

BALDWIN BOXERS READY FOR FOES IN TOURNAMENT

Scheduled to meet today in the Lead Gloves boxing tournament, six of Baldwin's leading pugilists have been in training for the past few weeks. The tournament is to be held in the high school gym in order to raise money for senior class treasury.

In charge of the affair are Duke Potere and Johnny Ferris. Duke is to referee the three bouts which are divided into three rounds of two minutes each. In the heavy-weight division is Funs Colgrove weighing 160 pounds versus Mac McCarthy at 170. The middle weight class is composed of Clem Hoover and Johnny Ferris at 135 each. Now Anders, tipping the scales at 130, and Lefty Grambly will deliver a blow by blow in the lightweight division. Each fighter will have a second.

A ring has been secured from the Rochester High School by Duke Potere. In charge of advertising is Bill Price, and Norman Lyle will deliver a blow by blow description from the ringside over the Public Address System. There are two judges, Mr. George Warster and Mr. Ernest Engel.

Depending on the success of these bouts it is hoped boxing may eventually be added to the school's sports.

LOCAL STUDENTS ENTER NATION-WIDE CONTEST

Drawings made by five of Miss Joy Stewart's art pupils were mailed Saturday to Pittsburgh to compete in a nation-wide contest sponsored by the Scholastic Magazine. All drawings were done in pencil in varied styles and subjects, ranging from landscapes to portraits and figure drawing.

The coveted prize is $50 with seven lesser awards. The participants are Helen Stanton, Betty Baesecker, Mary Garfield, Virginia Stanley, Dave Richardson, and Jack Turner.

Everything from Rye Waltz to Big Apple Seen on Dance Floor at Baldwin High

By Joan Campbell

Everyone, from Girl Scouts in full regalia to fathers who wear just a trifle curious about the "Big Apple," had a gala evening at the dance given by the High School in the Baldwin High gym Friday evening.

The members of the dancing class certainly did themselves proud as they waltzed, fox-trotted, scissor-stepped, trucked, and staggered to the music of the Commodores, an eleven-piece orchestra which "had something," as the boys called it. Mr. Hyde called the "Big Apple," and not for a long time has it been done with more enthusiasm. Herbie Flemingon trucked along with a great deal of gusto, and Ginny Ford and Bill Baldwin were just about tops when it came to the Chinese Shag.

Don't get the idea that the younger generation has gone completely wild, for the classic Rye Waltz was one of the high spots of the evening. "Sergeant" Bill McLeary, who has been a member of the Royal Scots who needed only bits and sporrans to complete the picture, went right to town when the orchestra struck up "Colonel Through the Rye." Those two kids are very versatile, we would say, because later on we saw them give some smooth steps with extraordinary ease.

Marion Tate, expressing the thanks of the dancing class, presented Mrs. Hyde with a corsage. Then, of course, there was more dancing and great sport when the vari-colored balloons were set down from the ceiling. It sounded like the Battle of Bull Run when the spoils-sports began to stick pins into the balloons. But on the way out, we saw a few lucky individuals carefully carrying their flowers decorated the stage. Dancing was very exciting, too, when the gym lit up with a blue and red light.

ST. THERESA'S GAINS VICTORY ON LONE POINT

A fatal free throw by 15 year old Don Osterman after a 13 point rally in the second half gave St. Theresa a one point victory over Birmingham in the state Class B quarter-finals held at Royal Oak High School, Thursday. This victory sent St. Theresa to the state semi-finals at Grand Rapids, Friday.

The deciding shot was sunk three and a half minutes before the game ended. In these few short minutes a number of tough breaks kept Birmingham from the predicted victory. The ball rebounded from the backboard in almost every possible way but through the hoop. Players rolled with sure shots in the clear. Rollope Langerman tried desperately to sink his sixth consecutive free shot. Jump-balls and scrambles held up the game. Finally the bell sounded and the packed crowd descended to laugh and weep with the respective teams.

