OUR COAL "TALKS"

We depend on our coal to tell its own story of quality and service. If our patrons who use our coal day after day and season after season are not pleased and recommend it to their neighbors and friends, it matters little what we may say.

ARE YOU LISTENING?

The final word must be spoken by the coal itself. The user who tells his next-door neighbor how good Lawson's coal proves to be in actual service is our best advertiser. Lawson's coal "talks"—and its message is—

MORE HEAT PER DOLLAR.

All of you smart pippins—and all of you doing such excellent in casual-like, to keep in a rash trying to keep up with all of 'em. It must be the country air or something, but we honestly have NEVER seen such an admirable crowd of citizens as 'all are turning into.

Guess Who Returns! Joanne Hart's home! The cute red-head trucked back to the family plantation from Antioch, which she's been attending for some time. She's off for business school right away and will shortly turn into an industrial magnate of some kind, according to the present guesses of friends and family. Nice to have her back home, big?

Big Accomplishment We've wide-eyed with awe over Paul Wayman. B'leve me, one must have PLENTY of what it takes to do what he's just done. He's been accepted at the Ford Engineering School, which only accepts the cream of the crop. He'll be there two years, right through summers and all, an account of the way he's working (with pay) every thing) as well as studying. And after that, he'll probably invent a combination autogun and water wings, or something equally terrific. More power to him, sez we.

Lucky Gal Have you HEARD about Louise Cobb? This may be a bit previous, but it's too tremendous to save, so we'll tell all about Weezie at the week-end of March 18. Shortly before that she'll take off for Princeton, there to attend the BIGGEST doings of the winter at the college. Some of the fun will be the elegant Key and Seal Ball on Friday, the super J-Hop (or Prom or whatever) on Saturday and ten dances 'everything' Sunday. She's driving and will be gone about ten days.

And here's some REAL news. Her date will be a gub-rand young gent who's no less than an instructor there. His name is Johnny Stewart and he's a cousin of THE Jimmy Stewart what's in the moon piteers!!!

Santa's Neighbors Speaking of the neighbors, there are a couple of local boys who don't even flicker an eye lash any more at the sight of snow drifts four feet high! They are Bob Carson and Cecil Morehouse, both of whom are up at the school for mining 'engineering and such at Houghton. Both of 'em seem actually to enjoy it, what with skiing all time and more darned trouble dodging the buried cars and so on in the SMALLER drifts.

Complete Report Mention of Master Carson brought to mind his cute '11' sister, Marvel Jane. So off we trucked to see what she had been up to lately, and was he ever worth it! We have simply REAMS to tell you!

First of all, the gal's acquired a perfectly elegant husband, as she is now Mrs. Ernest F. Graham of Laverne, Cal., just a couple miles from Pomona, if you must know. Remember her talent in high school days, it's not surprising to learn that she's mad about the work of the Pomona Theater Guild, and a valued member of the group. The Guild is very professional and one of the top-ranked amateur theaters in the land. Marvel played Nina, lead role in "Even Afterwards," as her latest offering. While the show was in rehearsal, guess who dropped in, casual-like, to keep in a rash trying to keep up with all of 'em. It must be the country air or something, but we honestly have NEVER seen such an admirable crowd of citizens as 'all are turning into.

A couple bridge clubs and the California weather complete the list of the gal's activities. For recreation she has joined a group of young men, a gal who are starting pottery construction in a class. Friend husband along with the other husbands has wood-working for his hobby.

Jumble Pie Our jumble-pie department contains more things than you could fire as items come up and let the best man win.

Fritz Adams is now a freshman at Albion. So 'all won't be seeing him around as often as usual. Talk with Adams—he registered there Saturday while J-Hopping with Louise Cobb and after bringing his trunk home Sunday night, returned to school for keeps. Best of luck to him we say, along with you and your admirers.

Fritz had company for his return trip. Robin Adair is the divine name of the lad. He spends his time in Birmingham as the guest of sister Elizabeth Adams, wife of Allison and Becham. And here's top to be a lot of fun though, of the FOOTBALL players at U. of D. doing the Big Apple! They claim it's the pleasant way of keeping the old muscles from tightening up. The linemen do the leading 'cause they're biggest, while the smaller backfield men follow. U. of D. 'gals are getting so smitten with the 'dem's demonstrations that lunch hours down there are taken to the accompaniment of "Swing it high... truck on down..." etc.

