

All Is Ready For Play At Cranbrook

Members of Ergasterian, dramatic society at Cranbrook school, are putting the final touches on their annual public performance, "Brewster's Millions," which will be given at the Cranbrook auditorium on Friday and Saturday nights at 8:15. It will be produced entirely through the efforts of the students, under the supervision of faculty member, Carl G. Wonneberger is directing the play.

How to Increase Doctor Bills

The best way to pay your doctor more money is to try to get along by paying him a little less. Neglect apparently "unimportant" illnesses, postpone needed medical counsel, and one of these days you're likely to have a REAL bill to pay!

Miss Alice Painter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Painter of Watkins street, is at present on an eastern journey, which will include Washington, Philadelphia, New York and West Point. She will return to her home at the end of the week.

Several Birmingham alumnae will attend the Spring Convocation of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, being held at the chapter house in Ann Arbor over the week-end. Included on the list are Mrs. Thomas H. Adams, Mrs. Loren T. Robinson and Mrs. K. D. Diehl.

David Thompson has returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Thompson of Abbey road, after spending three days with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Blythe of Evanston, Ill. While there, he saw Miss Barbara Rupp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rupp and Miss Mary Cowap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cowap, all former residents of Birmingham.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Robinson and her brother, Loren Jr., will entertain at dinner Saturday night at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Robinson of Wimbledon drive. Later they will take the party to the annual Lambda alumnae dinner at the Amnunity House. In the group, besides the hostess and her parents, are Mrs. Edna Giffels, Margaret Gardner, Larry Thomas and Jack Anderson of Windsor.

Miss Barbara Stecker and Miss Joy Stewart returned today from a bicycle trip through the Hills district, on which they stopped at the American Youth Hostel, starting Friday, they journeyed through Ann Arbor, Saline, Manchester, Waterloo and Dexter.

Mrs. William R. Ewald and her son, William Jr., of Tiverton road, spent the week in Dayton, Columbus, returning home today. Mrs. Ewald made the trip immediately following a motor trip with her daughter, Rhea, who was returning to Wellesley college following spring vacation, which she spent with her parents. The journey included stops in Philadelphia and New York.

Charles Wilson, a student at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Bible College, spent the week-end as the guest of his mother, Mrs. Lorraine Wilson of Merrill street. He was on tour with the college band, which is making an extensive trip through Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota.

Miss Helen Beckett of Bay City and Miss Sheila McLean of Lansing will be the house guests of Miss Peggy Bailey for the week-end. Miss Bailey, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L. Bailey of Hamilton avenue, will take her guests to the Sigma Lambda alumnae dance Saturday evening, at the Community House.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry McBride and family of Westchesterway have moved back into their former residence on Linden road.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Wise of Williamsburg road will have their Easter week-end with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. Clark and Mrs. C. C. Richards.

Mrs. D. H. Curry, wife of the Rev. David H. Curry, is seriously ill at the Presbyterian hospital in Philadelphia. Her daughters, Mrs. Veril Kline and Miss Maude, and her son, David, are leaving for Philadelphia today to be with her.

Winifred Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Moxey of Madison avenue, was hostess to some of her friends Saturday at an all-day birthday party. The group spent the morning at the Woman's City Club, swimming their lunch at the Union Trust building, where a large bouquet of val-colored spring flowers and a candy basket decorated the table. Afterwards they attended the movie, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," held in the party were Agnes Savage, Susan Averill, Barbara Beecher and Shirley Kitzmiller of Royal Oak.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorne Smith of Cranbrook road returned to Birmingham after spending the winter at their winter home in Ft. Myers, Fla.

Mrs. Harry Price and her daughter, a twenty-eight year old, spent the Easter week-end with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Norton of West Maple avenue. They will remain in Birmingham until the end of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. F. George and their sons, Kirk and Carter, of Park street, are returning to Florida at present. They will motor back to Birmingham about the first of May.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Tilton were hosts Saturday night at the home of their friends at their home, Highwoods, in Bloomfield Hills.

