

HISTORY OF 1937 SHOWS DECLINE FROM 1936 PEAK

(Continued from Page Two)

Walter L. Moreland, who resigned as cashier of Birmingham National Bank, is appointed cashier and general manager of the Birmingham Savings and Loan Association.

Rites are held at Holy Name Church for the late Frank Mulholland, widely known Birmingham merchant, whose death occurred suddenly at his residence.

Seventy-two employees of Birmingham Public Schools give their checks for $10,371.94 for back salaries in 1937.

Dr. David D. Henry, assistant to executive director of Wayne University, addresses 41 seniors of Baldwin graduating class on the subject of "New Horizons."

Red Cross Flood Relief committee headed by Mrs. H. H. Corson sends $1,000 to Flood area.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert announces that the municipal government has appropriated $40,000 to purchase a 66-acre tract of land in the southwest section of the City, on which to construct a sewage disposal plant to cost $95,000.

Birmingham Exchange Club donates $100 to aid victims of the flu.

Community House Association holds 14th annual meeting and new directors are elected, including Merrill C. Adams, Dr. William Lloyd Kinn, Harold W. C. Egan and Mrs. J. C. Egan.

In memory of Charles W. Crandall, a life-size portrait of the superintendent of the schools has been made and placed in a "quitting" name through the efforts of the Birmingham Education Association, distributed by students in five local schools.

Pub. 11-18 Started a year ago this month, Birmingham's school refunding bond issue of $2,250,000, which has been completed except for $10,000 bonds which have not yet been exchanged.

A zoning ordinance, according to Louis M. Randall, business manager of the Board of Education, is being prepared for Birmingham setting up seven classifications or restrictions for residential and business development, was unanimously passed by members of the City Board of Education last night.

At a special meeting of the County Board of Education, directors Forbes S. Hascall is elected president of the Board for the coming year.

An early morning blaze, originating from defective wiring swept two floors of a two-story brick house and garage owned by Stanley Penabody on Quanton road, Monday, resulting in an estimated $30,000 loss, only partially covered by insurance.

At the first of four first floor quota set for Birmingham was $350. Mrs. Harold H. Corson, president of the committee, announced that at the present time she has received a total of $2,433 to send to the Red Cross.

Howard D. Crull, acting superintendent of public schools in District No. 1, is named superintendent of Education, according to Earl G. Ebert, president.

Three fatal accidents and 1,470 arrests were reported during the past year in the annual police summary, presented by Chief of Police John P. Hackett to the Board of Police Commissioners.

Shoecraft, Drury and McNamee are within 25 points of the highest score ever posted by a woman bowler. Mrs. Betty Drury, of the Birmingham Bowling Club, proprietor of the Birmingham Recreation, posted a 687 to three-over-par in the women's city tournament, Saturday, at the Vernon-Livorno Recreation center.

A gathering of 35 local residents organized to protest against the proposed State Highway 26, and other constitutional amendments, electing Harry Allen former mayor, president.

Despite the prediction in the number of classes offered and the number of faculty, over 200 students are enrolled this semester in the Community College.

About 175 fathers and their sons less than half the number attending the 24th annual convention of the Birmingham Women's City Tournament, Saturday, at the Vernon-Livorno Recreation center.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert reports the quality of the water taken from the test well at the site of a future sewage plant, of Mishawaka, Ind., as excellent.

Funeral service was held Wednesday, March 3, for Lieut.

Clyde H. Wood, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Wood of 219 Greenwood avenue, who was killed in training for the United States Army while flying with a companion, crashed in a blind practice flight over the Chicago Municipal Airport.

One hundred Birmingham parents and teachers are elected to the Baldwin High School to organize a Parent-Teacher group, the first of its kind in the city. The group is being organized in a similar one was disbanded about 10 years ago.

Mr. Harold H. Corson, elected president; Mrs. F. H. Mellinger, vice-president; George R. Averill, vice-president representing the teachers; Eugene Hubbard vice-president, representing the teachers; and Mrs. Thomas R. Navin, treasurer.

March 11-18 Bringing the number of staff members to five, Miss Ruth Pouchou, executive director of the branch libraries at Flint, assumed her new duties at Baldwin High School.

A deal completing the purchase of a 66-acre tract of land in the southwest section of the City, on which to construct a sewage disposal plant to cost $95,000.

A 1937 city directory for Birmingham and vicinity will be published in the first week of the month by the R. L. Folk Co. of Detroit, through an agreement with the Birmingham School System.

Salaries of all teachers in the Birmingham School System were increased by four to five percent for the ensuing year as a result of action taken Monday.

Board of Education in the Hill School, in the Quanton Lake district.

Dr. Berr, former instructor at the Detroit Eastern High School unit of the Community College of the Birmingham Education Association, is replacing William E. Egan, who resigned the first term of his office.