More Jumble Bill Cobb's feeling darned good lately, and who'd be blaming him? For there are plans in the air which include his going to Exeter next week. That's my children, is definitely something to grin about.

Mention must be made here of Mary Jane and Elizabeth McCurry, Kappa and Kappa pledge respectively. Because we think it was darned nice of 'em to come home from Hillsdale together for the week-end. Sort of brightens our lives and stuff.

Mrs. Rockwood N. Bullard was hostess at a surprise bridge luncheon Friday for Mrs. Howard Farrell who will leave for Florida soon. A mirror banked with sand, on which were placed tiny cabanas formed a gay and appropriate centerpiece for the table, at which covers were laid for Mrs. J. Arthur Evans, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Dominic S. Hasterer, Mrs. R. John Heber and her guest, Mrs. Fred Sturmer and Mrs. Harold Saxe of Detroit, formerly of Birmingham.

Fashion Tips

New designs in printed silks are those of lacy patterns. Some white silks have over dark backgrounds, others seem to be a coming of flowers and lacy frills.

The polka dot seems to be out of the picture and in its stead squares, stripes and clusters of dots are used.

The newest underwear for the skier is made entirely of chamois. It's expensive, but it's warm.

From Paris comes word in gloves with different colored fingers, there is to be knitting and more color in the Spring gloves. Wrist length is proper for tailored wear. Leggings are favorites with tweeds.

A new coat which also serves as a raincoat is a raglan tweed lined with gabardine. The gabardine side is used for the underlayer. Cherry or blue tweed is used with natural colored gabardine.

JACK LAMBIE IS WED AT CHURCH IN WASHINGTON

One of the most interesting of the mid-winter weddings is that of Mary Adams Maverick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Maverick Jr. of Washington, D. C. and San Antonio, Tex., to John Lambie, son of Dr. and Mrs. John S. Lambie of Aspen road. The marriage was solemnized at St. Albans Cathedral in Washington, at 5:30 in the afternoon of Wednesday, Feb. 2. The Rev. Charles L. Warner officiated at the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Gresham Barnian.

The bride wore her grandmother's wedding gown of pearl grey faille silk with a long veil, held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of brides' roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Jane Lewis Maverick was maid of honor for her sister. Two other sisters, Mrs. Robin Bruce Epler of San Antonio and Mrs. Joseph Thomas Padgett Jr., of Coleman, Tex., were bridesmaids. All three of the attendants wore hazy-cloth crepe gowns and matching turbans. Their flowers were creamy roses.

Henry "Dick" Merrill, with whom Mr. Lambie made his historic air journey, was best man. Ushers were William Briggs and D. L. Crawford.

A reception at the guild hall of the church followed the ceremony. Immediately after the reception the bridal couple left for a four-night trip to Miami and Bermuda. On their return they will live in Newark, N. J., where Mr. Lambie is a copilot for Eastern Air Lines.

Dr. and Mrs. Lambie journeyed to Washington for their son's wedding. Dr. Lambie has returned to Birmingham but Mrs. Lambie will remain in the east for another week.

Mrs. Harold W. Shepard of Waddington road will leave shortly for Miami Beach, where she will remain until April. She will be the house-guest of her mother, Mrs. Harry Chase and will be accompanied by her two small sons, Bobby and Hal.

LIGHT for a low-ceilinged Recreation Room

A ROOM with a very low ceiling -- such as a basement recreation room -- presents a special lighting problem. The lighting fixtures used in a room of ordinary height may hang as much as 12 to 18 inches from the ceiling. These are obviously impractical here.

There are three solutions -- any or all of which may be used, depending on the size of the room to be lighted. A recessed glass panel almost flush with the ceiling will provide good general illumination, when used in conjunction with other lighting and eliminate any danger of bumping one's head on the usual projecting type of light fixture. Wall brackets are another possibility. Graceful new plastic wall urns are an attractive variation of the usual shaded bracket, and supply a good quality of indirect illumination. Finally, there are floor lamps and table lamps with a reflector bowl under the shade to diffuse the light. These have the advantage of being portable, and may be used alone or in combination with the other two types of lighting fixtures mentioned above.

For helpful suggestions on your home lighting, call in a Detroit Edison Home Lighting Advisor. He will show you how to measure your lighting with the Sight Meter and help you with any lighting problem you may have. If you wish, he will make a complete lighting survey of your house, and give you expert advice on types and arrangement of lamps, fixtures, etc. No charge or obligation! This is part of our service.
