lambert, with Jill Thompson as the flower girl. L. Penny Mercer will be best man for Mr. Martin, and the ushers will include Ralph Burkhardt of Chicago; Richard Thrift of Traverse City; Rice Fitzpatrick and Richard Martin.

This evening, Janet Lambert will be hostess at the spinster dinner at her home on Lochmoor boulevard. The party will be a juvenile affair, with the guests dressed in children's garb. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson, parents of the bride, will give the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at their home on Lasher road. A reception at Bloomfield Hills Country Club will follow the ceremony Saturday.

Bob Klingler and Colin John returned to their respective homes Monday after making a tour of the Upper Peninsula in a trailer.

Mrs. H. F. Starr returned to her home on Dorchester road Saturday after a fortnight spent at Petoskey and Bay View.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Roira, of Euclid avenue, accompanied by their daughter, Betty, leave today for Chippewa Trails camp, where they will pick up their other daughter, Frances. From there they will drive to Blisswood, to stay a week with Mary Drury as their guest.

Mary Lambie, of Aspen road, is visiting Harbor Springs this week as the house guest of Gertrude Sawyer, of New York city.

MATCH FOLDERS ANNOUNCE 'MATCH'

Mary Milward Reveals Troth At Lovely Tea Given By Mrs. Blackmore

Mrs. Frederick H. Blackmore was hostess at tea Saturday to about seventy guests in her home on Tooting Lane, at which time announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Mary Elizabeth Milward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Milward, of Calvert avenue, Detroit, to Henry Foster Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Foster, of Franklin Hills.

Miss Milward is a graduate of Michigan State College, where she was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and prominent in campus affairs and social life. News of the approaching nuptials, which will be read some time in October, was announced in a unique fashion. Printed in gold, across blue match folders were the words "Another Match," and on the inside of the cover were the names of the engaged couple. The bride-to-be chose a charming frock of grey silk net for the occasion, modeled on youthful lines. Net ruffles at the neck emphasized the off-the-shoulder line, and three rows of ruffles also banded the hemline of the full skirt. She wore a corsage of green orchids.

Mrs. Blackmore selected a tea gown of pale green chiffon, with which she wore gardenias. Mrs. Milward's blue crepe gown featured the new draped sleeves and a corsage of purple orchids. Mrs. Foster chose a tailored white crepe suit for the affair. She wore black accessories, and her corsage was of waxy white stephanotis. A profusion of flowers filled the house, and the garden was in full bloom as well. White larkspur and yellow roses in a silver bowl formed the centerpiece for the table, at which Mrs. Gordon Sutton, cousin of the bride elect, and Miss Mae Cameron poured tea. Throughout the house, American Beauty roses and gladioli, set in tall containers, formed the decorations.

Quentin and Harry Brelsford and Bob Peabody will leave Saturday for Northport, Ontario, near Timagami in the Timiskaming region where they will join Bud Cox on a fortnight's fishing trip.

Social Briefs

June Botsford, of Pine road, arrived in Birmingham Saturday, after a three weeks' sojourn in Philadelphia, where she was the guest of Jean MacGavin. She motored home with Mr. and Mrs. Omar H. Keller, of Berwyn road.

Shirley Cady, of Lansing, is visiting her cousin, Virginia Fellows, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo E. Fellows, of Ferndale avenue. She will leave at the end of this week, after a stay of about a week.

Mrs. Angus MacClay, accompanied by her children, has just returned from an extended stay in Colorado Springs, Colorado, where they were the guests of Mrs. Henry Wallace Sr., and her brother, Henry Wallace, and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Martin, of Linden road, had as their house guests over the weekend, Mr. Martin's mother, Mrs. Nicholas Martin Sr., his sister, Mrs. George M. Willetts and her daughter, Miss Anne Willetts, who will be a senior at Smith college this year. All of them are from Chicago.

Julia Kane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kane, of Lake Park drive, accompanied by Marjorie Thale, of Detroit, left Sunday for a week in Chicago. Miss Kane's house guest, Miss Katherine Leopold, of Kentucky, left for Ann Arbor Saturday.

Mark Parsons, of New York city, arrived Sunday to spend a fortnight here as the house guest of Eleanor Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lane Bishop, of Poppleton avenue.

New Matron

Mrs. Garlick

Among recent brides coming to join the newly-marrieds of Birmingham is Mrs. James H. Garlick, Jr., who with Mr. Garlick resides at 720 North Woodward avenue. Mrs. Garlick was the former Sally King of Detroit, a bride of July.

Mrs. E. P. Waldron, of St. Johns, was the guest over the weekend of her daughter, Mrs. Stowe D. Baldwin, in her home on Greenwood avenue. Mrs. Baldwin returned from six weeks at Camp Osoha-of-the-dunes recently.

CLUBS OFFER NEW VARIETY OF FUN

As The Season Changes, So Does The Style Of Entertainment

Although summer is drawing to a close the country clubs continue to offer amusement to members and guests who are still in town. Wisely setting the features of the entertainment to the weather, they still strive to be more popular than any other single organization in making summer the festive time it is.

For instance, take Oakland Hills Country Club. The latest idea there is a fall fashion show, to be given Thursday evening, September 3. Peter Pan Inc., from the Fisher building, will present a children's fashion show at 7:30 P. M., with Scotch plaids, tweeds, West Point cloth and velvet enough to carry the most exacting young fashionable through a strenuous season. This will be preceded by a special dinner and table for the children, to be served at five o'clock.

For adults, Jaques, also in the Fisher building, is also presenting a glamorous selection of daytime, evening, dinner and sport clothes, and soon, ad infinitum, guaranteed to turn at least the feminine spectators into cold calculators, as they try tentatively to work some of the garments in. A dinner for grown ups will be served, buffet style, from 5:30. Dave Diamond's orchestra will play, and everything should be lovely. Birmingham women who will serve on the committee include Mrs. Clyde A. Haefner, Mrs. J. L. Dostal, Mrs. M. R. Mead and Mrs. Burton M. Phett.

Carrying out the macabre idea that summer is on the wane, Oakland Hills also sends out a bright statement of that sad fact, with the consulting news, however, that there is still time for another dinner and dance, which will be held this Saturday, August 28, with Ray Correll to do the playing. Pine Lake country club offers something more restful and very popular, from all accounts, with its regular bridge luncheons held on Wednesdays. This one will be held next week, and Mrs. Burton M. Phett and Mrs. H. A. Stuart are listed among the hostesses of the affair.

By way of contrast, the club's annual invitational tennis match will be played both this Saturday and Sunday. It's really an ambitious affair, with top-notch players from all over the state coming. The finals in this match will fall on Saturday, September 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Russell, of Beverly road, had as their house guests last week, Mr. Russell's niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood Wolfe and their children, Leigh and Aileen, of Baltimore, Maryland.

Peggy Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bailey, of Hamilton avenue, arrived Wednesday from Chicago, where she had been the house guest of Jean Larson, who formerly lived in Birmingham and who had been a guest of Miss Bailey earlier in the season. A group of Birmingham boys went to the Cleveland Exposition last weekend, going and returning by boat. Included in the group were J. O. Carson, Hank Waggoner, Neil and Harry Stark, Cecil and Melvin Morehouse, Rex Oberbeck, Jack Birthington, Hall Packard, Bob Vinthorn, Don Moses, Charles Dean and John Hayes.
