CHILD TRAINING WORK DISCUSSED

Sister Mary Of Marygrove Gives Address At House Sunday

"The Social Training of the Child: A necessary background for moral and religious training," was the subject of a lecture at the Community House last Sunday afternoon.

Particular stress was laid by Sister Mary, recognized as an authority in the field of child psychology, on the gradual development of a social conscience in the child in order that he will become a well balanced mature citizen.

"The responsibility for the training of the child in the great social duties of life is that of the parents. The school will help; but it is the home that is fundamentally responsible."
