

BOARD GIVES APPROVAL TO WAGE INCREASES

(Continued from Page 1, Part 1) Resolutions were made for additional teachers for next year. An additional recommendation included in the proposal for salary increases, made by Mr. Crull, provided for an "accumulative" sick-leave plan. This would apply to teachers as well as all other full-time employees of the Board of Education, the recommendation specified.

'Sick-Leave' Pay
The recommendation asked that "all regular full-time employees of the Birmingham Public School be allowed five days absence each year without loss of salary" in case of "personal illness or quarantine; serious illness in the immediate family; that is—father, mother, brother, sister, husband, wife or child; death of a relative. At the end of each year any unused portion of the five days shall become accumulative and may be used at some subsequent time for the above purposes. An accumulation may be built up in this manner. Although this proposal was included in the original recommendation, action was deferred Monday, April 18, because of the absence upon it. Earl G. Potter, president, and J. Mark Hatten, secretary, were unable to attend the meeting Monday. A special meeting of the Board will be held next Monday evening.

Their program will include "Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" and "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach; "Miserere Cordis," Allegri; "Fraise Ye the Lord," by Tchaikovsky and the Danish arrangement of "King Jesus is a'Living."

Just One of Those Embarrassing Moments with 'Dulcy'

The M. S. C. P. lads (by way of identification) had a baseball game the other day. Fritz (Heavy-Dogs) Adams looked well at third in a creation of sheerest gunnysack pants topped by a loose-cut canvas shirt. "Shirley" Burnett stood around on second throwing and hitting. Fred (Cashing) Smith was at bat. Steve Wygant, pitcher for his team, had every one in suspense for fear he would put someone out.

One day at lunch with Dick Phillips, Steve took his check from the waitress and then set the poor girl back on her heels when he said, "I'll have you know I get all my groceries wholesale."

Cincy Sachs, the basketball coach and referee, was in town the other day. As a person, Cincy has no peer for comedy. Who can forget him running the length of the floor, whistle in mouth, yelling his watery commands: "Scoutstoohu!" "Sachsoompai!" Sachs is one of the best coaches in basketball though. He could make a player out of anyone—except Hitler.

Robin Adams, the Dearborn lad who pinned Birmingham's Betty Adams, can breathe a sigh of relief now. Betty successfully ward-offed the local ladies' attention again. When she can handle Casanova Phillips, Robin, she is doing what no other girl can do.

Kenny McBride must be buying the Bowling Alley for his retirement plan. He's over there so much the seats automatically lower themselves when he comes in.

Another driver had professional dealings with Bob Egan, one of the local police. As a person, Egan is right on the job. Bob Egan would learn that! They must be curious of his approach. . . . Peculiar kind of curiosity.

What are you people going to do about oiling the roads here?

One of the most inexcusable mistakes a college student makes is not to keep himself posted on current events. I was quite surprised to hear several of our friends home for vacation ask what the Reorganization Bill was.

Can it be that they study so hard that they have no time to read what is going on? . . . No! The trouble is the collegian thinks history is made at night.

A scout for one of Detroit's bowling teams was out looking over Louis Cobb and Margie Ficken. He said it was fun looking them over but unless they were willing to be farmed out, he'd have to overlook them.

We had a Professor Hedrick at Michigan State whose twinkling humor made an otherwise dry course lively. One day he asked a student a question which demanded a lengthy answer. The student summed the answer up not only inadequately but quite erroneously. Slowly shaking his head, Hedrick said, "Here I've asked for an Arabian sired steed, Wilson, and you've given me a jackass."

On another occasion, Hedrick caught some fellow gazing out the window, obviously, out looking over Louis Cobb and Margie Ficken. He said it was fun looking them over but unless they were willing to be farmed out, he'd have to overlook them.

CRANE NINE IS VICTORIOUS IN OPENING GAME

Baseball at Cranbrook school started auspiciously Tuesday, as the 'Crane team' chalked up a 7-5 victory over the nine from Walled Lake high school. The game was played at the Cranbrook field with Dean George T. Nickerson pitching out the first ball.

Batters were: for Cranbrook, Hunter, pitcher, and Larchen, catcher; for Walled Lake, Woodworth, pitcher and DeGroot, catcher. Hunter granted five hits and struck out seven men, while Woodworth gave seven hits and struck out four men. The home team also ran up three errors, with five for the visitors.

The Cranbrook nine will meet with that of University of Detroit high school at its next game, to be played at the school on Friday, April 22, at 4 p. m. The U. of D. tennis team will also clash with Cranbrook at the same time. The field day will be completed as Cranbrook meets Baldwin high school in track, also on Friday at 4 p. m.

Hero of 'Message to Garcia' Injured

Hearer of the famous "message to Garcia," Lieut.-Col. Andrew S. Rowan above, is now in a San Francisco hospital recovering from the effects of a serious fall. The message which carried him to fame was word to the commander of the Cuban army that the United States would aid the island in its war against Spain.

OCTOGENARIAN CELEBRATES AT FAMILY PARTY

Easter Sunday was a doubly important day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Carter, 25 Brown street. It was the date chosen to celebrate Mr. Carter's 82 birthday, which fell on Tuesday, April 19, and his family gathered to congratulate him at the home where he and his wife have lived for the past 54 years.

Mr. Carter was born on what is now Charing Cross road in 1856, the son of Edward and Nancy Carter. He and his wife celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in November of 1937. A contractor and builder, Mr. Carter helped build many landmarks in Birmingham, including the Methodist Episcopal church and Birmingham high school, and is his boast that he "stuck to it and never gave up." He was active in work until 78 years of age.

His three daughters and their families were with him Sunday. They are Mr. and Mrs. G. Biegel, at home; Mr. and Mrs. Milo Prosser of Romeo and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Friebs of Mt. Clemens. He also has one grand-daughter. Other guests on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. F. Morse Cooke and Nadine, of East Lansing, formerly of Birmingham.
