

Cathedral Candles Shed Soft Light As Rites Are Read

VOWS SPOKEN AT LOVELY CEREMONY

Mother's Wedding Gown Of Frothy Lace Is Worn

By Miss Hills

One of the loveliest of summer weddings was solemnized in Christ Church Cranbrook Saturday afternoon when Mary Louise Hills became the bride of Clement A. Penrose, Jr., son of Mrs. Christian Henry Hecker of Detroit. The bride was escorted by the aisle of the stately church by her father, Dr. Herbert H. Hills of Long Lake road.

Standing before the altar with its background of fern, white garden flowers, and cathedral candles in tall standards, Miss Hills and Mr. Penrose spoke their vows as pronounced by the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, at 4:30 o'clock. Brussels and duchess lace were combined in the frothy gown of the bride, which was that worn by her mother. In more detail, the lace was made over a foundation of satin. The tiered skirt ended in a short train, and the close-fitting bodice was fashioned with a y-neckline, softened by a collar of duchess lace. The small ribbons, puffing and held in place by a coronet of duchess lace and spray of orange blossoms at either side. The bridal bouquet was of stephanotis, lily of the valley and white larkspur.

Virginia Hills was maid of honor. The bridesmaids included Victoria Penrose, sister of the bridegroom; Florence Pierce of Flint, a cousin of the bride; Betty Klingensmith, Lucille Wilson, Janet Thomas, Barbara Fitch, Mrs. B. G. Wilson and Mrs. Ralph Cox, Manuel.

Their gowns were identical in peach marquisette, with the exception that the maid of honor's was a shade deeper than the rest. All were made in bouffant style, with ruching at the waist and the skirt and outlining the puffed sleeves and square necklines.

Both, honor maid and bridesmaids wore crownless turbans of matching shade, twined with velvet ribbon, which ended in short streamers in the back. Miss Hills carried pink water lilies combined with blue delphiniums, and the same color scheme was carried out for the bridesmaids, except that their bouquets had more of the blue flowers.

Hugo Stevens was best man for Mr. Penrose. Seating the guests were Richard Hecker, Paul Keena, Wickliffe E. Wyse of Baltimore; Anthony Tunney, Emory Wendell, William Newmann, George Beall and Charles Hecker.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party received guests at a reception at Bloomfield Hills Country Club. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth, and centered with white larkspur and lilies. Disposables of flowers in pastel shades were used elsewhere about the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Penrose left for Scomet for a fortnight, after which they will be at home in Grose Pointe.

Marriage Made Known

Miss Catherine Winslow of Detroit and Ernest Winfield Osborne of Northland drove were quietly married Wednesday, June 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Schock of Charing Cross road.

Many Turn To Country Clubs For Fun In Planning Summer Calendar

Birmingham's summer amusement area is, for any of its residents, the locale surrounding the country dotted by country clubs. Nearly every one belongs to a club or two, and plans his leisure around the entertainment his club provides. There's always something doing, be it golf, bridge or sailing, to while away the long summer hours.

One can plan his vacation calendar fairly well according to club activities. Beginning with:

Today, July 15: Orchard Hills Country Club announces a buffet dinner from 6 to 9 p. m., followed by a novel form of entertainment. There will be a show, on a theater-size screen, eight reels of "talkies" featuring Bobby Jones and other stars of the green. The films will have their share of comedy, and last but not least, pictures of the 1937 Open, in which Club members progress on the club course. The picture will start at 9:30.

Friday, July 16: Birmingham Golf Club will entertain women members with golf by ten; followed by luncheon from 11 to 12, and bridge in the afternoon.

Friday, July 16: at Orchard Lake Country Club, the juniors will hold forth with a dance exclusively for their pleasure. There will be dancing to the music of Wiley Hitchock's Royal Syncopators. The guests must qualify, as far as age is concerned as more than 12 and under 17 years. Providing the music under the direction of Junior Maestro Hitchock will be Margery Clawson, (the only girl) pianist; and an orchestra including Bud Clawson, Arthur Neff, Al Bohm, Alec Gairn, Bill Slocum, Ann Dyrance and George Green.

Wednesday, July 21: Pine Lake Country Club will give one of its summer bridge luncheons. Birmingham women interested in arrangements include Mrs. Harry D. Wise, on the committee, and as hostesses, Mrs. A. S. Trew and Mrs. Walter G. Stecker.

Forest Lake Country Club offers three Red Letter dates next week.

Wednesday, July 21: buffet supper and bridge for members, followed by special showing of "The Fore Horsemen."

Saturday, July 24: Dance and card show for members.

Friday, July 30: dance for juniors and teens. The same evening the club offers bridge and Warren for senior members in the grill and lounge.

Fashion Tips

Jackets are almost a necessity this season. Lace jackets for evening, gaily striped ones for sports and simple over lace for other occasions.

A good sweater is one garment which should be included in the luggage of every one planning a vacation trip. Get a good one as cheap knitted clothes are poor investments.

A dimity or pique evening gown is the very frock to take along on a holiday.

The South American influence is being seen in the newest Aztec Red, Mayan Blue, Incan Gold and Zoltex Green are some of the colors.

Stripes and Indian designs of various kinds are being shown on silks and rayon.

Bolero jackets and sombrero hats carry out the Pan-American idea in cloths.
