

CLUBS PLAN FULL HOLIDAY PROGRAM

Golf, Swimming, Sailing and Tennis Among Sports For Week-End

What are you doing over the week-end?
You haven't forgotten Monday is a holiday, have you? Well, the country clubs in this neck of the woods have certainly remembered the fact, and gala preparations are under way. Those seeking entertainment will find it in a variety of forms.

Out at Oakland Hills, for instance, there are big doings, beginning Saturday with a Medal Handicap. The same evening, there'll be a dinner dance to the music of Ray Gorrell's orchestra.

Among the main events Monday will be games and entertainment for children from 3 to 5 p. m. The program will be followed by a junior dance from 7:30 to 10:30. As for grown-ups, there's a full card of golf events, Monday, and in the evening, a dinner dance from 7:30 to 10 p. m., with Gorrell's orchestra.

Pine Lake at Pine Lake
Pine Lake Country Club will be tennis-minded over the week-end. The Invitational Tennis Tournament finals will constitute the main event of Saturday afternoon, when men's and women's singles will be played off. The same evening, the Tennis Ball Dinner Dance will be held with dinner at 7 p. m., and dancing from 9:30 to 12:30. Dave Diamond's orchestra will furnish the music.

Monday there will be golf and swimming events, with the finals in the Ping Pong tournament at 3 p. m. A special program of swimming and diving events for children will be staged at 4 p. m. Although no dance is planned for Monday evening, dinner will be served from 5:30 o'clock on.

The week-end looks equally promising for members of Orchard Lake Country Club. Golf and sailing events will be activities of major interest. There will be a mixed putting contest for 8 holes, and other golf events; canoe races at 2 p. m., and sailing races at 3, all on Monday.

Puppet Show at Orchard Lake
Children will be entertained Monday at a special puppet show in their auditorium at 2 p. m. A match also is included in the day's events, and the concluding feature, will be a tea dance from 4 to 9 p. m. There will be buffet service all day in the club dining room.

Bloomfield Hills Country Club will hold a dinner dance Saturday evening. A mixed two-ball foursome has been planned for Sunday, and there will be the usual golf tournaments Monday for men. Invitations have been issued by Forest Lake Country Club for a "Labor Day Dance" Saturday. The Birmingham Golf Club will be host at a formal dinner dance, also on Saturday evening. Golf will be included in the week-end events.

HOME CEREMONY UNITES LOCAL PAIR

Bridal Couple Will Reside On Brown Street. After Eastern Trip

Margaret Kamph, daughter of Mrs. Charles E. Kamin of Vinewood avenue, and Kenneth N. Lundberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Lundberg of East Brown street, spoke their vows Saturday evening at a quiet ceremony Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of the bride's mother, The Rev. Wallace Fisher of Detroit was the clergyman officiating.

The bride wore a lovely model of white mousseline de soie over white satin, fashioned on the redingote lines. Her long tulle veil was secured by a true lover's knot of twisted white satin ribbon. She carried an arm bouquet of White roses.

Attending the bride were Esther Gauss of Wyandotte, as maid of honor, and Luella Love of Monroe, as bridesmaid. Miss Gauss wore a bouffant frock of pale blue serge, and Miss Love wore one similarly made in green. Both carried arm bouquets of white asters and zinnias in varying colors. Stewart Smith was best man, and Marion Loew of Monroe acted as usher.

An informal reception followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Lundberg left for a motor trip to New York and Washington.

Mrs. Lundberg wore a becoming knitted costume in the raspberry shades.

On their return, they will make their home at 224 E. Brown street.

Lambert-Martin Rites Are Read At Afternoon Ceremony In Hills

In her gown of ivory taffeta, quaintly bouffant over its off-fashioned tartan petticoat, Louise May Lambert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson of Lahser road, marched up the steps of Christ Church, Cranbrook Saturday afternoon to become the bride of William Edward Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Benjamin Martin of Detroit.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach at 3:30 o'clock.

Suggestive gowns worn by brides in the romantic past, was that of Miss Lambert, with its full skirt, snugly fitting, bodice and small puffed sleeves. The heart-shaped neckline was particularly quaint, as was the tulle train which, worn under the skirt and trimmed with small white satin bows.

Her tulle veil, extending the length of her long train, was held in place by a small cap of braided tulle, worn well off the face and carried a round bouquet of white stephanotis and white orchids.

Attendants Gwendolyn Albee Janet Lambert, who attended her cousin as maid of honor, wore a gown of white, trimmed with short bolero jacket and long bouffant skirt, setting the style for the other members of the wedding party. Identically gowned were the bridesmaids, Jane Alexander, Jane Ford, Doris Saffrin and Betty Bird; the junior bridesmaids, Joan Lambert and Polly Mulkey; and Jill Compton, the flower girl. Albee also, wore the open-crowned gossamer veils, made of cable net like the gowns, and trimmed with long, blue velvet streamers. Their flowers were delphinium in varying shades of blue. L. Penny Mercer was best man for Mr. Martin, and seating the guests were Ralph Burkhardt of Chicago, Rice Fitzpatrick and Richard Martin of Detroit, and Richard Thirby of Traverse City.

Mrs. Thompson cheered for her daughter's wedding, a gown of grey-beige chiffon with lace jacket and hat of horsehair braid, in matching shade. She wore a corsage of green orchids.

Mrs. Martin, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in gold chateauise made on tailored lines with bolero jacket. Her hat was black and wide-brimmed and decorated with flowers, lavender orchids.

Tall vases of chrysanthemums, gladioli and larkspur banded against a background of cybotium fern, filled the chancel of the church for the ceremony, and the same blooms were used in the decoration of Bloomfield Hills Country Club, where the reception was held. White roses, larkspur and valley lilies adorned the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin left for a month's sojourn on the Lake of Bays, on their return they will reside at 667, Greenwood avenue.

For traveling, Mrs. Martin wore a costume of sheer mustard color with alligator accessories. She wore a small brown toque and corsage of white orchids.
