

Lorraine Lambert Will Become Bride of W. L. Martin Saturday, August 28th

BETROTHAL NEWS DISCLOSED AT TEA

Noesgays Tell Announcement of Engagement and Wedding Date

Quaint little noesgays containing diminutive envelopes revealed the news of the betrothal of Lorraine May Lambert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson of Lakeside road, to W. L. Martin, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Benjamin Martin of Detroit, Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Thompson entertained 50 guests at tea in honor of her daughter.

The tea table was centered with garden flowers and pouring were Mrs. W. F. Lambert, Mrs. Charles J. Lambert and Mrs. Philip Moley, all of Grosse Pointe.

Miss Lambert has chosen Saturday, Aug. 28, as the day for her wedding, which will be solemnized at 4 o'clock, in Christ Church Cranbrook. Jane Lambert will be maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will include Betty Bird, Dorice Saffrin, Jane Alexander and June Botford. Polly Muxley and Joan Lambert will act as junior bridesmaids, and Jill Thompson will be flower girl. L. Penny Meeker will perform the duties of best man for Mr. Martin. Names of the ushers will be announced later.

The Rev. Dr. S. S. Marquis will perform the marriage ceremony assisted by the Rev. R. W. Woodruff. A reception at Bloomfield Hills Country Club will follow the marriage rites.

The bride-elect received her schooling at Kingswood School Cranbrook and the University of Michigan, where she was a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma society. Mr. Martin attended the Shattuck Military Academy.

Vows Spoken in St. James' Church Before Altar Decked With Roses

Before the altar, made lovely with white roses and ivory tapers, Mary Jeanne Weitzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Dale Weitzel, Jr., of Lakewood drive, and John Henry Woodenden, spoke their nuptial vows Saturday at 4 o'clock in St. James' Episcopal church. The Rev. Warner L. Forsyth, rector, read the marriage service. Pewers for the family were marked with clusters of Deutzias, and dispensals of blue delphinium were placed about the church.

Miss Weitzel wore a gown of old ivory satin, fashioned in the empire style with square neckline and extending to the elbow. Her finger-tip veil of old ivory tulle was draped in three folds, one falling over the face. Holding it in place was a satin band trimmed with little clusters of orange blossoms. An arm bouquet of gardenias and white lilies, and a large leopon model with streamers of blue velvet ribbon, and her flowers, blue delphinium, Jean Merritt, young cousin of the bride, acted as junior bridesmaid, wearing shell pink matelase organza and large leopon hat. She carried a bouquet of pink corn flowers and blue delphinium.

The four bridesmaids, Harriet Bradford, Elizabeth LeMessurier, Bette Polistak and Dorthe Burke, wore similar gowns of shell pink lace, made with bolero jackets. Their hats were of matching lace and their flowers, pink poppies and blue delphinium.

Mr. Woodenden, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Woodford of Detroit, was attended by Robert E. Booth as best man. The

Names Wedding Day Garden Unit Asks Cooperation In Beautifying House Grounds

An appeal to residents of Birmingham to protect the lawns and shrubs surrounding the Community House was voiced by Mrs. Alexander Clark, chairman of the House Planting committee, when members of the board of the Birmingham unit, Women's National Farm and Garden association met for luncheon recently at the home of the president, Mrs. Sam Garber of Bloomfield Village.

"I don't believe people realize that the Birmingham unit voluntarily maintains the lawn and planting around the House at considerable cost," Mrs. Clark said. "If they did they might not be so reckless in tramping upon the grass and damaging shrubs and flowers. As we have assumed this cost and responsibility, we feel justified in asking those who frequent the House to cooperate in protecting the grounds."

Mrs. Clark asked the board to authorize the placing of signs on the grounds. Mrs. W. S. Gilbreath, Jr., program chairman, announced that instead of a meeting in September, the unit would sponsor a tour of Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham gardens, with Mrs. Fred W. Sanders in charge.

The October meeting will be held at the subject of "Balloons." Mrs. Gilbreath informed the group, and will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edna M. Beauford. Mrs. William McAllum will be in charge of the November meeting, which will be conducted at the Cranbrook Institute of Science. Mrs. Gilbreath announced that the August luncheon meeting and luncheon were Mrs. Anton H. Webster, first vice-president; Mrs. Charles H. McNeil, Jr., second vice-president; Mrs. Clark, Mrs.
