CHRIST CHURCH TO PRESENT SPECIAL LENTEN SERVICES

Trumpeteers To Play During Sunrise Program on Easter Day

Christ Church Cranbrook will observe Good Friday, tomorrow, with the annual three-hour service, extending from noon until 3 p. m. This year the seven meditations on the last words of Jesus on the Cross will be given by the Rt. Rev. Herman Page, D. D. Bishop of the Michigan Diocese.

This Good Friday service, which has been evolved especially for the Cranbrook church, includes hymns selected with the congregation in mind. Brief organ meditations will be played while prayers, appropriate to the needs of the day, will be offered.

Sunrise Service Sunday

Easter Day service at Christ Church Cranbrook, which annually attracts considerable attention, will begin with Sunrise Service at 7 a. m. This service is preceded by chorales and hymns, played by the Detroit Symphony Trumpeteers from the roof of the West porch of the church. The trumpeteers, dressed in scarlet robes, blow out the joyful notes of Easter and provide a spectacular beginning for the Sunrise Service which also includes special music by the entire adult choir.

Children's Service at 9

At 9 a. m. there will be the regular children's service, the Festival of Resurrection. This service includes pageantry, interpreting the Easter theme and a pilgrimage of the entire congregation to the tomb set up in one of the chapels where the emphasis is the idea of life growing out of the tomb, a fresh cut flower is given to each boy and girl present. At eleven there will be the usual Easter Day sermon, by the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, celebrant on of the Holy Communion and Easter music.

In the afternoon at the four o'clock vespers, August Richard Maekelberghe will give an organ recital. Following vespers at five o'clock there will be a carillon recital by the well known carillonneur, Dr. Alle D. Zuidema.

Mrs. Murphy (convincing an argument): "Every time I look at you, Mrs. Patrick, I feel I'm doing the Government out of the entertainment tax."

Pilgrimages Determined Easter Date

Easter was originally dated to suit the convenience of pilgrims who needed moonlight in their annual treks to Resurrection festivities.

Footsore and weary, they plodded both day and night to reach sacred shrines for this observance. Hence it was decided that Easter shall fall on the Sunday following the first Paschal full moon after March 21. The occasion may therefore vary over a period of 35 days—from March 22 to April 25.

Lent, great period of fasting in Christian churches, grew from a 40-hour to a 40-day ritual as it came down through the ages. While most Christians commemorate Good Friday as the day of the Crucifixion, Mohammedans also celebrate it as the day of Adam's creation. Among ancient Germans, this date was sacred to the goddess-mother, wife of Odin.

The association of Easter Sunday with the arrival of spring arises from a coincidence. The day occurs almost simultaneously with the ancient heathen Roman celebration of the vernal equinox.

Many customs have grown up around the Easter observance. In England, figs are always eaten on Palm Sunday to commemorate Zaccheus, the publican, who being "little of stature," climbed into a tree to see Jesus pass by the way through Jericho.

Easter eggs and "bunnies" are traditions among American children at this season of the year. In Germany, spring lambs are sold for the Easter feast.

Folder Describing 'Y' Camp On Loon Lake Off Presses

Just off the presses of The Eccentric is the attractive two-color folder containing a series of illustrations and information on pleasant Camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See, an established Y. M. C. A. activities camp center located on Loon Lake in Northern Michigan. Howard Lund, local "Y" secretary, is and has been director of this boys camp for a number of years.

The camp conforms with the American Camping Association in its goal of raising the standards of camping to a high level. The Birmingham "Y's" Pontiac "Y's" and a group of interested men from other centers have worked for 17 years in the development of this outdoor center.

Creative work in arts and crafts, horsemanship, swimming and boating, canoeing, dramatics, woodcraft, nature lore, games, recreation, field trips, and other activities, all under the friendly guidance of mature, skillful counselors, provide a splendid opportunity for youth to enjoy a healthful, vigorous and educational life each Summer.

The season this year at Camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See will open Wednesday, June 23, and run through August 25. A large number of boys from all over Oakland County and other places are expected to join the camp this year.

'Easter Emu' Via the Incubator

That bouncing little fellow that pretty Corrine Bailey is holding is none other than "Herman," the first incubator-hatched emu on record. Herman arrived at the San Diego zoo just in time for Easter, making him an Easter Emu. But consternation reigned among the male members of the emu family when the incubator was brought into play.

The Kitchen Korner

By Sally Lunn

Letter from a man, mother to his bride:

My dear Angela,

Two weeks ago (you married a man, six feet tall, broad shouldered and very attractive, as his mother reluctantly admits. No doubt by this time you are beginning to find your Apollo has feet of clay—another fact his mother must reluctantly admit.

Not that I mean there are any serious drawbacks to your happiness, because I am sure there are not! But having known him since he was 22 inches long, I must frankly say he is about 50 per cent-perfect, 50 per cent-human.

One of his failings is that he is ravenously hungry for meat three times a day. Indeed, I've tried all his life to cure him of this craving but it can't be done. He is definitely a meat-and-potatoes man. He'll pass all day for pie.

And as I hold that it is the "spice of life" to the gaiety of amiability and good humor, I thought I would pass it along to you. As his wife, this valuable possession should be in your safe keeping. So here it is. Treasure it as you value your husband's happiness, and his contentedness. Everything's O. K. now, Baby. Hope it is.

My Recipe for Rhubarb Pie

Wash and slice tender rhubarb. Fill pastry lined deep pie pan with sufficient water to barely cover. Then drain well and mix the rhubarb with sugar and flour. The proportion I use is one cup of sugar to the cup of rhubarb, although the latter depends on how tart you like your pie. Of course, a little cinnamon to do with it, nutmeg or anything you might like to add may be used. But I happen to know there's the way your husband prefers his rhubarb pie.

For two pies, I use 1½ cups of sugar, a good heaping tablespoon of flour. The latter is to prevent juice from soaking into the lower crust, as you may know.

Now for the filling. You may have your favorite recipe. If you don't, don't change your "Baby Maker" to your own way. But if you are looking for another good recipe, that is simple and safe for the inexperienced cook to try, I recommend the

Magic Pie Crust

One-half cup shortening, one-quarter cup boiling water. Beat with fork 'till smooth. Once and one-half cups flour, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon baking powder. Add to first mixture, mix well and roll. This amount makes two single crust or one double crust pie.

When you fill your pie crust with the rhubarb mix add a few lights with nutmeg. Bake in moderate oven for 50 minutes.

So try it out, dear, and I wish you the best of luck. I will wait with keen interest to hear from
