Gaynor-March Play Leads in Long-Awaited Feature "A Star Is Born"

Janet Gaynor and Fredric March come to the Birmingham Theatre for four days starting Sunday, in David O. Selznick's technicolor production, "A Star Is Born."

This glamorous story of a little country girl who came to Hollywood, faced the odds of 100,000 to one and scaled the heights of stardom, marks the first up-to-the-minute story to be filmed in technicolor.

Alphie Menjou, May Robson, Andy Devine and Lionel Stander are featured in the supporting cast. Also included Owen Moore, Peggy Wood, Elizabeth Jena, Edger Kennedy, J. C. Nugent, Guy Williams and others.

William A. Wellman directed "A Star Is Born" from a screenplay by Dorothy Parker, Alan Campbell and Robert Carson. The original story was by Wellman and Carson.

The film shows many famous Hollywood landmarks in their natural color for the first time. Among these are the Trocadero, world-famous night club, Grauman's Chinese Theatre, the Santa Anita race track, the Biltmore Bowl as it looks during the annual banquet of the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences, the Hollywood Legion Stadium, where the stars see their prize fights, the Hollywood Bowl, the Brown Derby, famous eating place and the celebrated intersection of Hollywood boulevard and Vine street, the center of movieland.

The settings were designed by Lylo Wheeler and the costumes are by Omar Kiam. Lansing Holden is color designer. The photography is the work of W. Howard Brown and the music is by Max Steiner.

"A Star Is Born" is released by United Artists.

Married, Drowned in 45 MINUTES

Greenville, Miss.—Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wynn, of Pikesville, Miss., were married at Leland, Miss., forty-five minutes after the ceremony, their automobile plunged through guard chains of a garage moved by Slater's ferry, and both were drowned.

Constructive plans for re-employment, re-organization to reduce the cost and the number of political office-holders, effective steps toward a balanced budget, and numerous other projects, they point out, have made little progress during the present session.

But in one phase of their work, all agreed, members of Congress have been far from inactive. That is the introduction of bills providing for office-holders, large volumes of public funds.

During the few months that the present Congress has been in session, members of the House of Representatives alone have introduced into the legislative hopper more than 1,000 appropriation bills.

Placing a moratorium on overlapping bills, announced one member of the Appropriations Committee, more than $50,000,000 would be required to cover all the proposed expenditures.

Fifty Billion Dollars—of other people's money.

Of course, neither the Appropriations Committee nor any one else expects all those 7,000 bills to pass. But the casual way in which they are offered the astronomical totals they achieve, continue to demonstrate the attitude of office-holders toward public funds.

If they—and the public—would remember that all appropriations must come from taxes, if they—and the public—would remember that all taxes fall ultimately on the workers and earners, appropriation bills would be fewer in number—and more modest in their totals.

It is the duty of office-holders, as representatives of the people, to remember these things. And it is the duty of citizens to remind their representatives of the facts.

When both groups realize their truth, $20,000,000,000 may mean as much to office-holders as it does to the men and women who would be called upon to produce that the sweat of their labor—and may be as carefully considered.
