GIRL SCOUTS

Birmingham Girl Scouts and those from surrounding communities will gather at the Community House on Friday, June 3, for a field day. The delegates will participate by both morning and afternoon sessions, and a luncheon.

Mrs. E. J. Brumbaum of Aspen road has been elected chairman of Troop 2. She will become a member of the Girl Scout Council by virtue of this appointment.

Troop 2 is the most recent addition to the ranks of local Girl Scouts. Its membership is drawn from girls of junior high school age. Miss Dorothy Platt and Miss Barbara F. Horton are the leaders. Mrs. J. E. Park will meet at the Community House on Wednesday afternoon, June 1. Mrs. Richard C. Fowler is Troop Chairman.

Troop 2's members of which are working on their hostess duties last week. W. F. Thomas, principal of Adams school, was an honor guest at the affair. Members of Troop 7 are taking their turn as hostesses on their annual picnic.

William W. Talman, of Westwood drive, is entertaining Mrs. Margaret Walls, of Bonacker. Mrs. Walls, who returned with her family to their new home in Fishersburg, N. C. William W. Talman, Jr., is home from New York for a visit.

Fashion Tips

Handbags seem bigger and simpler. Flat bags, square or oblong, of good leathers seem to be favored. Colored crocodile is popular for bags. They come in straw-berly patch, cornflower blue, butter-cream and other colors and can be matched with belts and shoes of the same colors and materials.

But lack of trimming is very noticeable. Gloves are smooth and without stitching, while the bag department on material and line to individuality.

An arresting glove is made of two materials—for instance, a suede back may be combined with a caeskin palm. Or two colors may be combined.
