

BALL TELLS OF PLANS FOR NEW REALTOR FIRM

D. J. Ball, formerly of the Ball-Stoddard Company, Realtors, announces this week that he has taken over the company. He will operate in the future under his own name at the same location, 227 South Woodward avenue, in the Theatre Building.

Mr. Ball has had 20 years of experience in the real estate business and has always specialized in suburban properties. His present Birmingham office opened about three years ago, and he will continue to operate in Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, suburban and lake properties.

He has recently acquired a five-acre tract of land on Pleasant avenue, just south of Maple, which he plans to subdivide into 70 foot lots. Plans and specifications are now being drawn for 17 proposed homes, with work scheduled to start by the middle of the month. Special attention will be given to landscaping, according to Mr. Ball, and the houses will contain all modern features. He invites the public to inspect his plans.

Mr. Ball is also exclusive sales agent for St. Johns Woods, Goodridge highway at 12 Mile road.

BITS OF BIRMINGHAM

The Rev. Theodore Waggener, Jr., in the interests of the Michigan-Ontario Historical Commission, has placed a number of complete programs of the affair at the Baldwin Library, where they will be available to all who are interested. The convention will be held in Detroit and Windsor on June 9 through 11. It will include lectures and exhibits by members of various Michigan and Canadian historical societies, and tours to various spots of historical interest.

Waggener announces that he would like to communicate with persons desiring to form a historical society in Birmingham.

The new Boy Scout reservation at Howell, Mich., will be opened to the public for the fourth annual Camporee, to be held at Rouge Park June 10-12. The reservation will be formally dedicated at 3:30 p. m. on Saturday, June 4. Invitations have been sent to 2,000 Scouts, civic leaders, camp fund donors and other executive agencies to witness the ceremony. There will be a program of flag raising, pageantry and religious singing.

KROGER REPORTS SLIGHT DECREASE PECK BROTHERS REVIEW THIRTY YEARS OF STORE

CINCINNATI, O., May—A 9 per cent decrease in sales was reported by the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company for the fifth three-week period of the company's thirteen period fiscal year which ends May 21, under sales of $1,750,000 for the period.

Sales for the period reached $1,700,000 as compared with $1,820,000 for the same five periods of 1932, a decrease of 9 per cent.

At the end of the fifth period there were 4,032 Kroger stores in operation compared with 4,174 stores the same time last year. This represents a decrease of 3 per cent, on 112 units.

TRIED TO BE JAILED

Dearborn—A lad had to get out of a way to force you to arrest me! I'm out of work, broke and hungry. This is what Jack Somans, 21, told police officers recently after he had adopted novel tactics in search of free food and board. Somans calmly announced that he had smashed the windshield of the police car. He got his five minutes—for 30 days.

GO FEATHER YOUR NEST!

Harrisville—Three one-dollar bills that had been passed on in a mailbox on a rural road just west of this city were missing when the mailman called. Investigation revealed that a bird had started to build a home in the box, part of the mailmen to feather its nest.

ABRAM CHASINS, brilliant young American musician... composer, pianist, musicologist... is a notable exponent of industry in art. He addresses actively long schedules in his busy New York studio overlooking Central Park. His successes are brief, often he works far into the night. Still in his early thirties, he enjoys worldwide prestige.

Chasins was born of Russian parents in New York City. After prodigy by the late Mrs. Thomas Tappan, musician-friend of parents, he began studying composition with Rubin Goldmark at twelve. Later teachers were Richard Kohnstein and Ernest Hoffmann. He studied at Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, reaching in 1929, studying until 1934. During 1931 and 1932 he made two successful concert tours of Europe.

Chasins' first compositional efforts were in his student days. In Curtis he wrote "Three Chinese Pieces" found their way into the concert programs of many leading artists. He made his own pianistic debut with Gorbunovitch and the Philadelphia orchestra in 1929, playing his own First Piano Concerto. Toscanini honored him in the 1931 season of the Philadelphia by performing Chasins' "Parade" and "Prelude in a Chinese Garden."

Three in a single week in 1928 he appeared in Bartolotti's Philharmonic Symphony series, playing his own Second Piano Concerto.

RE-JUNE-EVATION

O, here's a hearty welcome to the merry month of June.

A 30-day revival term that only goes too soon.

A fresh air picnic luncheon on the grassy slopes at noon.

Parked cars an inconspicuous background of the idling moon.

Good fishing, swimming, golfing, or camping a leisure.

Sun bathing lazy fashion on the coast of sets and dunes.

Smooth dancing on a tariff set to waltz type of time.

Or dancing by a radio in summer evenings.

A beach game, a circus tent with sails red bellows.

That late vacation butterfly emerged from his cocoon.

To small old poets, you can see, the month is quite a boon.

For nature's quite so easy as to find a rhyme for June.