A Board of Appeals to serve in connection with the zoning ordinance, appointed by the City Commission, will meet Monday.

At a special meeting of the County Board of Education, directors Forbes S. Hascall is elected president of the Board for the coming year.

An early morning blaze, originating from defective wiring swept two floors of a two-story brick house and garage owned by Stanley Penabody on Quanton road, Monday, resulting in an estimated $30,000 loss, only partially covered by insurance.

At the first of four first floor quota set for Birmingham was $350. Mrs. Harold H. Corson, president of the committee, announced that at the present time she has received a total of $2,433 to send to the Red Cross.

Howard D. Crull, acting superintendent of public schools in District No. 1, is named superintendent of Education, according to Earl G. Ebert, president.

Three fatal accidents and 1,470 arrests were reported during the past year in the annual police summary, presented by Chief of Police John P. Hackett to the Board of Police Commissioners.

Shoecraft, Drury and McNamee are within 25 points of the highest score ever posted by a woman bowler. Mrs. Betty Drury, of the Birmingham Bowling Club, proprietor of the Birmingham Recreation, posted a 687 to three-over-par in the women's city tournament, Saturday, at the Vernon-Livorno Recreation center.

A gathering of 35 local residents organized to protest against the proposed State Highway 26, and other constitutional amendments, electing Harry Allen former mayor, president.

Despite the prediction in the number of classes offered and the number of faculty, over 200 students are enrolled this semester in the Community College.

About 175 fathers and their sons less than half the number attending the 24th annual convention of the Birmingham Women's City Tournament, Saturday, at the Vernon-Livorno Recreation center.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert reports the quality of the water taken from the test well at the site of a future sewage plant, of Mishawaka, Ind., as excellent.

Funeral service was held Wednesday, March 3, for Lieut.

Bloomfield Hills with total of 106 votes cast in his favor in spring election.

James Lawrence Hulbert and Arthur J. Kane, both incumbents, are re-elected to the city commission deflected the three candidates for the city commission.

Mrs. Earl Blass of 471 Emons avenue wins the Norge gas range contest, sponsored by the Norge Gas Range Co. and the Norge Gas Range Co. Home-makers Institute of Detroit.

Despite the fact that Birmingham voted overwhelmingly to annex the district tract of land north of Oak street in the Quanton Lake district, the move is defeated when Bloomfield Township returns a negative vote on the issue.

George E. Roehm is re-elected mayor of Bloomfield Hills at the end of the fourth week of campaigning.

John H. Rosso is elected president of the Birmingham Education Association.

Rolla J. Corley, 76 years old, owner and operator of the Corley Hotel, died at his residence on Lakewood avenue following a heart attack.

State Liquor Control Commission selects Birmingham for site for one of a series of state stores.

With the last of the qualifying rounds completed, 170 of the nation's leading amateur and professional golfers are expected to compete in the National Open Championship at Oakland Hills Country Club, June 10-12.

Louis M. Randall, business manager of the Board of Education, submitted budget for 1937-38 to the City Commission.

Commission adopts resolution amending the zoning ordinance to allow a change in the zoning of the property owned by the National Bank at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

Dividend checks to 3,000 depositors are being mailed out in payment of a 5 percent dividend by the Birmingham Trust Co.

Birmingham is listed in eleventh place in survey of teachers' salaries in suburban Detroit area.

A resolution authorizing the city to purchase a parcel of land 60 by 200 feet on the right-of-way of the city, to be used as a public square, was passed by the City Commission.

June dividend is declared, the Federal Savings and Loan Association, Birmingham, announces payment on June 30.

Jack Lambie and Dick Merrill lead in flood damage contest in New York, late Friday afternoon, exactly five days to the minute that the district tract of land north of Oak street in the Quanton Lake district, the move is defeated when Bloomfield Township returns a negative vote on the issue.

George E. Roehm is re-elected mayor of Bloomfield Hills at the end of the fourth week of campaigning.

John H. Rosso is elected president of the Birmingham Education Association.

Rolla J. Corley, 76 years old, owner and operator of the Corley Hotel, died at his residence on Lakewood avenue following a heart attack.

State Liquor Control Commission selects Birmingham for site for one of a series of state stores.

With the last of the qualifying rounds completed, 170 of the nation's leading amateur and professional golfers are expected to compete in the National Open Championship at Oakland Hills Country Club, June 10-12.

Louis M. Randall, business manager of the Board of Education, submitted budget for 1937-38 to the City Commission.

Commission adopts resolution amending the zoning ordinance to allow a change in the zoning of the property owned by the National Bank at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Dividend checks to 3,000 depositors are being mailed out in payment of a 5 percent dividend by the Birmingham Trust Co.

Birmingham is listed in eleventh place in survey of teachers' salaries in suburban Detroit area.

