MAPLES LOSE FINAL MEET

Collins Sets Dash Record As Ferndale Cops Last Cinder Test

The Birmingham track team lost to the Ferndale thunders last Friday on the Baldpate track. The Maples just missed victory by five points, their failure to cash in on seconds and thirds leading to the 54½ to 49½ score in favor of Ferndale. Birmingham amassed 45 of its points by capturing firsts in nine out of twelve events. Its weakness in the shot put and fall-downs to have second and third place winners has been the reason for its downfall in several of the dual meets throughout the season, although it showed up as a power-house in the regional, state, and relay meets.

Captain Clark Collins has made a name for himself in the annals of Baldpate track. Clark was unable to do very much last year due to an injured leg, but this year's competition has marked him as a star. He is graduating this June with honors in all phases of high school work.

Collins set a new Ferndale track record and a new Baldwin record when he dashed down the cinders in the 100 yard dash in :10.2 equalling the State record. Collins held the old record at Baldwin held by Bill Guckelberg, set in 1933. Guckelberg's time was :10.3.

Quentin Breisford, Birmingham's cinder lightning, set a new Ferndale track record in the 800 yard dash. Breisford got off to a slow start and made up for the loss in time by sprinting the last 100 yards, crossing the line a great distance in front of the other runners. His time was 2:02.3 made in the Flint Relays. Time for this race was 2:05.6. Second was Paul Hoover, Ferndale and third was Vicario.

Junior Hoover coasted in an easy first in the mile run with the time of 4:48. Hoover has done faster time but was not pushed until the middle of the last lap when he began to open up and sprinted to the finish in the lead.

Carey was the only Birmingham man to place in the 440 yard dash, taking first with the time of 1:01.2. Colgrove was kept out of competition because of a leg injury.

In the low hurdles Gorman hopped down the lanes in the lead to cross the tape three feet ahead of Phillips of Ferndale. Watson was second. Time—25.2.

Captain Clark Collins jumped into an ever increasing lead in the 200 yard dash to capture another first. O'Donnell tied for third. Time—21.5.

Captain-elect Frank McCarthy jumping his greatest distance took a first in the Broadjump with 21 feet 1½ inches. Frank has not done much broadjumping this year as he was saving his energy for the high jump, but it looks like he will be an outstanding broadjumper by the time next year rolls around.

McCarthy placed another first in the high jump, stopping at 5' 2", the height that the other jumpers went out on.

Jim Bennett, Baldwin freshman, replaced Colgrove for Friday's relay and earned a letter for himself when the team crossed the tape far in the lead to place first and give Birmingham its last five points. Carey, O'Donnell, and Captain Collins were the mainstays running. Time—1:38.1.

The track team will journey down to Belle Isle this Saturday to enter the All-City relay meet sponsored by the Wayne University. Birmingham was one of the few out of city teams to be invited. The team did very well in the Flint relays two weeks ago and expects to come home with honors this time also.

Reason for Refusal
Cher—I'm afraid I can't let you have that drag, sir.

Customer—Why not? Do I look like a man who would kill himself?

Clerk—Well, I wouldn't go so far as to say that, sir, but if I looked like you, I should be tempted.

Apple Growers Start "Wake Up And Live" Movement To Protect Michigan's Markets

Apple growers of eastern Michigan are starting a "Wake Up and Live" movement to stop growers of other states from taking Michigan's markets away from them. It seems to be a defense proceeding, and it was set in motion by Zel Dowling of Orchard Hill on East Long Lake road, Bloomfield Hills.

Most of the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club horses and their riders know their way about the trails of that place, and the country is beautiful to ride over. But there are a great many hundreds of apple trees there also which bear fruit. And fruit calls for proper grading of size and color and modern marketing methods, such as western states, New York and other eastern states have set up.

A meeting of eastern Michigan apple growers was held recently at Orchard Hill. Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of Meadowbrook Farm, Rochester, Michigan, who is a member of the State Board of Agriculture, presided.

During the last four years, Mr. Dowling has done extensive research, during his spare time, in the apple industry. With color charts and graphs showing start-line encroachment upon this market, together with facts and figures, he gave the benefit of his information to other growers.

Apparently they had not quite realized that they were gradually losing their heritage, through cooperation and aggression of apple growers in other states, combined with Michigan's inertia and indifference on the subject.

They were told that Oakland county, though the largest, is sixth in volume of apple production in the state, and yet it is right on top of the Detroit market. Experts say that Michigan apples have the finest flavor to be found anywhere, and still they are not generally properly placed before the public.

So the men at this meeting proceeded to do something about it. It was definitely pointed out that there is under-production rather than over-production of apples, and that is something to think about in the day of crop analysis.

Everybody at the meeting conceded that the less handling apples have, the less bruising and discoloration there is. Also, fruit may be picked regardless of size or quality during harvest time when help is not so plentiful, and placed in storage for preservation. As marketing time approaches, and more help is available during industrial slowing down, the fruit may be properly sized, packed and packaged.

Plans are being considered for the building of a central storage and packing plant to serve the counties of Wayne, Wastawa, Livjghet, Macomb, Monroe, a part, Genesee and Oakland counties. Other counties later may be included.

Committee are Don Button of Farmington; Henry Ross, Rochester; W. K. Bristol, Albion; Russell Pugh, Farmington; Roger S. Hubbell, Milford; and Zel Dowling, Bloomfield Hills. Others who have worked with the committee are Gary Halstead, Russell and Jay Button, Louis N. Spicer and Harry McCracken, all of Farmington; also Clayton Cressman of Rochester; George R. Simmons, Northville; and Karl D. Bailey, Oakland Agricultural Agent located in Pontiac.

"Well, Bill," he said, "off to Australia again!"
