

House Guests Bring Summer Entertaining To A Climax

Out-of-Town Visitors Flock Here To Keep Stay-at-Homes Busy

Despite the crowds of Birmingham residents who have left town for their vacations, either spending them at their summer homes or traveling, the roll of those who are entertaining out of town guests here swells every day. With such easy access to country clubs, with swimming, boating and fishing more the order of the day than something extraordinary and with all the attractions of a large city so close at hand, the people here is no wonder that "people come and people go and something is always happening."

Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Mead, of Wadlington road, are entertaining Mrs. George W. Marshall and her daughter Jean, of Greenwich, Connecticut. Mrs. Mead honored her guests with a luncheon at the D.A.C. Saturday, others invited including Mrs. Clyde E. Ustick, Mrs. M. R. Mead and her daughter Mary Ann, Mrs. George T. Jefferson, Mrs. Glenn Murray, Mrs. J. W. Pointe, Mrs. Mead's mother, Mrs. R. L. Francis and Mrs. Ralph J. Francis, of Detroit.

Mrs. John F. Horton's guest, who is visiting the Horton home, on Pilgrim, is also from the east. Her name is Miss Grace M. Pinnney, and she is Mrs. Horton's sister, from Springfield, Mass. Mrs. John Gordon gave a luncheon for her before leaving on her own trip, and there will be other affairs.

From the southeast, Baltimore, Maryland, to be exact, come the house guests of the Herberts, E. Royals, at Wing Lake. Mrs. Royal's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Lund, arrived here Tuesday, bringing with them Mr. and Mrs. Russell Meyers, alio of Baltimore. The Royals tendered their guests a buffet dinner last evening.

The Morris Halstead household, of Durdlechester, is enjoying the ten day stay being made by Mrs.

will be here for a week. Another one of the younger set who is entertaining is Peggy Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey, Jean Laragh, daughter of the E. L. Larsons, who moved to Wilmette, Ill. from Birmingham now so long ago, came Tuesday for a week with Peggy. Last night, Mrs. Albert Moore, of Fayetteville, Ark., is staying with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Gawne, on Glenhurst road, and hasn't yet decided how long she can remain. The most western visitor of all is Miss Kathrine Pannind, who has come from Los Angeles, Cal., for an indefinitely long stay with Mrs. E. G. Wasey, on Harmon avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William Osgood, on Dorchester road, pick their guests from those at hand. They have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKnight and their son, Robert J., of Detroit. They and Mary Buick and others met at the Osgood home Monday for cocktails, and then went on to Westwood, Tuesday. The Osgoods were paid a flying visit by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Austin Crabbe, of Devonport, Iowa, but they have left now.

The D. G. Nethercots, on Suffolk road, have had a number of guests for the past three weeks. Mrs. Nethercot's mother, Mrs. H. T. Chase, of Topeka, Kansas, Mrs. Nethercot entertained at luncheon at Rotunda Inn for Mrs. Chase on Wednesday, and later on in the same day, she and her husband took a short trip up to northern Canada to visit their two sons, who are in camp there.

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gardner, on Aspen road, are entertaining a bit of entertaining of the younger set, Margaret's guest, Lee Linhof, arrived Saturday from Rochester, New York, and will be here for two weeks. Honoring her guest, Margaret invited ten friends to dinner Saturday night, later taking them to Orchard Lake, to dance. Mary Gardner's guest is Betty Berry, of Grose Point, She came yesterday, and

A small party at the home of the parents of the bride was started off the calendar of affairs honoring the engaged couple. There will be more in the future, but the dates have not yet been announced.

Plan Western Trip

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lovett, of Adams road, will leave next Monday on a motor trip to California. They are going about a month. While in California they will be the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Norton, of San Mateo, Mrs. Norton, who was a former July 22, lives in Birmingham before her marriage to Mr. Norton. Mr. and Mrs. Lovett have arranged their trip in order to see their grandson, William Norton, who was born Tuesday, July 20.

KITCHEN KORNER

By Sally Lunn

The Jones were planning their first vacation trip in the newly acquired trailer. They were discussing various minor details, when 10-year-old Bill asked a question that brought matters to a head.

"Say, what do we do for food when we're on the road? Suppose we're up in the mountains and there aren't any stores around, we, we couldn't wait 'till we got to a town?"

"That's right, Son, we'll have to carry some canned soup and beans along with us. Better get some tinned salmon, too. Have you bought any yet, Myrtle?"

"No—On the long trip we're going to take, I can't see myself eating beans and salmon and salmon and beans." Mrs. Jones objected. "I don't possibly plan to be at certain towns at meal time!"

"Now, Myrtle, you know that's impossible. I haven't any more of an appetite for a diet of salmon and beans than you have, but we've got to carry food—and plenty of it. As Bill says, there'll be times when we'll have to pitch camp in the mountains or along the open road, miles from a town. Can't you think of other canned foods that would offer more variety? Lots of people travel in trailers nowadays, what do they do?"

"I know!" exclaimed young Bill, always alert where matters of food were concerned. "Ask Mrs. Brown what they took along last summer when they went to Yellowstone Park."

Mrs. Brown, promptly summoned, settled herself in a rocker on the porch.

"So you want to know my recipe for a trailer-meal?" She asked laughingly. "Well, I figured that one can pick up vegetables at roadside stands, but there are times when it is impossible to obtain fresh meat.

Besides, it is only the trailer de luxe that has plenty of refrigerator space. So I made out a list of canned meats and stocked up. This is what I bought, corned beef, dried beef, chili con carne, beef tongue, veal loaf, spaghetti, and a variety of bottled meats for sandwiches.

"Another thing you stock to remember is to replenish your stock every opportunity you have. As you use the various cans, buy more, so that you have plenty on hand. I think you'll find trailer appetites are about twice as large as those one reckons with at home. We were simply ravenous, and I was so glad I had provided for substantial meals. A stack of one lux is just an aggravation. There's nothing like a whiff of hot corned beef hash along with your mountain air.

"Of course when it is possible to obtain fresh meat, ground beef is a popular number with campers. But this should be purchased only a short time before it is used. I brought over a recipe we liked, and had several times on our trip. In fact, I've often said we could get fresh meat. It is called 'Toasted Nut Hamburgers.' And this is how it is made: 1 1/2 pounds ground beef, 3 tablespoons chopped pecan or walnut meats, 6 pressed well together so that they will hold their shape. Combine chopped nut meats, onion and parsley and spread on top of six cakes. Place half of a bacon slice on top of the nuts, and the remaining six cakes as covers on each. Place the hamburger, onion and broil or panbroil the cakes until they are done.

Dorothy Trump Wins Royal Title At Interlochen

The Interlochen Camp of Music recently elected as its queen, Dorothy Trump, sixteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal G. Trump, of Franklin Village. It is a signal honor to win, as Miss Trump did, the first year of attendance at the camp, for candidates are nominated at the winter term, and the first year of excellence in her work, popularity among other members of the camp, and beauty.

Miss Trump is a striking brunette, tall and slender, with vivid coloring and dark hair. She is studying hard and directing at Interlochen, as well as participating in a harmony class and being a member of the camp choir. During the winter she studies the piano and is a member of the orchestra of Baldwin high school, where she is a student. Despite all this extra curricular activity she still finds the time to keep her academic work up and to devote to the doings of the younger set, of which she is a popular member.
