

TRIANGLE CLUB TO GATHER FOR ALL-DAY PICNIC

The Triangle Club will meet on Sunday for as much of the afternoon and evening as possible. Members will participate in a pot-luck picnic on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Hendrie, near Rochester. Plans call for the main body of the group to start about 2:30 in the afternoon. Baseball, group singing and general picnic amusements will occupy the afternoon, as well as the all-important picnic question of food.

Directions for finding the meeting place are listed below. They may also be procured at the filling station located on the north east corner of the main four corners of Rochester, according to George Flower. The latter, Fred L. Johnson or David Wygant may also be consulted on means of getting there. Mr. Flower instructs the prospective picnickers to follow the highway north from the four corners, out of Rochester and through the junction of several roads. About a mile and a half past the junction, they are to turn right, and proceed for two miles. Just past the first cross road they will come to a large hill, on the down-grade of which they turn right again, onto a trail. Signs will direct the travelers from this point onward.

About 30 members of the Triangle Club have indicated their intention of attending the affair. Others will be welcome. The only requirements are to wear appropriate picnic clothes and for individuals to bring their own food.

Mrs. N. H. Maysey of Madison avenue entertained members of the Home Makers group at a desert luncheon Friday, in her home. Tulips, lilacs and stragglers formed the decoration. At the election of officers which followed, Mrs. J. O. Nelson was named president, Mrs. Maysey became secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Frank Pierce was re-elected to the office of teacher.

LOOKY what we got! We got events. All kinds of events, and all of 'em worthy of a minute or three of your honorable attention. So kindly get all settled down and prepare for it. Poise your pencils, young ladies and gents; get out your memorandum pads and prepare to make notes on the kids' year, see and the things you both at present. There are millions of

On the Up-Grade First of all, we ought to be right proud of two of our white boys at Oberlin, sophomore and freshman respectively, and both of 'em men. Johnnie Martin is the sophomore, and GUESS what! He's been made Advertising MANAGER of The Oberlin Review!! And in his second year, too. We think it's wonderful, especially when you consider that he's worked as assistant before in college. "Y" work, and one of the top teds in football.

Ed Watkins is the freshman, and HE'S going to take over Martin's place as Advertising Assistant. More darned talent is conferred with us, on accounts he too is a football FLASH besides all kinds of OTHER activities.

Ohio Going Up Another freshman who's a mutual acquaintance of ours is doing all right for herself and by us up at State. Patricia Tighe is the one we mean. If you wander into the west wing of Mary Woodford and ask for the floor representative, our girl Pat is the one to act moving. Said representatives are responsible for keeping the act moving on their floors, assigning proctors their hours, sitting in on meetings of the governing council and MORE stuff! It's an elected post, so you see it's an honor all the way round.

De-lovely Mixture Speaking of HONORS. Here's a smooth one, all mixed up with peachy fun and still Sophie up with peachy fun and still Sophie looking like crazy about thinking about it. Mary Isabel is the leading lady in the drummer, and she's got a lot of things going on in the annual May Day extravaganza, there, one of the school's biggest bangs of the year. She plays the part of Wayland, the fool in the student production, "The Progress of Queen Elizabeth." The pageant's elegant slogan, don't ya think, with Maypole and Morris dances follows a riding tournament AND the super-groovy May Queen and her court, even GLIMPSED until the CLIMAX. As if all this weren't enough, there'll be a play in the evening, given in collaboration with the roving musicians from Springfield Colliery. Besides which, alums, parents and snuffishness will be on hand to CHEER and to be in on all the fun. Nice?

Fun Galore A right easy week-end was the reward of six of our deserving pals, when Don Scriven and the University of Illinois, at Urbana, nothing of the Delta Chi house playing host to "Janet Hart, Secretary-Chief of the Kappa State," was the leading lady for Mr. S. Yvonne Gay trucking and the other two began with Marg Scriven, sister of the host, and Patricia Frank Savage. Purity nice nice nice!

Pretty Peepul The persons - we are glad to - department includes Mall Morehouse. This week, for making a flying visit home from the halls learning. He was at Illinois and is now at Michigan. Nancy Murray is another list leader. If you could see her in that blue suit Saturday, you'd know what all the shouting's about. Henry Kapp's another one. Besides being Michigan's NEWSY, Pat Buta Kapp's had topped Senior Honors at the recent Honors Convocation and if you look about you'll see further hope on the case of one Dike Dweley, that is really the exception to the rule. All of which makes us very happy.

Graduates, No Less Two out of the 126 nighties at Altoona who will graduate this June are V-E-I-Y special persons in Bohemia. And from the list of honors they've home picked up while at college, they're very PLUS. There, too, Elizabeth Adams is the gal. In case you don't remember all her honors, I know she's a Delta Gamma. Not only that, but she also belongs to the French Club there, the Women's Self-Government Association and the Women's Athletic Association. She was elected secretary of the Publications Council this year, too, and got into the Council by popular vote. Not BAD, see Sophie.

Leland Beers is the lad, and he's been doing a swell job of keeping honors squared up between the sexes. First of all, he's at Sigma Nu, which means a lot in any man's language. He's been active in the Economics Club for simply AGES and besides all that, is a member of the college band and orchestra. Incidentally, both he and Betty will be Bachelor of Arts before you can say Buhl June 6 is the official date, y'see.

Crasher Through Another local gal has crashed through at Michigan State, by being elected to Tanager Guild for which candidates are chosen at the end of their freshman year. Marge Baldwin is the gal who was lucky and smart enough to get it. They're tapped by the sophomore members a FRIGHTFULLY impressive surprise concert, traditionally held on May Day or soon after, and have to be tops in character, marks, activities and what not to be thus honored!!

Miss Mary A. Francis was hostess at an informal gathering Sunday evening, in her home on Fordale avenue. Games were played during the evening, followed by a buffet supper. The guests included Miss Julia Preston, Miss Carol Dweley, Jack Taylor, Arthur C. Harrover, Jr., Chester Hunt and David Fierke.
