BOOKS PLACED IN TWO CATEGORIES

Historical Novels, Hobbyists' Text-books To Make Up New Purchases

With the contemporary trend in literature what it is, it seems that for some time to come, important new purchases at the Baldwin Public Library will be divided into two distinct classifications, from which there will be only an occasional deviation. The modern novel, based wholly or in part on historical truth, is the first class. Second, and equally popular, is the hobbyists' text-book, which may contain any sort of information about every subject under the sun.

"No Hearts To Break," by Susan Erzs, chronicles an unusual phase of the Napoleonic era. It tells of Betsy Patterson, one of the first Baltimore girls who wanted to be a queen. She thought her dream would come true when, on Christmas Eve, 1803, she married Jerome Bonaparte, spoiled youngest brother of Napoleon. When the latter was made Emperor, the young couple went to France, to share the family glory. Betsy was sure her beauty and charm would win the Emperor, still ominously silent concerning the match.

But his iron will forbade her to enter France, brought about the separation of the newlyweds. Thwarted in all her conciliatory efforts, and by Jerome's second marriage, Betsy still has her son, Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte. Her pursuit of glory for his sake leads her among the great of two continents, and makes truly remarkable the story of her life.

Ann Bridges' newest book is called "Enchanter's Nightshade." The cast of characters is large, its personal equations many. Shot through with dexterity and charm, the book will delight, as a great step forward, the readers of Miss Bridges' "Ilyrian Spring."

"Bronze Angel" is a romantic book by Elizabeth Ann Loring. All the world loves a lover, and a love story, sweet but with an eye for the dramatic. The restlessness of the modern generation forms a background for the story of a staunchly true "bronze angel," told with sympathetic understanding.

In the text-book division, which really, in justice to the books, should be the quotation mark, is "Take a Letter, Please," by

Conducts Symphony

Victor Kolar

Three concerts, one Monday night in the interest of the Detroit Community Fund campaign, the others Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons in the series of free concerts for school children, will be played by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in Orchestra Hall within the next few days. Victor Kolar will conduct all three programs, which in themselves will serve as a sort of prelude for the official opening of the symphony's, 1937-1938 season, Thursday night, Nov. 4.

John B. Opatky. It is a cyclopedia of business and social correspondence, to be exact; treating with satisfying thoroughness those three fields. And under Mr. Opatky's explicit explanations, even the dullest writer could not keep his letters from coming to life.

Williamson and Darley have authored a book called "Student Personnel Work" which is explained, is the most up-to-date explanation of vocational guidance work. The text will be used by the participants in the Extension Course offered by the University of Michigan, at the Baldwin High School.

CAREY PRESIDENT OF VARSITY CLUB

Lettermen Hold Initiation For New Members On Monday

Varsity Club elections were held Monday, October 18, and the results were as follows: president, Phil Carey; vice-president, Frank McCarthy; secretary, George Rounds. Frank McCarthy will also act as Sergeant-at-Arms.

The Varsity Club boys sold tickets to Friday's Lincoln Park football game, on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Bob Ester acted as chairman of the ticket committee with "Punk" Colgrove, Frank McCarthy, and Phil Carey assisting.

Initiations will be held Monday, October 25. Beginning at noon, the pledges will be distinguished by red bandana handkerchieves and knee pants.

After school the boys will play ball at Springdale Park. After the game they will indulge in hot-dogs and cider.

Coach Whitney and Coach Wurster are acting as advisers of the club.

Field Day Oct. 29
Field Day for Baldwin High School will take place Friday afternoon, October 29, as was decided by the Student Congress, Monday, October 18. Frances C. Fulton, Jr., will act as chairman of the committee with John Gellatly, Norman Leyle, Jim Todd, Bill Vinton and Donald Matthews assisting.

Due to many complaints about the doors not being opened till 8:15 o'clock every morning, the Student Congress has agreed to take the matter up with Principal Ray Bechtold.

SALES FOR FISHING PERMITS PASS 669,000

Michigan was far in the lead of all other states in the total number of fishing licenses issued in 1936, but ranked well down in the list in the proportionate amount of revenue received because of the low fishing license fees in effect in this state.

Michigan's total fishing license sales came closer than ever before to the three-quarter-million mark, the federal report revealing that 620,814 resident fishing licenses, 25,522 annual non-resident fishing licenses and 76,004 special "tourist" fishing licenses were sold by this state, or a total of 622,340 sales. The federal report, however, omits the number of non-resident "wife" licenses sold by Michigan, which was 36,777, making the total sales 659,117.

Laundryman: "Just description. Means 'fat man, cooked nose, no teeth.'"—Royal Arcanum Bulletin.

ANNOUNCE SOCIETY CONCERT PROGRAM

Rachmaninoff And Kreisler Head Ann Arbor List Of Favorites

The University Musical Society in commemoration of the centenary of the establishment of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor has announced for the beginning season of the second century an especially attractive series of concert attractions. Ten programs will be given by world-renowned artists and organizations. Five of these attractions have been heard in Ann Arbor before, and five will be heard for the first time in Ann Arbor. By a combination of circumstances, the five former favorites will be heard before the holiday vacation, and the five newcomers, after the holiday season.

