

BACK FENCING

By A MAN ABOUT TOWN

ghosts walked, the spirits hovered about, the boys and girls had their big party—and, Halloween is over once more. From all indications and reports, the community party was a huge success...

Thomas Navin was at the door at the Community House taking tickets for the dance. It seems that he was instructed to admit no young folks unless they had the official ticket issued for the dance.

The Michigan license plates for 1938 are now appearing about the streets. They are, what one observer called, a bilious green, with black letters and numerals.

Many of the Royal Oak and Pontiac Lions, who were guests of the local Club at a dinner mixer last Monday night, were quite astonished at the ruthlessness of the local club's fine collector.

Blanch Breakey, Don Egbert and Dr. Jack Hasenberger were overwhelmed in their capacity as judges at the Halloween Parade last Saturday night.

We asked our friend, Dr. Otto Beck, about the Intestinal Flu trouble which seems to be prevalent about the town, and he said that there is quite a number of cases of it around.

We haven't picked out any smart looking ladies for you in this here column for a good long time now, but if there are any around which are any rubber on the floor...

And now that we have stuck our neck out again... we'll slip outside and try and find our bicycle so that we may peddle around the town and see just what's going on.

Hampden To Appear In Famous Roles

Detroit Town Hall presents the first Detroit solo appearance of Walter Hampden, distinguished actor-manager, who comes to the Fisher Theatre Wednesday morning, Nov. 10, at 11 o'clock in a special program of dramatic sketches from his famous stage roles.

Berger, "Caponsacchi," "Hamlet" and others. Walter Hampden got his start in London with the famous Shakespearean company of Sir Frank Benson, and acted more than 70 Shakespearean roles in the English provinces. Before he was 25 he stepped into H. B. Irving's shoes as Hamlet in the London production when the latter became ill. Later he played Romeo in Glasgow for an unequalled record of 13 weeks. He returned to New York with the script of "The Servant in the House" and started on his life work as actor-manager.

HE WEARD IT SAID BY—Henry Edwards, of Aspen road: "I have lived long enough to believe that no very political party can break the American form of government in eight years. They think things may look dark at times, they tend to fight themselves, mankind is not so sinful as it may seem. Man was born without sin, in my estimation—and the sin that seems to be his comes from acquisition after birth."

Forest Lake Gives Formal Dance On Halloween

Just to be original on Halloween, Forest Lake Country Club gave a non-costume party. Instead the guests wore formal attire for dancing to the music of Jules Klein's orchestra. Proceeding the dance Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Baezel of Lone Pine road were hosts at a cocktail party, including as their guests Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Catewood, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd LaDriere, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney A. Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wansel.
