Fashion Tips

The best suits are as smart as ever this season. Some of the favorites are tailored, made-up suits, such as: leather-trimmed, a windbreaker jacket, handkerchief pockets and wooden buttons. Sublimine designs in linen have already made their appearance.

A kitchen woman, watching her gloves, is good, vary the material, woolen and silk.

Phid hats of women have been in the limelight in the new showings. The baskets are on the straight of the season, while skirts are cut on the bias.

THE SUBTLE ART
The subtler woman is remembered how much she talks in her life. Her flattery is not meant to be heard. Her interest is not meant to be shown. Her attention is not meant to be given. Her love is not meant to be expressed. Her respect is not meant to be shown. Her admiration is not meant to be given. Her affection is not meant to be expressed. Her devotion is not meant to be shown. Her loyalty is not meant to be given. Her honor is not meant to be expressed. Her integrity is not meant to be shown. Her honesty is not meant to be given. Her justice is not meant to be expressed. Her kindness is not meant to be shown. Her gentleness is not meant to be given. Her meekness is not meant to be expressed. Her mildness is not meant to be shown. Her docility is not meant to be given. Her obedience is not meant to be expressed. Her submission is not meant to be shown. Her humility is not meant to be given. Her lowliness is not meant to be expressed. Her poverty is not meant to be shown. Her simplicity is not meant to be given. Her plainness is not meant to be expressed. Her unadornedness is not meant to be shown. Her unadornedness is not meant to be given. Her unadornedness is not meant to be expressed. Her unadornedness is not meant to be shown.

Plans Under Way For Organizing P. T. A. At Baldwin High School

As an outgrowth of an informal gathering of mothers and teachers held recently at the home of Mrs. Harold H. Cronin of West Maple avenue, plans are under way for bringing parents and teachers together in a Parent-Teacher Association at Baldwin High School.

As a result of the gathering, which interested in organizing such a group in Birmingham, was expressed, a committee of about 40 mothers of Baldwin students, was retained to discuss the advisability of such a plan.

The first step taken by the group was to communicate with the faculty of Baldwin High School asking its members to form a Parent-Teacher Association and to present the matter to the school and the parent.

When, according to Mrs. Cronin, the school board and the parent body, from the school, further plans were completed, the committee of mothers will be organized.

STAR DUST

By VIRGINIA VALE

THERE was a rather funny reaction to an interview that Edward G. Robinson gave a reporter for an Italian newspaper some time ago.

He praised the work of Frank Capra, the director, who is Italian by birth, saying that Capra refused to direct gangster films.

He remarked that he thought it was because Capra did not want to make pictures which showed his own people in a bad light. When the stern barst hit, not Capra, but Robinson. Seeing the Italians thought gangsters were something like senators—an American institution of which Americans were proud.

The first discussion over which actress would play the mother role in "Stella Dallas" has been settled at last. It goes to Barbara Stanwyck, who seems a bit young for it, but that's her course there's always a make-up. And anyway, the part is to be so serious to her.

At the moment the "Good Wife" of the "Wind" pursuit of a heroine is still ragged, but she doesn't mind that will be settled in the same way—some attractive, dependable actress whose screen work is known to the public either here or there.

Phil Baker, who has long been one of radio's favorite comedians, has learned a lot from what has happened to other men like him when they consented to make a picture. And he is proud by what he has learned. He knows that, when the picture is released, the comedian's part may have been big and important, but there is practically nothing left of it.

Both Samuel Goldwyn and Paramount want him to do his specialty in pictures, but he has held out, even to the extent of refusing $12,000 to do his stuff.

The very funny Ritz Brothers, who can be relied upon to send movie audiences into gales of laughter, encountered something that was not so very funny, to them, when they had to skate for "One in a Million." The Soda Opera picture that's all about skating, even stand up in the home of big numbers. The brothers simply could not learn to skate. They couldn't even stand up in the home of big numbers. The difficulty was solved by having special skates made for them.

Speaking of romantic stories, even the movies can't beat the one of Wallace Ford's long search for his mother and his finding her just before Christmas. It's about 28 years since she had to put him in an English orphanage, and Ford is found her living in an automobile trailer, and the wife of a blind match seller. Now he is going to do all the things for her that he has planned during the long years when he was trying to find her.

Probably nobody will ever be able to explain why certain radio programs succeed, any more than million picture producers can explain why some pictures smash box office records and others that seem just as good don't.

There is a delightful radio program that has been going well for considerably more than a year. It's called "Dot and Wilf." The show is so popular that it has been bought by the company has actual proof that thousands of people listen to it.

Apparently a lot of old stories are to be re-made during 1937. "Ben Hur" is up for discussion—maybe with both Clark Gable and Robert Taylor in it. There was a time when, if three featured players were in a picture, it was advertised as having an all-star cast. Now the producing companies put several of their biggest stars into one picture and just take it as a matter of course, as do the audiences.
