STAR DUST

Movie • Radio

By VIRGINIA VALE

THE President of the United States, no less, is the new action coach at the Selznick-International studios in Hollywood. Whenever President Roosevelt makes an address over the radio, David Selznick has it recorded, and these records are used daily in training actors for voice tests.

Players memorize his speeches, then play the records over and over following his every intonation until they have mastered the art of perfect phrasing. Considering the great charm of the First Lady's recent broadcasts, studios might do well to record her talks.

In recent weeks Carole Lombard has been the busiest young woman in Hollywood, because her Paramount contract allows her to make one picture for another company each year. She and all the companies have been sending scripts over to her house for her approval.

There were such grand stories in the past that Carole Lombard wants to make at least three of them. Her first night away from the home studio will be at Selznick-International where she will play in "Nothing Sacred" opposite Fredric March.

All of us who could not get to London for the coronation can comfort ourselves by watching the long coronation scenes in "The Prince and the Pauper." This is a most likable and refreshing picture of a exciting one. The March twins are a grand addition to the ranks of young players.

Some weeks ago, you may recall, Gloria Swanson's return to the screen was all set. She was going to make "Maie Kenyon" for MGM. And then when Gloria arrived at the studio all ready to go to work, the director looked at her horror-stricken. She wouldn't do it; she looked too young. Dashing over to London to coronation festivities to forget her disappointment, Gloria had about decided that her future lay in radio work, when Columbia pictures got her on the transatlantic phone and told her to hurry home, they had found the perfect story for her. It sounds like a wonderful break for Gloria.

In spite of her outstanding success in "Valiant Is the Word for Comedy" and the forthcoming "They Gave Him a Gun" which is said to be even better, Gladys George looks on herself as just a novice at screen acting. So intent is she on becoming as skilled a player on the screen as she was on the stage, she spends all of her spare time studying movies. The players she admires most are Garbo, Spencer Tracy, and Merle Oberon.

Social life and cafe-hopping were at low ebb during the weeks when there was talk in the air of a strike of the Screen Actors' guild which counts all the great in its ranks, but the homes of Robert Montgomery, Jim Cagney, Fredric March and a few other leaders were continual mob scenes. These men James Cagney won the undying gratitude of extras and bit players, for they were battling to improve their pay and working conditions, not their own. Everyone is relieved that no strike was necessary. These leaders rallied the support of their fellow-players so quickly and thoroughly that the producers gave-in to their demands without a struggle.

ODDS AND ENDS—Hollywood will throw a grand party soon in honor of Rebel and Fields and the fifth anniversary of their stage debut on tour. Initiators of their art will be put on by Jack Benny and George Burns, Eddie Cantor and George Jessel, and two motion-picture producers and very successful writers, Mr. Cary Cooper to croquet and Gary is threatening to buy them old-fashioned looking chairs. Betty Davis never gets the least bit nervous in front of a camera or a microphone, but waiting between scenes gives her the jitters. She calms down by sipping tomato juice between scenes. . . . Joe C. Brown, Jr., the envy of all his pals because he takes Dixie Dinkler, the cutest little trick in 20th Century-Fox pictures, in his fraternity dances. . . . James Dunn has bought an airplane so that he can fly around the world in his big events whenever he has a few days between pictures. . . . Whenever the R-O studio wants to reach Gladys Rogers on a day when she is not working, they call the hospital where James Stewart is undergoing treatment for arthritis. . . . Paul Muni has rebelled against boards and ward makeup.

More Chicken Recipes To Tempt That Warm-Weather Appetite

Last week we gave you a number of recipes for that universally appealing meat—chicken. We are adding a number of others to that list, believing that you will find them equally as delicious and satisfying.

Chicken Curry.
One 4-lb. chicken.
1-4 cup shortening.
2 onions.
1-2 tablespoons curry powder.
1 bay leaf.
1 slice of garlic.
Salt to taste.
Steam the chicken 2 hours. Remove bones and cut into small pieces. Simmer the onion and garlic in the shortening, brown the chicken pieces, add the other ingredients and 3 cups of chicken stock or water. Cook slowly until tender. Add 2 cups evaporated milk and a teaspoon of lime juice. Serve on hot rice and crisp chopped bacon, pickled onions, toasted shredded coconut, spiced raitani, Indian relish, rice, steamed cauliflower, peas, fried and raw onions. In the East they serve many of these supplementary items. They include bits of fried vegetables, of finely minced cabbage and of salty fish.

Chicken and Shrimp.
Brown a 3 lb. chicken cut in pieces in 4 tablespoons butter, then add 1-4 cup each of minced carrot and onion, 3 slices of garlic. Cook five minutes, then pour on 2 tablespoons of brandy. Add a cup of white wine, 1 cup water, 1 bay leaf, pinch thyme, ten peppercorns, 4 tablespoons flour, salt to taste. Simmer until the chicken is tender. Add 1-2 lb. shell shrimp or 1 can, and a 2-ounce can of mushrooms. When hot add 1-2 cup of evaporated cream beaten with 1 egg. Cook one minute and serve.

Virginia Chicken Pudding.
Cut up 2 young chickens as for frying; put in a saucepan; cover with hot water, add 2 teaspoons salt, parsley and 2 peppercorns. Boil gently 1 hour or until tender. Remove the chicken and cool slightly. Slip out the bones, discarding the necks. Put the chicken in a deep baking dish. Make a batter by mixing 4 cups milk with 4 well-beaten eggs and 1-2 cups flour. The batter must be very thin, but free from lumps. Beat with a rotary beater if necessary. Pour the batter over the chicken and bake in a moderate oven for about an hour or until pudding is firm and well puffed. Serve at once with plenty of gravy made from thickening the chicken stock (obtained from boiling the chicken) with flour and seasoning with salt, pepper and little grated lemon rind.

Parker House Cutlets.
2 tablespoons fat.
4 tablespoons flour.
1-4 teaspoon salt.
Bread crumbs.
1 cup milk.
2 cups fine chopped cooked celery.
2 eggs yolk beaten.
2 tablespoons melted butter.
Mashed potato.
Melt fat, add flour, salt and pepper. Mix well. Chill. Form into cutlets and dip in egg mixed with melted butter. Then dip in fine bread crumbs and place in a greased baking platter, well apart. Put mashed potato around edge of each cutlet with a pastry tube, brush with egg yolks and put in oven 350 degrees until thoroughly heated and browned. When ready to serve, fill centers with buttered peas.

Chicken Tetrapin.
Cut up 2 cups of cold cooked chicken, rather fine. Dredge it well with flour and put it into a deep frying pan. Add enough chicken broth to chicken it well stirring while you cook, to keep out lumps. Then add 1-2 cups cream, 1 cup sliced sautéed mushrooms and 2 hard-boiled eggs sliced or diced. Season with salt, pepper and paprika. Cook slowly until smooth and creamy. At the last add 1-2 cup cherry. Serve very hot on toast.

Chicken Brunswick Stew.
1 fowl.
1 quart corn.
1 quart tomatoes.
1 pint green butter beans.
Salt and pepper to taste.
Boil the chicken until it will leave the bones. Pull meat from bones and cut in large cubes, return to broth in which it was cooked. Add vegetables and cook down to a thick mixture.
