

GAME ENDS IN SCORELESS TIE

Baldwin Wins Outstanding Moral Victory Over Mt. Clemens

Fulfilling all early hopes and expectations, a hard-charging, hard-tackling Baldwin High School football team was held to a scoreless tie by a doggedly defensive Mt. Clemens High School Eleven Friday, Nov. 12, at Mt. Clemens. Despite the fact that no score was made, the game constituted Birmingham's biggest moral victory of the season.

On the basis of comparative previous scores this season, Mt. Clemens, a Class A high school, was rated at least three touchdowns better than Birmingham. But when the final whistle had blown, Mt. Clemens gratefully realized that it was lucky to escape with a scoreless tie. The Mt. Clemens' backfield that had run wild against Royal Oak was pushed all over the gridiron Friday.

The Birmingham line never turned wide holes in the Royal Oak line and set back hard time and again. The Birmingham line never played a better game. Birmingham's domination in this game was complete and satisfactory.

Birmingham twice reached the Mt. Clemens four-yard line. The Maroons' opening drive came immediately after the kick-off. Buck Bedard took Berger's kick and ran it back to the Birmingham 40 yard line. On an end-around play, Don Patterson carried the ball to the Mt. Clemens 45, a first down for Birmingham. Captain Phil Carey picked up ten yards and moved the ball down to the Mt. Clemens 35. Jack Scolaro passed to Patterson on the 30 yard line, and then made it first down by carrying the ball to the 25. Scolaro again passed this time to Bedard on the Mt. Clemens' 15. Three plunges moved the ball to the Mt. Clemens' four yard line, but Mt. Clemens took the ball here by stiffening on the fourth down.

In the last quarter, after Birmingham had gained two successive first downs and moved the ball up to the 50 yard line, Don Patterson dropped back and threw a 40 yard pass to Phil Carey on the Mt. Clemens' 19. Jack Scolaro, who had been removed with a wrenched shoulder earlier in the game, came in at this point and two plunges brought the ball to the four yard line. On the third down, a Birmingham backfield team fumbled and Mt. Clemens recovered, stopping the Marples' chance to score.

Mt. Clemens reached the Birmingham ten yard line once—but only once. On that occasion, Andy Donaldson, stellar Bathers' half-back, carried the ball on a reverse. With first down ball goal to go, Mt. Clemens was blown for a total of 20 yards loss on four successive downs, and finally had to yield the ball to a fighting Birmingham team on the Maroon 30.

Most of the members of the Maroon and White team were nursing injuries Friday night as a result of Mt. Clemens' fouling tactics. Phil Pollock, who played a great game at tackle, received a badly cut lower lip and a broken nose. Frank McCarthy and Don Patterson, ends, were both limping with twisted ankles. George "Tingy" Forester's hand was severely cracked. Ed J. J. Colgrove's ankle was badly wrenched. Jack Scolaro received a twisted ankle, his previously injured shoulder was again bruised, and he was punched about the head and neck. No member of the line-up escaped injury to some extent.

Standouts in the line for Birmingham were Georgia Bolton and Phil Pollock, tackles, and Don Patterson, end. Captain Carey and Scolaro were equally as dangerous in the backfield. If the team as a whole can play against Royal Oak on Thanksgiving Day as it did Friday against Mt. Clemens, the Little Brown Jug will come home to rest once more.

The most encouraging feature of the game for local fans was that the Birmingham boys were tackling their opponents so that they stayed tackled. There was no anti-slapping and half-hearted diving Friday. The impact of the Marples' tackles could be heard on the side lines. That is the kind of play that wins football games, and it is the kind of play that should beat Royal Oak.

The starting line-ups:

Sideline Slants

By Charles Lyle

A fighting team and a fighting spirit were all Birmingham needed to down or at least tie Buck Clemens last week and the boys had these. When the gun sounded ending the game, the score stood tied at 0-0. Two weeks ago Mount Clemens played Royal Oak and was defeated 7-0. Mount Clemens was able to push the ball over the Royal Oak goal line for a touchdown, but the closest it came to our goal line last Friday was the twelve yard line. The Royal Oak touchdown that week was made by Bud Chamberlain, around whom the whole team is built. Last Saturday Royal Oak played Ferndale, and Chamberlain injured his back fairly seriously and will probably be lost to Royal Oak for the Thanksgiving game.

