Michigan Mirror NON-PARTISAN STATE NEWS LETTER

Lansing.—Labor Day next Monday (Sept. 6) will bring a golden exodus of summer residents from Michigan's paradise of lovely lakes and picturesque streams.

But it is a matter of cold, matter-of-fact, and Michigan's lakes and streams are worth $315,000,000 annually. Michigan is a rich business in fact, is unrivaled anywhere in the United States and that includes Florida. Put that in your pipe!

Manufacture of automobiles is peculiarly a Michigan industry. From the state comes approximately 90 per cent of the world's automobile output.

Michigan's second industry—the tourist and resort business—even top California where it is worth $267,111,638 according to figures obtained by the American Automobile association.

Prospects of a farmer—a labor movement in Michigan appear to be growing dimmer as summer days grow shorter.

At Greenville on Oct. 7 and 8 the hopes of the C.I.O. to effect a political affiliation with farmers will be a showdown.

Rites Tuesday For Hills Business Man

Funeral service for Tunis W. Miner, proprietor of the Bloomfield Market, who died at his Residence in Bloomfield Hills Sunday, was held at 3 p.m. Tuesday from the S. O. Wylie Bell Funeral Home with Rev. R. W. Woodroffe officiating.

While the Michigan Brewers' association is waging an educational campaign to persuade drinkers to use Michigan-made beer, the state liquor commission, co-operating with Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, is embarking on a "sane consumption" program to encourage in the home.

Liquor by the Glass Midnight Saturday, September 18, is the deadline for action by local legislative bodies to signify whether they want liquor by the glass with their joints.

Although the legislature opened the door wide to the old-time bar and brass rail, the serving of hard liquor is still restricted by law to "bonafide hotels and restaurants."

Sugar Best Profits In many a farm home, prospects of a good sugar beet yield is sweetening anticipations of a cold Michigan winter.

At Alma, St. Louis, and Mt. Pleasant sugar beet factories are getting in readiness to receive the crop at next stations about October 1. The sugar belt contains 27,000 acres; the crop will aggregate 270,000 tons.

When you use sugar for canning or other kitchen needs, say it with Michigan beet sugar. The industry alone provides employment for thousands of men in factories and fields, not to mention hundreds of trucks for delivery of beets.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE VEHICLE COMING

"Wee Willie Winkie" Movie Inspired By Sight of Chow Dog Anyone dependent for a livelihood on thought processes for the state by composing the new song. It is the official song of the 1937 Michigan State Fair.

One of production chief Darryl F. Zanuck's best assistants, Markey was strolling to the Fox Studios one day, saw the Chow, and was reminded of one of Rudyard Kipling's famous poems, "Fuzzy Wuzzy."

Next day Markey suggested to Zanuck that the film rights to the story be acquired, only to be informed that just a week previously that had been done. However, because he had arrived at the idea independently, Zanuck chose Markey to supervise production of the film, which co-stars Victor McLaglen with Shirley, and which is directed by John Ford.

COLLABORATE ON FAIR SONG

Two Local Men Author New Piece, "Michigan Marches On" Two Birmingham men, Harold Dick, 374 Wellesley, and Carl Rupp, 1268 Southfield, have collaborated in the writing of the song, "Michigan Marches On," which will be presented for the first time at the Michigan State Fair, Sept. 2-12.

Mr. Dick wrote the words for the new piece while Mr. Rupp, orchestra leader, provided the music. "Except for the college songs, the people of Michigan never had a song recognized as official for the state," declared Frank N. Luby, general manager of the Fair.

Wards of the song are given below: To the State we love so dearly You can hear us proudly sing.

The Balance Wheel of Banking EFFICIENT banking laws and regulations, periodic bank examinations, sound financial organization—these have an important bearing on the safety and service of banks. But in the final analysis, the "balance wheel" of banking is able, honest and experienced management. Without it, a bank cannot render maximum service to its community. It is our constant effort to provide such sound management for this institution. On this basis—as a sound, well-managed bank—we invite you to make full use of our services.

Of her fields and streams and wooded hills And if he ragged above; To the place she's gained in his days Again her voice rings We'll follow her brave colors into peace or into war.

Michigan marches on, singing her loyal song. Song of her sturdy pioneers, Echoing proudly through the years Her sons of industry, her sons on land and sea All join hands to lead the world As Michigan Marches On.

STEARL "VANISHED" COOKIES Grand Rapids, Mich.—Imagine the surprise and dismay of the robbers which broke into the plant of a Grand Rapids Cookie Machine Company and stole a quantity of cookies. The cookies had been treated with varnish to make them suitable for display purposes.

BOLT TAKES ALL Thompson, Neb.—Charles Sadill was proud of his ever 100 chickens. Imagine, then his dismay when, after an electric storm, he found that a lightning bolt had struck his poultry shed and killed them all.
