By Alice Ann Sanders

A woman stood on the edge of a mire of quicksand and hysterically cried, "My baby, my baby. Save my baby!" Two men passing that way heard her cry and ran to her assistance calling, "What happened?" to which the distraught woman replied between sobs, "My baby was walking across that log, fell off and disappeared in the quicksand!"

The man questioned her as to just where the baby had gone down and then walked out on the log to probe around the spot with a long stick. Not being able to locate anything the men cautiously retraced their steps and started to lead the sobbing woman away telling her as best they could that the recovery of her child was hopeless when she turned on them with "Who said it was a child?" and then in words made almost inaudible with weeping she explained, "He was my baby Pekinese."

Large advertisement for Meet Old Friends THROUGH This Newspaper. Text: "Meet Old Friends THROUGH This Newspaper. For More Than Half A Century Birmingham Folks Have Been Meeting Old Friends And Making New Ones Through The Columns Of The Birmingham Eccentric. Each week subscribers read of the activities of many people, whose names are mentioned in these columns—Some of them your neighbors and close friends. Others are well known by reputation through reading about them in this newspaper. 'Humanity makes news.' Our correspondents and news gathering facilities bring to you practically all of the news concerning the people of this community. The Eccentric is a welcome visitor in thousands of homes. It pushes no doorbell to gain entry; it brings no sigh from the busy housewife: 'Well, there is another agent.' It is no handbill cluttering up automobiles, nor blowing around from dooryard to dooryard. It is not a mailed circular that attracts only passing attention and is thrown aside. No husband coming in from his day's work sits down and asks his wife: 'Where is the latest circular?' but hundreds of them ask, 'Where is the Eccentric?' That is the clientele Merchants reach when they use the Eccentric for advertising purposes. It is a clientele that is responsive to merchandising messages well told and backed by competitive price. There Is No Substitute For A Good Newspaper. THE BIRMINGHAM ECCENTRIC. The Community Newspaper of Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills."
