There'll be "Turkey in the Straw" and straw hats, as well as sunbonnets, dungarees and other items of rustic garb when the Town Club Alumni Association presents its annual barn dance Friday evening. The affair, which has become a classic among young societies, will be held in a building simply known as "The Barn."

Triangles Will See Magician Perform

The Triangle Club is crossing its collective fingers and wishing to be shown, for this Sunday's meeting will see magic brought before their very eyes. Clarence Cummings, long-time amateur magician of note in Birmingham has consented to come up and fool the members in a state of complete mystification.

consented to come up and fool the members in a state of complete mystification.

The Club is expecting several new members following the announcement this week that a sailing club may be chartered soon, and Sunday spent on the Detroit river. Club sailors will pilot the craft, and if interest warrants it, the excursions may become a regular pastime during the summer months.

But whether magic or marine activities are scheduled, the Triangles are always anxious to welcome new members, and invite any young couple or individual who wants to make friends to attend the weekly meetings.
