RESOLUTION GIVES LEGION VIEWPOINT

Condemns Methods Used In Present Industrial Disturbance

In view of the general unrest prevalent in labor circles throughout the state with the resulting sit-down strikes and the possibility of serious consequences, the members of the American Legion post in Birmingham, following in line with other Legion groups, has issued a resolution explaining their view of the issue. Here is the statement:

WHEREAS, The Preamble to the American Legion constitution among other things declares the following: "For God and country we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; TO MAINTAIN LAW AND ORDER; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred percent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our associations in the World War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness"; and

AND WHEREAS, in the furtherance of these objectives, The American Legion has generally taken action on matters of National and Departmental concern of broad scope to principles of economics, citizenship, education, and other historical matters affecting our welfare; membership between employer and employee; and

AND WHEREAS, the present existing disputes in the Motor Car Industry are an exception to the fundamental principles and objectives stated as we are prevented from taking definite action in the way and manner of our forefathers thru lawfully constituted Departments of Government, whose rights and orders should be enforced by law enforcement officers, otherwise anarchy and decorum or appealed from in the manner provided by law; we condemn any or all violations of property rights, the exercise of which specifically gives the right of bringing peaceful action which is under existing hard won freedom, and destruction of our hard won institutions, whose right to license and inhibit liberty we condemn; emphasize strict enforcement of all law abiding citizens of our respective state to stand firm with us for law and order and all instrumental in the perpetuation of the Republic.

As approved by the Executive Committee of The American Legion Department of Michigan, at the Book-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, Michigan, Sunday, March 7, 1937.

Film, "Last of Mrs. Cheyney," Co-Stars Screen Favorites

For the fourth time in as many years Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery are teamed in the type of intriguing comedy that has placed both in the top ranks of stardom.

This time they are co-starred in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production of Frederic Lonsdale's screen and stage play, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," which opens at the Birmingham Theatre Sunday, opening a four day engagement. Miss Crawford appears as the delightful adventuress, Fay Cheyney, and Montgomery as the suave gentleman-burglar, Lord Arthur Dilling. William Powell plays the role of the distinguished butler.

"The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" was directed by Richard Boleslawski with one of the year's finest all-star comedy casts. Herein are listed the actors by God, Gable and Tracy with a regal English background.

Six years ago Miss Crawford and Montgomery first were seen together in "Our Blushing Brides." Their subsequent co-starring successes were "No More Ladies" and "Forsaking All Others."

Miss Crawford's most recent hits were "Grand Hotel," and "Love on the Run." Montgomery recently starred in "Piccadilly Jim."

"The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" reveals the intriguing adventures of a charming lady who "makes Love, Not War." Love, and incidentally the theft of the Duke's jewels, are discovered to be an accomplice to a crime.
