PARTIES PRECEDE ASSEMBLY DANCE

First Affair Of Series To Be Given Friday At Dearborn Inn

Interest in Birmingham this week centers largely around the first assembly dinner dance to be held Friday evening at Dearborn Inn. The affair is the first of a series of four to be given during the year by a newly organized group.

Although many of the members will be dining at the Inn, others are giving small dinners at home, or meeting for cocktails. Mr. and Mrs. H. Gray Muzay of Tooting Lane will be hosts at a cocktail party including as their guests Mr. and Mrs. George T. Nickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Alan W. Weisz, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Eden, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon R. Noble, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Jankin, Jr.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold K. Roehm of West Lone Pine road will entertain a group at cocktails including Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Linton Hart, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Laid, and Mr. and Mrs. Alwood E. Graham. The same group will be dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Laid before going to the Inn to dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Campbell of Lakeview drive will have as their dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Penfield, Dr. and Mrs. John H. Gordon, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Whiting Raymond, and Mrs. Ewan J. Parker of Lakeside drive have invited Mr. and Mrs. J. Rodney Weeks and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Caldwell to join them at cocktails before the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Miller of Fairfax road will entertain 22 guests at cocktails, later dining at the Inn. Mr. and Mrs. Alan W. Richmond of Sunfield road are among those having dinner guests at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne L. Murray of Wellesley drive will have as their dinner guests at the Inn, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Graham, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Seiler. Dining together at the Inn, also will be Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. Bartleson, and Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Mead.

Another group having dinner tonight at the Inn is comprised of the members of those on the committee in charge of arrangements. This committee includes Edwin M. Hensford, Donald D. James, George D. Miller, Theodore F. W. Meyer, F. H. Meek, Jr., Atwood W. Catman, Donald G. Eade and Carl L. Bradt.

Vows Are Spoken At Simple Service In Home

At a quiet ceremony solemnized Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride, Mrs. Margaret Sanders Codd and Robert Caveny Biggers, spoke their nuptial vows.

The Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenhuth, assistant rector of Christ Church Cranbrook, read the marriage service, which was attended by members of the immediate families.

Mrs. Harry Webster of Detroit spent the week-end with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron H. Webster of Fairfax road.

DRUGS AND HEADACHES

More people buy drugs for headaches than for any other reason. It should be remembered that headache is a pain and that pain is a warning of an abnormal condition of the body. If the headache is a nervous one, the patient should seek a quiet rest with perhaps a warm drink.

Persistent headaches are a warning of serious trouble, and the patient should consult a doctor to find the reason and drugs should be let alone until he prescribes them.

Druggists are in business to sell drugs, but a good druggist does not like to sell them to those who seek a temporary palliative or a permanent cure.

When the doctor prescribes drugs, ask him at the same time to recommend a druggist who can be relied upon to fill the prescription accurately with pure drugs. Most druggists are honorable and sincere in their work, but it is well to be sure.

Musicales To Sponsor A Program Of Organ And Choral Numbers

Public Invited To Attend Concert Of Lenten Music Today

Miss Helen Fairchild of the Detroit Institute of Musical Art will be heard as the organ soloist this afternoon at the First Baptist church at 3 o'clock, when the Birmingham Musicales will sponsor a program of Lenten music.

An organist at the Church of Our Father in Detroit, and as a child is well known as one of the rising young organists in Detroit. She is known to Birmingham audiences for her musical ability and as the sister of Mrs. Gail Fairchild Bangs, a member of the Musicales, also an accomplished musician. Her repertoire will include "Lamentation" by Gailment, "Souverain" by Kinsler, and "Sortie" by Dubois.

Under the direction of Mrs. Helen Wagner Neff, eleven members of Musicales Chorus, will sing four choral numbers. In the group will be Mrs. Manley Tyson, Mrs. Earl G. Foster, Mrs. Robert D. Lynd, Mrs. W. E. Stoffregen, Mrs. F. J. McGinnis, Mrs. Earl Bartholomew, Mrs. B. L. McNelis, Mrs. A. W. Berndt, Mrs. M. R. Mead, Mrs. F. H. Thomas, and Mrs. Emerson C. Bryan.

The choral group will sing Tchaikovsky's "Cherubim Song," "Morning Hymn" by George Henschel, "Angel Voices Ever Singing" by D. S. Bortniansky and "O Saviour Sweet" by Bach. The Lenten program at the church will include also a Lenten message by the Rev. W. Clarence Wright, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The concert will be open to the public, and all interested are invited to attend.

Prior to the recital, members of the Musicales will meet for a desert luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Taylor of Boston.

The annual election of officers will follow the luncheon.

Mrs. A. D. Jardine of Ann street was the honor guest at a luncheon Monday given by Mrs. Carol B. Chapman of Rochester at the Women's City Club in Detroit. The luncheon was followed by a theater party. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. R. K. Edmonds, Mrs. Richmond Phipps, and from Detroit, Miss Caroline Oring, Mrs. Martin Rice, and Mrs. A. R. Malcolmson.

CROWD IS 'MIXED' FOR COSTUME RIDE

Open Hunt Stages Annual Fete Followed By Dinner Dance

As far as costumes were concerned, the crowd that assembled for the annual costume ride at Bloomfield Open Hunt Saturday evening, was considerably "mixed." Naughty shelles, jokers, boys with jival dentures, Bull dogs and Apaches, Arabs and Russians mingled in the crowd with "infants" clad for bedtime in "leepers," Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, and other oddities.

The first prize was awarded to Fred Mixer, wearing a shock's coat of white satin. Mr. J. J. Nichols was dressed in Russian garb. Mrs. Kenneth K. Martin was awarded first prize among the women for her costume as a Swedish girl. Winner of second prize for the men was John C. Palmer, who caused quite a sensation as a dashing "obed" wearing a woman's smartly tailored habit, and riding side-saddle. Mrs. George W. Natchez won second place for her striking Egyptian costume.

Among those selected as the most amusing were Mrs. Charles D. Pierce as Aunt Jemima and Clay E. Herbst as policeman. Dr. Harold R. Roehm impersonated a bar tender in costume, and Mrs. Rochin chose the trim costume of a well-born. Mrs. Robert H. White revived memories of early days of automobile with her white linen dress and matching bonnet.

While the riders in their widely varying costumes, rode round the minor ring, William G. Leitch acted as judge, choosing those he deemed worthy of the prizes.

Attending the dinner dance following the ride were, among others, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ewald, Dr. and Mrs. Rivkin, Mr. and Mrs.

Church To Observe St. Patrick's Day

St. Patrick's Day will be marked by a special observance in Holy Name School, Wednesday evening, when a program combining a variety of numbers, will be presented under auspices of the parish.

The entertainment will begin at 8 p. m. with a motion picture comedy. The program will be presented largely by professional talent from Detroit, interspersed by a few numbers by several of the school children.

Following the entertainment, the hall will be turned over to the guests for dancing or cards. Assisting with arrangements are members of the church committee including Dr. P. L. Ledwith, Edward H. Hayes, August Larson, James Lettice, and Edith O'Toole, and members of the Altar Society, who are Mrs. James Parfitt, Mrs. Frank McGinnis, Mrs. William Dean, Mrs. Jack Coary, and Mrs. Rex Frye.

The entertainment will be open to the public, and tickets may be secured through those assisting, or from any member of the Altar Society.
