By VIRGINIA VALE

JUDY GARLAND, Fanny Brice and Allan Jones, those persistent favorites of the "Good News" radio hour threaten to become top-ranking stars in motion pictures, too, as soon as Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer releases "Everybody Sings."

Unlike recent screen musicals, that buried their stories under ponderous sets and armies of dancers, this one makes the story all-important and just introduces song numbers and gaudy sets incidentally.

It is a tale of a frenzied family. Papa is Reginald Owen, an exci-

BITS OF B'HAM

City Manager Donald C. Egbert told the Commission Monday night that delinquent accounts in the water department increased $1000 in January and $200 in February. The Commission discussed the matter for some time, agreeing among themselves that every effort should be made to keep these accounts paid up.

Renewal of a lease on City-owned property on the 14-Mile road, owned by James J. Farrell, will be effected this week, according to instructions given City Manager Egbert Monday by the Commission. The house is on the property purchased by the City last Summer, part of the proceeds to be used for the proposed new sewage disposal plant.

Two weeks ago The Eccentric stated that the division of property between Bloomfield Township, Bloomfield Hills City, and Birmingham had been completed. The two latter areas became cities, resulted in the gravel pit on Oldbury Road going to the Township. This was an error, as the property is being deeded to Bloomfield Township. The pit was originally purchased by the Township authorities years ago for approximately $105,000; for the current valuation it is being listed at a value of $45,000.

Dr. W. Lloyd Kemp, City health officer, and his assistant, local health officer, last week was made a member of the five-man Michigan State Advisory Council on Health. The appointment was made by Governor Frank Murphy. Dr. Don G. Guadagnoli, recently appointed State Health Commissioner, will head the Council.

Word from M. Murray Ashbaugh, receiver for the former First National Bank here, states that his making every effort to liquidate the portion of the assets in order to make another 10 per cent dividend to depositors. The matter is now pending in Washington, and as soon as I learn what can be done, I will let the depositors know," said Mr. Ashbaugh yesterday.

Mrs. Geneva Forslund, accompanied by Sixth grade pupils of the Wing Lake Public School, visited the Eccentric yesterday afternoon to learn just how a newspaper is produced. They were shown each detail, from the writing of copy, to its composition on mechanical typesetting machines, through "make-up," and thence to the last job, perfecting newspaper press. The visit was effected by Mrs. Forslund, their teacher. The matter is receiving similar groups, suggesting that arrangements for the tour be made in advance.

Mrs. J. Crouch, Jr., 583 Bloomfield Court, has received a special invitation from officers of the Western Reserve Kennel Club to exhibit her thoroughbred doberman pinscher in the Cleveland class, second largest indoor dog show in the country.

Lucky Dog!

A man sitting in a park with his dog fell into conversation with an elderly lady, who immediately asked him what breed the dog was. "Spaniel," he said.

"My," said the old lady, "isn't it a good thing he isn't over there now?"

LIONS ATTEND ANNUAL MEETING OF THIRD ZONE

More than 150 Lions representing Jackson, Lansing, Ann Arbor, Pontiac, Royal Oak and Birmingham clubs gathered at the Community House Wednesday evening to attend the annual meeting of Zone Three for Lions Clubs of the State.

Among the special guests of the evening was Carl Strick, third international co-president. Lee A. White, public relations director of The Detroit Lions, was the principal speaker. At the dinner which preceded the program, Emerson C. Brown acted as toastmaster.

The program included also solos by H. Dean Yocum, an "inquiring reporter" set staged by Paul Noel Averill and James Kelly, a "Quiz" contest in which prizes were awarded, and a skit presented by members of the Pontiac Club. George R. Averill, immediate past district governor of Rotary, answered questions regarding his former duties in office, and briefly discussed aims and objectives of service clubs.

ON OSTEOPATHIC BOARD

A Birmingham osteopathic physician, Dr. John P. Wabek, 212 Wabek Building, is a member of the American Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons which will hold its annual meeting in connection with the 42nd annual convention of the American Osteopathic Association in Cincinnati next July.

Osteopathic physicians are required by law to pass examinations before practicing in any state, just as many other professional people must do, and Dr. Wood is a member of the Michigan board which gives these examinations in osteopathy.

Poor Service

He enters a vigorous denunciation of an afternoon recently, looked all about him wildly, the while mentally taking stock of the many and diversified articles for sale there, and shook his head approvingly as he ambled up to the counter.

"Well, my young man," queried the clerk, "what will it be?"

"I want an automobile tire," the clerk was amazed, needless to say, not knowing whether the man was serious, and stammered: "What size, and what brand?"

A look of utter disgust suddenly took hold of the man as he shot back: "What blankety-blank kind of a 'distributor' is this?"—New York Sun.

Walters up at the Arrowhead Lake Lodge where many Paramount companies go on location think that motion picture acting and strange tastes in food go together. Fred MacMurray demanded maple syrup on his cottage cheese. John Barry more puts pepper on his oatmeal. Gladys Swarthout exs whipped cream on bolts cabbage, a peasant dish she learned to eat as a vocal student in Hungary.

Prophet Carole Lombard does not know and cannot eat it with an expression of disgust, a proponent on the "Fools for Scant" red had to fix up something that was a turkey leg with a turkey for a scene of hers. He just stripped a turkey leg, wrapped it with roast beef, and Carole was in play for scene with required enthusiasm.

Clark Gable Kay Francis

There is no unemployment problem these days among the Hollywood studio headresses. Extras appearing with Norma Shearer in "Marie Antoinette" require the daily services of one hundred and fifteen headresses, who draw a total wage of two thousand dollars.

Rumer has it that that several of Ray Bolger's best scenes were in the role of "Rothel," but he does not care any more because he is to be rewarded with stardom in "Snug Harbor." Audiences at the preview of the "Goldwyn Follies" were so enthusiastic over Phil Baker that Sam Goldwyn offered him a salary on his next picture. Third of the trio on whom good luck smiled this week is Frances Dee. Paramount was impressed by her work in "Wells Fargo" and her current "Marching Herds" that they have given her a glamorous role opposite George Raft in "Racing Form."

OLDS AND ENDS—Don W. Olson, Jack Bevan, announcer, plays himself in "Radio City Revels." Fred Astaire and James Cagney are inseparable pals here. Henry Youngman, who plays his old days as a bootler in "Something to Sing About" he has been dance mad. Henry Youngman had a tremendous hit in a Hollywood night club with the result that you will be seeing him in motion pictures soon... Dick Powell is destined to walk out on it if he is not given more authority over what appears on the program.
