A MAN ABOUT TOWN

▲ After the flood of Monday night, one would think that "It Ain't Going to Rain No More," but from all appearances, this is to be the rainy season. We went into them who are on vacation during these days and nights of sudden rains. One does not know whether to start out with the "summer heat" on or play safe and wear togs which have been rained on before.

▲ Evidently a large number of Birmingham folks were kept away from the Lions Club annual Westwood Party last Friday night by the heat and threatening rain. Those who did go, however, found a very cool spot at the Gardens and only a short shower to interrupt the activities. It was reported that an enjoyable time was had by all.

▲ Speaking of heat, an amusing incident was passed on to us by one of Birmingham's fair ladies who always seems to find a bit of humor in things as she goes about the town. It seems that she dropped in to the Green Paint Store on West Maple and remarked about the heat. "D. A." agreed with her and admitted that his place was especially hot due to the fact that the young man who assists him in the store thought that it would be a good idea to burn up some of the paper, etc., which had accumulated, so he put it into the furnace and touched a match to it. The steam gauge indicated 140 pounds of steam, so it probably was pretty hot in the store about that time. We were not told whether Mr. Green became hot under the collar or not.

▲ Two of Birmingham's prominent young bachelors are out of circulation for the time being, at least. Nancy Blennan left for Europe this week, and Shan Rosko was at the heat in New York. Our first Bon Voyage before boarding another liner for Bermuda. Here's hoping they have a fine and safe and their "pick-up" will be excellent.

HEAT WAVE AT NORTH POLE.
Moscow—Believe it or not, but the North Pole is having a heat wave. For more than a week, the temperature hovered around freezing or thawing mark and instead of the usual snow and ice, it rained regular rain. As a result of the rain, the ice on which the Soviet North Pole base was situated has been weakened. An ice-block house, constructed for the radio station melted and scientific work was abandoned temporarily.
