

GILES-FORBES
NUPTIALS WILL CLIMAX PARTIES

Caroline Giles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Giles, of West Brown street, will become the bride of Walter R. Forbes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Forbes, of Jackson, at 3 p. m. Saturday, in St. James Episcopal church. The ceremony will climax a round of entertainments for the engaged couple. The Reverend Warner L. Forsyth will officiate.

Acting as maid of honor will be Virginia Jones. Bridesmaids will include Hester Giles, sister of the bride-elect, Gwendolyn Standing, of Royal Oak, and Betty Roof, of Jackson. Junior bridesmaids will be Audrey and Dorothy Forbes, and Frances Stahl, tiny niece of Miss Giles.

Barton Diemer will attend Mr. Forbes as best man. Those who will usher include Harold Giles, brother of the bride-elect, Ralph Hoofnagle, Wilfred Donaldson and William Malin.

A reception for relatives and friends of the bridal pair will be held at the Community House after the ceremony. Following a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Forbes will be at home on Madison street.

Out-of-town guests who will attend the ceremony include many members of Mr. Forbes' family from Detroit, Mary Young, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Giles, from Toronto, and Mr. Giles' sister Miss Mabel Giles, of Chicago.

Miss Gertrude Allen was one of the first to honor Miss Giles, when she was hostess at a shower in her home on Watkins street. Another was Mrs. Samuel T. Burns, of Pontiac, who was hostess at a shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Hoofnagle, of Edgewood avenue.

On Sunday Mrs. Forbes tendered an afternoon tea and shower in her home at Jackson. Tuesday night was the scene of a knick-knack shower given jointly by Dorothy Kelly and Virginia Jones at the home of the latter, on Pierce street.

Guests at the party included, besides Miss Giles and the hostesses, Mrs. John Broad, of Detroit, Virginia Hoster, Coleman Ryan, Jean Ellis, Iris Beaven, Louise Moorehead, Phyllis Starr and Marjorie Gilbert. Tomorrow night, Mr. and Mrs. Giles will be host to the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner, to be given in their home.

DeMolays Install Jay Lowman As New Master

Jay Lowman was invested with the office of Master of the Hassburgh chapter of the Order of DeMolay, Tuesday, in a session held at the Masonic Temple. He replaces Jack Emerson. Others who were elected at the same time are Stuart Adams, senior counselor, and Bill Timm, junior counselor.

Both degrees were conferred in recent ceremonies held at the Pontiac chapter. Local members who were taken in at that time include George Fulcher, Kenton Shaver, Edward Wolf and Edward Falberg.

Edward De Lacy, of the Hawaiian Islands, is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson, of "Woodland Villa."

Family Dinner Will Precede Folk Dance

The next assembly for folk and country dancing will be held at the Community House tonight, following the regular Thursday night dinner at the House. The assembly will be under the direction of Mrs. Fred D. Farrar.

This dance, like its predecessors, will be open to everyone. Many of the regular members of the classes have made plans to dine at the House beforehand, either with guests, or in subscription affairs. Mr. and Mrs. George N. Siegel, of Concord road, will be hosts to a party of six. The two young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hadjisky will be the guests of the Siegel children, Betty and Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ballinger and Mr. and Mrs. William Shuck will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Siegel.

Last night members of the Birmingham Teachers' Club performed the country dances in their regular meeting at the Community House. It is planned to hold them every week after the holidays, if the demand warrants such a step.

The Birmingham staff, of 12 members, is captained by Mrs. Mio Parks. Mrs. Lois Jones is Most Excellent Chief.