Royal Oak was not the only team who suffered injuries. Pollock of Birmingham was cut in the mouth, and after having it bandaged, went back into the game. Not ten minutes later he was struck in the face by a Mount Clemens lineman, and his nose was broken. Besides Pollock, Scolaro, Forester, Colgrove, Carey, and McCarthy came away with a good deal more than a few minor bruises.

After seeing about seven different teams play and listening to their cheerleaders, we still believe we have the best organized cheerleading staff of all. So on behalf of the team and the school, we wish to thank Faye Anderson, Genevieve Gay, Dolie Peters, Warner Forsythe and Jimmy Biekford for the excellent work they have done this season.

Birmingham at least came close to a touchdown when they had the ball on Mount Clemens four yard line but a fumble recovered by the Bathers lost our boys this marker.

Mount Clemens has a good hand and during the half the boys came over in front of our stands and formed a large B. Then they marched over in front of the Mount Clemens stand and formed a large MC.

EXPLAINS NEWS SERVICE

Several people have been known to ask how the school news is edited and published. To enlighten their minds, let us follow a story through publication.

First, in the journalism class, supervised by Miss Vida B. McGiffin, assignments are given out by the editor, who is also "appointee" of the class. Those who do not receive definite assignments "free lance" for suitable school material.

The story is then written and turned in at the desk, where it is checked by Miss McGiffin and several of the more experienced students. After the article has been checked and approved, it is sent to the typist, who types it according to copy rules. It is again checked for mistakes and then sent to The Eccentric, where the school news is again edited and the page made up. As an example, this article went through the same process before it appeared in print.

Chemistry Classes To Take Field Trip

The modern chemistry classes of Baldwin High School will take a field trip to the Detroit Filtration Plant this afternoon under the leadership of Eugene Hubbard, chemistry instructor at the school.

The trip has been proposed so the students may learn how the drinking water for the city of Detroit is taken from the Detroit River and sent through the filtration plant where the various chemicals are added which render it suitable for drinking purposes.

Pictures of the plant are to be taken by Bill Vinton to let the future classes understand what the process is and how it is carried out.

The group will leave at two o'clock and plans to stay about one hour at the plant, returning to Birmingham at approximately 6 p. m.

ARRANGE SPORTS TOME

The journalism class, under the direction of Miss Vida B. McGiffin, announces plans for the publication of a basketball schedule for the current season.

Although called a schedule it will really be much more than that and will contain several attractive features. Genevieve Gay will act as editor, with Bill Averill and George Woodford business and sales managers respectively.

In addition to providing experience to club members the proceeds of the schedule sale will be contributed to the Varsity Club's trophy case fund.

This will be the second official publication of the year, the first being the "Sportsman-Birmingham" football program.

HOMEROOMS PLAY TWO CLOSE GAMES

Intramural Basketball Gets Under Way With Monday's Contest

The Intramural Basketball Season started with a bit of football rough and tumble Monday when two close games were played by the Sophomore Homerooms.

For convenience, the teams are named after their respective homeroom advisers. Accordingly, Stickle beat Walker 15-11, and Allen beat Murray 13-3. Although the score was one-sided, there was quite a struggle until the fourth quarter when the score stood 2-1.

The games were played in the gym under the supervision of Coach Whitney during the activity hour. The schedule is arranged so that one team plays a half and then the other. In a period of eight weeks, every homeroom will have played every other in its class, and then a play-off will decide the school championship.

Six games are to be played each week: two between Sophomore teams on Monday, Juniors on Wednesday, and Seniors on Thursday. These games exclude Varsity. Other games to be played this week are: Halladay vs. Hascall, Merrado vs. MacMichael, Hubbard vs. Toothacker, and Easton vs. McGiffin.

Police End Parking Before High School

Parking on the east side of Chester street, directly in front of Baldwin high school, was limited to one hour between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. in a recent order from chief of police John P. Hackett. This forces high school students who drive to school and who had formerly parked their cars in this area to find another place.

"The main reason for this restriction," Chief Hackett explained, "is to eliminate the double parking that exists on Chester at noon and after school. It becomes very congested there, especially on rainy days, when parents park and wait for their children." It was further pointed out that this restriction would keep the street clear for the convenience of St. James Episcopal church, opposite the school.

Principal Ray H. Pachtold, when informed of the action, gave it his hearty approval. He mentioned that it will add to the safety of the students, since it removes the danger they incur from dedging in and out of parked cars.