The Birmingham squad appeared to have cinched the victory in the first half. The local team worked through the tight St. Theresa zone defense to a 11-4 lead.

But the story was reversed in the last half. Hal Danboise and Bob Heimbuck led a 13 point rally for St. Theresa which tied the score in the fourth quarter. Osterman then dropped the free shot which won the game.

Roland Langerman was credited with more than half of Birmingham's scoring. He dropped five out of six free throws and two field goals for a total of nine points. Second place was a tie between Danboise and Heimbuck of the opponent's with six points apiece.

LEWIS WINS PRIZE FOR ADVERTISEMENT

Roy Lewis, a junior, at Baldwin High School, won the prize for the best original advertisement submitted in a contest held by the Birmingham Chevrolet Co. This announcement was made Tuesday afternoon after all entries had been judged.

Roy's "What" which will appear in the forthcoming issue of The Piper, is an excellent detailed pen and ink drawing. Miss Joy Stewart, the art instructor for Birmingham Public Schools, who has worked with Roy since the seventh grade, said that he was very good at any work requiring great detail.

Jack Scolaro, advertising manager for the Piper and general chairman of the committee in charge of the contest, said that every year the contest has been held the entries have increased in number. Thirty students entered this year which brought the number of participants to a new high.

FLOOR SHOW TO BE FEATURE OF BASKETBALL HOP

The annual Baldwin High School Basketball dance will be held Saturday night, from 9 to 12 p. m. at the Birmingham Community House under the auspices of the Baldwin Student Congress.

Among the features of the evening will be included a "haz" sponsored by the Junior Class and a floor show, which, according to committee reports, promises to be most novel and entertaining.

Members of the basketball squad, Coach Whitney, and cheerleaders will be honored as guests. Patrons and patronesses include Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Whitney, Mrs. Wm. Macleod, Miss Margaret Rose Berlin, Ruth Navin, and Dorothy Trump, proprietors, Ed Hopper and Jim Todd, must include Genevieve Gray and Frances Chandler.

Tickets may be purchased from Congress representatives all this week or at the door Saturday night.

In order to avoid conflict, the usual "Saturday-Night Dance" at the Community House will not be held at this time.

FLOR BURNS TO TAKE PART IN MUSIC FESTIVAL

The Baldwin High School Band, consisting of 32 members, will take part Saturday, March 26, in a festival in which over 1000 music students will participate.

This festival, sponsored by the Southeastern Michigan Band and Orchestra Association will take place at Hamtramck High School, Hamtramck, Mich.

There will be 21 different organizations entered. These organizations are divided into two divisions: senior high and junior high. The senior high is divided into three classes: A, B, and C. Each of these consisting of both band and orchestra. The Junior high is divided into only two sections: A and B. Of these there will be three, and orchestra of which there will be four.

There will be six Class A high school bands: Dearborn, Highland Park, Ann Arbor, River Rouge, Dearborn, and Hamtramck. These will play in the evening.

Admission will be by ticket only. Because of limitation of space, only the administrators, members of the press, and representatives of the participants will be given tickets.

There will be three Class A high school orchestras entered: Pontiac, Hamtramck, and Dearborn. These will play in the afternoon beginning at 2:00 o'clock when Birmingham is scheduled to play.

Only two class B bands are entered: Clawson and Oxford. These will play in the afternoon.

The judge, Mr. Farnsworth, Director of the University of Wisconsin Band, will not rate a band according to how well the band that played best or after it plays in comparison with a perfect Class A, B, or C high school band.

The hands will be given one of five ratings: superior, excellent, good, average, or poor. This is the first time that such a festival in which an entire band or orchestra is entered has been tried by the Association.

The Baldwin band and orchestra will also give the second of four concerts scheduled for this year Thursday, April 7. This is the only pay concert to be given this year, and the proceeds will go into the band fund.
