What can an upstate editor say to the sophistica-ed Birmingham quidence which will be of any interest to them? Surely not politics or a dissertation of economics or philosophy. In dog days one can-not rise, to sublime heights, without too much exer-

When And An If

What do we do in mid-summer? We plan to do things for pleasure instead of duty. We plan to do things for pleasure instead of duty. We plan to do things for pleasure instead of duty. We plan to visit new scenes and refreh our eyes with revisions and new landscapes.

If we have a limited time for such diversion we still can do it. Even with very limited finances the Michigan resident has more widespread recreational advantages than the folks in many other places.

While many of these advantages are closed to the state was as weak as China; the ban that the Pacifican advantages than the folks in many other places.

which moves secretly through the limestone formations.

At the Paul H. Horft state park at Roger, City the virgin hardwoods have been preserved and it is the only spot along all of Lake Huron, where the hardwood comes directly down to the shore. In all other places there is a barrier of dunes or sand or a strip of waste land.

The Black Lake State Park is a feature of the state forest of the same name just north of Onaway and is one of our fine inland lake recreational itser. The beautiful falls on the Ocqueoc river where US 23 crouses, is a notable spot on this watercourse which, right in a chain of lakes far, far enland, courses fifty miles or more to finally empty into Like Huron at Huminonds Bay, This Ocqueoc river properties and its chain of lakes, affords every kind of the control of the control of the control try down its lonest exches is not only thrill concer try down its lonest exches is not only thrill be landered to the control of the contr

About Writing

Does a newspaper editor with for he problems of the press, except as such discussions have a particularly thrilled by discussions were the problems of the press, except as such discussions have a bearing on the general stution, which affects us as a whole people.

Having rid ourselves of that observation may we apply it in offering you our publisher George National problems of the press, except as such discussions have a warped to the problems of the press, except as such discussions have a whole people.

Having rid ourselves of that observation may we apply it in offering you our publisher George Averill, to substitute for him during his absence.

What can an upstate editor say to the sophistic difference which have been a substitute of him during his absence.

What can an upstate editor say to the sophistic difference which have a substitute of him during his absence.

What can an upstate editor say to the sophistic difference which have been done to hem? Surely the converting pages of r resort having pages of r resort having pages of the supplementation of the press.

And so we might go on like a guide book or the advertising pages of a resort booklet but such is not our purpose. We simply want those of you who have not yet casted of the succulence of every section of the state, to mark down on your "must list," Presque lale county for a visit at the ardiest possible moment. And the going is good even late sinto October when some of us think this North country is really at its best.

SELF EDUCATION
People who haven't a college education often feel that they are handicapped. They feel that they may not compete in the business and professional worlds with their college-trained friends. They also consider themselves at a disadvantage socially. This feeling with some does develop into a handicapping circumstances.