Sally Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Baker of Harrow road, will return today from New York, where she has been since Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Savage of East Maple avenue left Monday for a ten-day motor trip to the East. They will be the house guests of Mrs. Savage's mother, Mrs. A. M. J. Kanary of Watertown, Mass., and will also spend some time in Boston.

Mrs. Latta W. Porter will be hostess to eleven guests at luncheon this afternoon. Entertainment will be held at her home on Baldwin avenue. A yellow color scheme will be carried out in the decorations for the table.

Mrs. Otis W. Howard has returned to her home on Bates street, after making an extended visit to New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. LaPointe of Williamsburg road will entertain house guests for the week of May 14. The guests are Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Small of Cleveland Heights, O., and their family; Louise, Mary, Ohren Jr., and Joe. Louise's birthday will be marked with a party.

Mrs. Roland Beldon has returned to her home in Sixteen street, after spending a fortnight in Birmingham as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCarty of Park street.

Mrs. H. W. Shepherd and her two small sons, Bobby and Hal, have returned to the Shepard home on Waddington road, after an extended sojourn in Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Torrence have returned to their home on Yorkshire road, after spending several weeks at Tryon, N. C. They were joined a short while before the conclusion of their visit by their son, William.

Among the Michigan State college contingent who spent the Easter week-end with their parents here are Betty and Barbara Sears, Marjorie Baldwin, Virginia Parry, Frances Elizabeth Smith and Betty Spingler.

NEW YORK'S night clubs seem to be an excellent spring board for girls who want to jump on up into the professions. Just look at this list—Grace Moore got her professional start in one and Frances Faye stepped from one into a part in a picture with Bing Crosby.

Alice Faye, Eleanor Powell, Arlene Judge, Grace Bradley, and Martha Raye all were night club girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Tilton were hosts Saturday night at the home of their friends at their home, Highwoods, in Bloomfield Hills.

Sally Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Baker of Harrow road, will return today from New York, where she has been since Saturday.

Arlene Judge. Olympie Bradna also appeared for a time in one, her way from Paris to Hollywood.

Even though Marlene Dietrich isn't under contract to any motion picture company at the moment no body needs to worry about her financial future; she's signed a radio contract that will pay her $5000 a week. Lots of money. But recently when she had her pictures taken by her favorite photographer at Paramount she had to pay for them because she no longer works there. And that's the sort of thing that screen stars mind most awfully.

Shirley Temple has put her hair up and is losing her teeth—it's not unusual for her to report at the studio. "Well, I lost another tooth today." Fortunately she's young enough not to have it mean tragedy.

Mrs. Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" she has six songs, and you'd hardly recognize the dear old story, it's been so changed to make a good vehicle for her. But the change was worth it; the best box office attraction in pictures is at her best.

You'll see Errol Flynn in "The Singing Cop" also, before long and you'll hear a song that he wrote, "Lullaby," which is in the picture. The man can do anything!

Those Walt Disney "Mickey Mouse" programs have gone so well that the sponsor has renewed the series for six weeks—beginning on NBC's Red network on Sunday at five-thirty. But Mickey will have a vacation during the summer, starting May 15.

Andy Donnelly, Jr., who plays Junior on the "Dick Tracy" program, acts a good example to the thousands of youngsters who wouldn't miss that broadcast for anything. Though he lives in New York and goes to school there, he gets over to Ridgefield, N. J., every Sunday to go to church with his family.

Charles Bickford tried his luck in a stage play and it failed, so now he's back in Hollywood, hoping for better luck next time, and making a picture for Republic. "Gangs of New York" with another old-timer, James C. Ruzé, directing, and Nancy Carroll scheduled to play the leading role in the picture is "The Girl Who Sings" after remarking that she wouldn't miss that broadcast for anything.