Sergei Rachmaninoff, pianist, will be heard in recital Wednesday, October 27. Arthur Rodzinski, with the Cleveland Orchestra, will appear on Thursday, January 28, with the Cleveland Orchestra, Crooks, operatic and concert and radio tenor, will give a recital November 19. Arthur Rodzinski, with the Cleveland Orchestra, will appear on Tuesday, January 28, with the Cleveland Orchestra, Crooks, operatic and concert and radio tenor, will give a recital November 19. Arthur Rodzinski, with the Cleveland Orchestra, will appear on Tuesday, January 28, with the Cleveland Orchestra, Crooks, operatic and concert and radio tenor, will give a recital November 19.

The post-holiday portion of the series will be inaugurated Monday, January 10, when Ruth Sliney, the phenomenal young pianist, will make her Ann Arbor debut. This will be followed by the Finnish Chorus from the University of Helsinki, under the direction of Matti Turunen, January 18. Then on Friday, January 28, the brilliant soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, Gina Cigna, will come to Ann Arbor for the first time. The Roth String Quartet of Budapest, consisting of Feri Roth, first violinist; Jenő Antal, second violinist; Ferenc Molnar, viola; and János Schöck, violinist, will play February 17. On Tuesday, March 1, Georges Enesco, the brilliant Roumanian violin virtuoso, will appear in recital.

Set May Festival Dates
The May Festival of six concerts will appear in recital. The Philadelphia Orchestra of one hundred players under the baton of Eugene Ormandy has been announced. The University Choral Union under the baton of Eugene Ormandy and the Young People's Festival Chorus under Juva Higbee, will also participate. Negotiations are pending with distinguished soloists, both vocal and instrumental, commensurate in artistic standing with those announced in the Choral Union Series.

Adventure Series Opens Sunday With Aviation Lecture

The "behind-the-scenes" story of aviation's latest achievement, trans-Pacific flights, will be told in a lecture to be given at the Detroit Institute of Arts, Woodward at Kirby, next Sunday, October 24 at 3:30 P. M., by Robert Fulton, Jr., world traveler and adventurer.

IT'S THE STEADY PULL THAT COUNTS

Mr. Fulton, who gained international fame by circling the world on a motorcycle and then continued his adventures by taking to the air, brings to his audience all the romantic experiences which have combined to make aviation what it is today. His lecture is fully illustrated with new and exciting motion pictures. An actual flight across the Pacific is pictured in detail. Stops are made at Hawaii and at those tiny islands, Midway and Wake, that have been featured so much in the news lately.

Mr. Fulton's lecture is sponsored by the World Adventure Series of the Detroit Institute of Arts. Reservations may be made either by calling at the World Adventure Series office or by telephoning Temple 2-7676.

Phelps To Discuss Late Books, Plays Wednesday, Oct. 27

William Lyon Phelps, professor emeritus of Yale University and one of America's foremost literary critics, will discuss current books and plays before the Detroit Town Hall audience in the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday morning, October 27, at 11 o'clock.

Previous to last season when Dr. Phelps gave his first Detroit literary lecture before a large and demonstrative Town Hall audience, the popular Yale professor had spoken only on the big lecture forums of the East. His return to Detroit will be welcomed by his big following, for "Billy" Phelps is well known in Michigan. During the summer months for more than ten years, he has preached at Huron City, in Michigan's Thumb. His Sunday afternoon sermons, drawing people from all over the state, have proved so popular that it was necessary to enlarge the church to its present capacity of 1,000.

Dr. Phelps' autobiography, to be completed next year, will contain his reminiscences of literary giants of Europe and America—Shaw, Chesterton, O'Neill, Sinclair Lewis, Barrie, Daudet, Maeterlinck and a host of others. Phelps is author of numerous books on literature, essays and magazine articles. Tickets for Dr. Phelps' lecture are on sale now at Grinnell's or at the Fisher Theatre the morning of his lecture.

TROOP COMMITTEE WORK DISCUSSED

Plan Eight-Week Course, In Leadership Starting Next Week

Sixty men from Birmingham and other communities of southern Oakland County and the southern part of Macomb attended a training meeting for Committee of Boy Scout Troops in Royal Oak last week.

The dates of the Troop Committees were presented by Chas. B. Warner, Field Executive of the Detroit Area Council and the subject was discussed in smaller groups. Mr. J. F. Wenzel, Sr. of Birmingham was one of the group leaders and led the discussion on Scout Advancement.

An eight-week course in Troop leadership will be held for Troop Leaders of South Macomb and southern Oakland communities, including Birmingham, beginning Wednesday, October 27. The meetings will be held in the Washington School at Royal Oak. Mr. E. T. Engel, local Scoutmaster of Troop B-4, which meets at the Barnum School, will serve as an Officer.

Something To Think About

Many of our clients have seen fit to buy a home while it was under construction rather than wait or buy one ready built.

There are many advantages to this plan...

- They were able to see what went into the construction.
- They had them finished and decorated to suit their individual taste.
- They were able to see the actual room sizes when it was hard to visualize from blue prints.
