Record Time
By Carol Dwyler
Perhaps the publishing houses are getting generous for Christmas, or maybe it's just because we didn't function last week, but at any rate, this department has had a field day among all the new recordings, all of 'em good.

The first three reviews, by popular acclaim, will discuss the Benny Goodman, "Let That Be a Lesson to You," in his own tempo, which can't be described or duplicated by anyone. He has a lot of those thrilling changes of key in single passages. And the words are, unbelievably, 8-bar or more.

"I've Hitched My Wagon to a Star" sounds like a different band because the order of prominence is reversed. For this and other romantic numbers, all usual words carry the air while the brasses are used mostly for punctuation.

The Trio handles "Subtended in the Moonlight," with a lot of piano. It's slow-for-dancing and brisk-for-listening, with the triplets in trio. But we still cannot consider Miss Tilton up to handling the voice.

Adms School—Grade 3-A
Dear Santa Claus
I don't want much this year. Please bring me a cowboy suit with a hat. Please bring my Mother a pair of stockings and my Father a short and long one. I would like to leave a bottle of perfume for Miss Rose, my teacher. She lives on 311 Townsend St.

Theater Announces Holiday Features

The Birmingham Theatre announces a special pre-Christmas matinee Saturday, Dec. 18. A two-hour program for children will start at 1:45, with an hour of Cartoons. The feature "It Happened in Hollywood" starring Richard Dix will follow.

Manager Howard D. Holsh asks the cooperation of parents in having children at the theatre early and leaving with the children's snow is completed at 4 o'clock.

"This ruling is made with the thought in mind that the other feature listed in the regular billing, Santa Claus is a picture with street Adult appeal and will not be of interest to the children."

Mr. Holsh said that the Birmingham Theatre, Thursday night, 2 days before Christmas and will be in the theatre lobby from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. with a gift for each child under 12 years who is accompanied by an adult.