ODDS AND ENDS—Eddie Cantor lectured recently at Columbia university; he gave an excellent talk on "comedy on the screen" after remarking that it was trained for a man who'd never been through a school; he said to be lecturing at a university; Richard Gordon, who plays Sherlock Holmes on the radio, is "after remarking that when he was a kid—and always was one of the robbers"; Donna Dubbin was even taking a collection not long ago, but knows to be a collection; she didn't appreciate it—she'd rather collect match books; Mrs. Martin Johnson will appear on 41 Ladies; Mrs. Johnson's America's second best-dressed man has been named by mail from Mrs. Johnson's office on her clothes; Mrs. Carlisle, who is making "Hunted Man" with Gene Raymond, has some stockings that have zippers up the back; and Western Newspaper Union.

TWO IN ONE

Women are, we modestly admit, individually and collectively, they feel inspired at times, to point out what they consider to be the right thing to do in ethical or social affairs. But they have been somewhat backward about trying out their theories in public office lately because they have been given slight encouragement when they indicated the desire to hold such office. Men have dominated the civic and political scene for long that women have timidly remained in the background. When one does have the courage to step forward and show that she can and will prove her theories workable if given the opportunity, her apt should be acclaimed.

Not only is this attitude characteristic of many men in the home, but in the community as well. As Mrs. Robinson stated in announcing her candidacy last week, men are inclined to "sit back" and let women assume the work and responsibility in school affairs. Fathers are much less active in P. T. A. work, for instance, than mothers. They seldom, if ever, drop in to have a word with the teacher regarding problems that are being pointed out with particular emphasis, that it's her "job" to train and discipline the family.

By Carol Dweley This is the season of the year when I'd like to kick over the typewriter and slams it to the ground. Then I'd trip lights off to a fat green hill, and spend the rest of the afternoon cavorting with the wood nymphs and squirrels. Ordinarily normal persons would not come to a coma at this season, without a moment's notice.

This spring delirium is an insidious poison; you're sitting quietly at your desk, and the next thing you know someone is admonishing you to remove that half-closed expression by closing your mouth, fast, to get the foggy cast out of your eyes. You return to ordinary affairs with a sigh, for the dreams the world has offered you are always pleasant. I wish a tribe of dark-eyed, light-fingered gypsies would stroll through town and I'd run into them. The steaming of gypsies, when they play guitars I wonder? would cease, and the laughter and singing would die away as they recently looked before me. It was as if I were a child, and I was their long-lost queen, spotted away when but a child, by wicked gnomes and gnomes of another world.

The old king would tetter out of the royal felloes the Roman pathe of, and of me'd go, rejecting, to lay at night, coolly camped by some busy little stream, to sing and sing and hand down the legends and folk lore which— Heavens to Betsy! There I go, moaning again, while nothing goes, as usual. I wish a nice, original article on spring break, and slams it to the ground. Then I'd trip lights off to a fat green hill, and spend the rest of the afternoon cavorting with the wood nymphs and squirrels. Ordinarily normal persons would not come to a coma at this season, without a moment's notice.

Wouldn't it be nice to be able to fly—all by one's self I mean, without the assistance of a plane. You'd save a lot of shoes, and there's how convenient it would be in wet weather! If you were strong enough, you could drop up a fortune of potatoes and football games and stuff, charging money to carry people up above the clouds so they could see things.

It would be lovely and cool in the sky. I'd bet, just prancing around by yourself. Maybe if you had a friend who could fly you could go off on an all-time trip. What weather? I'd love to kick over the typewriter.

Doctor To Discuss Child Diseases

The belief that every child must have at some time each of the so-called "childhood diseases," and the sooner the better, has been discarded in the light of present-day scientific knowledge, in the opinion of Dr. Berneta Block of the Michigan Department of Health. Dr. Block will lecture before the women's classes here next Monday, April 25, at 2:30 o'clock at Adams School on the topic, "Preventing Acute Infectious Diseases."

Dr. Block will explain how communicable diseases including tuberculosis are spread, the value to the community of quarantine and isolation, how immunity may be obtained, and the importance of vaccination and immunization in the crucial early years of childhood. A film will be shown on "Tuberculosis and How it May be Avoided."
