Out-of-Town Guests Add Final Touch To Gaiety Preceding Imposing Rites

Cool Ensemble

In spite of the already numerous entertainments which will honor Miss Virena Marjorie Beaudette and Thomas Hunter Beaudette and their marriage at 4:30 Saturday afternoon, there are still more phases of the nuptial whirl to make added glory. The bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Leo Beaudette of Huron street in Pontiac, and the bridegroom-elect, who is the son of Mrs. Rockwood N. Bullard of Manor road, have issued wedding invitations to a host of their out-of-town friends...

One of the first out-of-town guests to arrive was Mrs. Bullard's sister, Miss Helen Stuphen of Cleveland. Others who are guests at the Bullard home include two of the ushers; Dana Douglas of New York and Thomas Greig of Pittsburgh; Miss Betty Anderson of Newton Center, Mass.; is also visiting the Bullards.

Mr. and Mrs. Beaudette are playing hosts to a large number of guests, members of their family and of the bridal party. Included among them are Mrs. Albert Beaudette and her daughter, Miss Phyllis Anne, who will be a bridesmaid, both of Beverly Hills, Cal.; Miss Betsy Wallace of Pittsburgh; and Miss Margaret McCulloch of Salem, O., two more bridesmaids; Miss Laura Brandard of New Haven, Conn.; Miss Betty Anderson of Welleley, Mass.; Miss Audrey Krause of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Mary Moory of Boyerstown, Pa.; Miss Marian Postmore of Toledo; and Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKay of Lakewood, O.

Among the round of pre-nuptial festivities to honor the bride-elect was a tea and toiletries shower given Tuesday by Mrs. Bullard and her daughter, Miss Catherine Tenick's sister, Mrs. Bruce Beaudette and Mrs. Palmer Beaudette, sisters-in-law of the honoree. Mrs. Beaudette, Mrs. Bruce Beaudette and Mrs. Harold Ward and Miss Virginia Ward; Miss Marian Donaldson, Mrs. William L. Rose, Miss Sylvia Callender, Miss Frances Anne Morley, Mrs. William Hargreaves, Miss Stuphen, Mrs. Ruth Ayers, Miss Elizabeth Bird, Mrs. Charles Latham, Miss Barbara Fitch and Mrs. J. A. Evans.

Carl snickered in his most exasperating manner over to the telephone and snatched it. "Hello, Betty, Betty, Betty, what are you trying to do with that phone? We could never settle our differences, so I'm going down town to wind up everything."

"Why don't he went out and slammed the door quickly behind him. Betty walked the floor for two hours before she got up the courage to call the police and tell them to go to Spear's clock shop where a man had committed suicide."

The police went and found Carl with his feet propped up on a table and his hand on his forehead. "Hello, what do you guys mean busting over here this way?" "Well," replied the police, "we just got a phone call from a girl who said that a young man had committed suicide here and we are investigating, that's all."

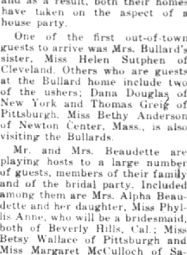

"Well, I guess Betty misunderstood me. We were having a pre-nuptial shower when my dear Betty called me on the phone and asked me to stop into the shop and wind up all the clocks for him tonight, so I left Betty rather suddenly and I told her I was coming down to wind up everything."

WE HEARD IT SAID BY Mrs. H. H. Cowan, 338 West Maple avenue: "Dr. Jack' Hassenberg deserves a vote of thanks for his work in coaching the young people of Birmingham in dramatics. I think that he has shown remarkable patience and aptitude in his work with them, as well as spending much of his time and energy on the class. The work has been a special boon to those young people who enjoy theatricals and who, for various reasons, are not connected with any of the established organizations in town. And I think that all those who plan to attend the group's forthcoming production of 'Hay Fever' are due for a very pleasant surprise. The play itself is extremely popular and the cast under Dr. Hassenberg's direction, is going to perform it splendidly."

FRANK J. BLACK, A.S.C.A.P. From Dairy to Music—and Back

By Daniel J. McNamara DON'T try to "understand" music... Dr. Frank J. Black, A.S.C.A.P., musical director, composer, conductor and business executive extraordinary, believes that in music as in other things one man's meat is another man's poison.

Black says that regardless of its technical structure, all music resolves itself into two classes—the music which he supervises, is to be found not like. And he believes its prime function is to be enjoyed.

SNARK THIEF Who is it sneaks into this house at night And simply whisks things out of sight? One tapper from beneath the bed, A faded spoon of cotton thread, A half apron and my pen? Just last night they were here again. Why do they take such trifling things, They never touch my diamond rings, The silver teaspoons or my money? It's really very funny!"