A resolution authorizing the city to purchase a parcel of land 60 by 200 feet on the right-of-way of the city, to be used as a public square, was passed by the City Commission.

June dividend is declared, the Federal Savings and Loan Association, Birmingham, announces payment on June 30.

Jack Lambie and Dick Merrill lead in flood damage contest in New York, late Friday afternoon, exactly five days to the minute that the district tract of land north of Oak street in the Quanton Lake district, the move is defeated when Bloomfield Township returns a negative vote on the issue.

George E. Roehm is re-elected mayor of Bloomfield Hills at the end of the fourth week of campaigning.

John H. Rosso is elected president of the Birmingham Education Association.

Rolla J. Corley, 76 years old, owner and operator of the Corley Hotel, died at his residence on Lakewood avenue following a heart attack.

State Liquor Control Commission selects Birmingham for site for one of a series of state stores.

With the last of the qualifying rounds completed, 170 of the nation's leading amateur and professional golfers are expected to compete in the National Open Championship at Oakland Hills Country Club, June 10-12.

Louis M. Randall, business manager of the Board of Education, submitted budget for 1937-38 to the City Commission.

Commission adopts resolution amending the zoning ordinance to allow a change in the zoning of the property owned by the National Bank at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

State to get rack balance in transfer. Old Bloomfield Township trust fund administrators will be about $9,367. Federal and state officials are expected to arrive before the end of the year.

Hackett returns from police chief's meet. He is expected to return to Birmingham on Monday.

Work on highway to start this fall. Commission told Egbert that the city will start work on the highway to start this fall.

Open 11 bids on postoffice site in City. Byron forwards proposal to Washington, for approval of postoffice agents there.

City commission bids holiday plans $260 for additional lighting. Bids sought on 10 parcels of property along city streets.

City adds 15 street lights and 150 new street lamps. Estimated increase cost by $66 per month. Will be effective Nov. 1.

Shyren forwards proposal to increase enrollment. Registration figures, now complete, show 2,476 pupils enrolled in the schools.

Thrift Shop opens Oct. 17 at the Community House. Junior League will run the shop.

Amiee Lambie May, daughter of 1115 1/2th St., details her experiences in war-torn China. Will be in Lakeland, Fla., from Oct. 17 to 20.

Word is received that Mrs. John May, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. May, has reached Manila safely from Shanghai.

Liquor store ruling bans dealers who sell to unlicensed buyers. Licenses for dealers, may lose licenses after August 1.

State Liquor Control Commission selects Birmingham for site for one of a series of state stores.

With the last of the qualifying rounds completed, 170 of the nation's leading amateur and professional golfers are expected to compete in the National Open Championship at Oakland Hills Country Club, June 10-12.

Louis M. Randall, business manager of the Board of Education, submitted budget for 1937-38 to the City Commission.

Commission adopts resolution amending the zoning ordinance to allow a change in the zoning of the property owned by the National Bank at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

Auto crash. Local resident is badly injured in auto crash. Victim is being treated at Hill hospital.

Will enforce parking rules more strictly. Birmingham will enforce the cooperation of motorists in improving traffic jams. Will request cooperation of motorists in improving traffic jams.

Open 11 bids on postoffice site in City. Byron forwards proposal to Washington, for approval of postoffice agents there.

City commission bids holiday plans $260 for additional lighting. Bids sought on 10 parcels of property along city streets.

City adds 15 street lights and 150 new street lamps. Estimated increase cost by $66 per month. Will be effective Nov. 1.

Shyren forwards proposal to increase enrollment. Registration figures, now complete, show 2,476 pupils enrolled in the schools.

Thrift Shop opens Oct. 17 at the Community House. Junior League will run the shop.

Amiee Lambie May, daughter of 1115 1/2th St., details her experiences in war-torn China. Will be in Lakeland, Fla., from Oct. 17 to 20.

Word is received that Mrs. John May, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. May, has reached Manila safely from Shanghai.

Liquor store ruling bans dealers who sell to unlicensed buyers. Licenses for dealers, may lose licenses after August 1.

State Liquor Control Commission selects Birmingham for site for one of a series of state stores.

With the last of the qualifying rounds completed, 170 of the nation's leading amateur and professional golfers are expected to compete in the National Open Championship at Oakland Hills Country Club, June 10-12.

Louis M. Randall, business manager of the Board of Education, submitted budget for 1937-38 to the City Commission.

Commission adopts resolution amending the zoning ordinance to allow a change in the zoning of the property owned by the National Bank at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Earl Moody, Jr., and Andrew W. Moore, Jr., of the Boy Scout Troop B-4, are selected by the Lions Club troop committee to represent the troop at the National Junior Chamber at Washington, D. C.

John E. Potter, daughter of 860 Rivewood road, eighth grade student at Kingswood School, was elected member of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.