College Knowledge

By SOPHIE MORE

By now you are probably all aware that Ginny Thompson pipped home from Olivet a week ago, in response to the demands of a troublesome appendix.

The old spirit isn't lacking from those who seek education and stuff in the far-off places. We'll start the honors list with a couple of those who stick closer to home.

Marjorie Tate hails from Beecham as well, when she's not up at U. of M. And in the recent dormitory elections, Marge was elected junior vice-president of Mosher dorm, a big job, which she will suit to a well-known T.

This next is a bit of pop-scholarism but it's worth your attention on account it's so very impressive and all such rilly nice going.

We prate of Denison. Not so long ago, Dike Dweley's family was no end surprised to receive a postcard from Washington, D. C. written by their beaming boy.

Had a gender at that school's paper tober day, and was that surprised to see Dean Beier listed among the guests at a Lambda Chi party.

swell bit of data on a lad you all know. Our thanks to aforesaid, and congratulations to the lad. The message was: "Sophie—just in passing you might aid (or add) that Don Clark, out Colorado way, is an A. T. O. member! Which we are glad to do, and our congratulations to Master Donald.

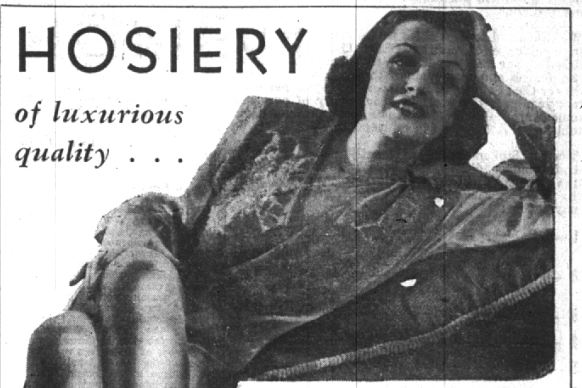

And here's another honor for Florence Brotherton, Kappa and Beehan's own pride and joy. The sophomore cabinet is one of the BIG things for second-year females and Michigan. It's coming off in the League, the 3rd and 4th of next month. And who but our Flo is in charge of the decorations? Who indeed.

One I'll hit now, to make you quiver from jealousy. Guess who was lucky and motored down to Champaign, Illinois, for the Michigan-Illinois game? There are two of 'em in fact, none other than Roberta Chissus and John Parker.

And here, really, is something, note the capital S! Y'll know Harry Wise Jr., whose education is now in its third year at Michigan. And probably slevs of you know about Panoramia, famous campus magazine. All right, now listen carefully. Harry's just been named National Advertising Manager of the magazine, isn't that simply marvelous going?
