What this country needs more than a good five-cent cigar is a good five-cent nickel to buy it with.

One criticism adults have with the rising generation of today is that the time between retiring and rising is getting too short for sufficient rest.

Yesterday's experience becomes today's wisdom and tomorrow's guidance. The only commodity experience has in merchandising its price is that it often comes at a high price.

Love may become an anesthesia that sweeps over young people and makes them forget their obligations to their parents, to their friends, to their country.

Speaking of the federal government these days, the difference between a prophet of business and a business prophet is a New Dealer.

Every enduring success is based upon more than one failure. Said another way: if first you don't succeed, try, try again.

DOG CATCHERS TUPDOWN FOR QUANTON

The City Commission led a dog's life for four hours Monday evening in an effort to straighten up the quarantine at public session following the enforcement of the quarantine imposed by the city and enforced by the City as a preventive measure against rabies.

The hearing was attended by approximately 100 residents who accepted the invitation of the Commission to discuss their views on the quarantine at public session before city officials. The meeting was scheduled for 8 p. m., but long before that time, seats in the Commission chamber to fill. Later additional seats were provided for the overflow.
