"Sky the Limit"
As opponents line up in September with "sky the limit" for changes and counter-charges, we find their strength to be somewhat as follows:
Democrats—All the payroll changes that is nothing to be sneezed at, considering the $3,000,000—plus payments out of the state treasury in the past 18 months. (What the civil service's new pay scale will accomplish is something yet to be seen.) Millions of dollars from Uncle Sam in the form of WPA, PWA, FHA, AAA and other alphabetical benefits—also part of the so-called "pump-priming" program for spending our way back to recovery.
Republicans—No state patronage organization, but hundreds of county leaders—supervisors, etc.—eager to return to Lansing. Nursing severe and painful wounds received in the recent family row, but deriving some consolation from the thought that the Democrats have family troubles. Gov. (1) Former Governor Constock grimly whetting his tomahawk; (2) Lieut. Gov. Leo J. Nowicki maintaining discreet silence as to Murphy's labor policies; and (3) Commissioner Murray D. Van Wageningen more interested in highway plans than in Murphy's re-election. G. O. P. troubles: What to do with McKee, the Grand Rapids Mayor; how to pacify Labor, acknowledging their right to collective bargaining and peaceful picketing, and yet not offend Business (both Big and Little).

Democratic Schism
Constock's determination to get Murphy's scalp is a neat sample of the schism that has been slowly growing in Michigan Democratic ranks. It isn't a split as yet.
The state administration is thankful that Senator Prentiss Brown is not up for re-election this fall. Prentiss fought the reorganization bill. He voted against the court bill. With these black marks, he would certainly be in line for the Roosevelt's own G. O. P. "Get-Out-!-Purge" with FDR's program, but balk at some of his far-reaching reforms. Along with Brown, you will find Edward Fry, state chairman, and his brother, Theodore, state treasurer. This viewpoint is shared by Van Wageningen and Nowicki; nationally, it is held by such men as Vice-President Garner, Carter Glass and other life-long Democrats who vote straight and allow the very existence of a Republican.

Independence
In somewhat of the spirit of a declaration of independence, State Chairman Fry greeted James A. Farley, national chairman, at Mackinac Island, with these significant words:
"Mr. Farley, Michigan is still Democratic. Some of us may not agree with everything that has been done in Washington or in Lansing. But any alterations in the course we have adopted are going to be made by an experienced pilot and not by fortune tellers."
This was interpreted in several ways: (1) Ed Fry, at least, desired no interference from Washington; (2) Practical men, not day dreamers, would by such men as Vice-President Garner, Carter Glass and other life-long Democrats who vote straight and allow the very existence of a Republican.

Up-Hill Fight
Except for the possibility of an out-and-out Democratic split, Michigan Republicans face an uphill fight.
For one thing, their own ranks are not consolidated.
They lack patronage payrolls to help finance the campaign. (Both primary camps were practically "broke" a week ago.)
They are handicapped by not having the political key to the New Deal treasury chest. ("Murphy can get us more federal money.")
As the governor declared in his special session message, 200,000 workers are on WPA payrolls today in Michigan. The governor today has a blank check good for $10,000,000 to assure adequate welfare relief.
Yes, the Michigan campaign is going to be worth watching. Anything may happen before it is over.

His gallantry unimpaired by his 104 years, Charles H. George of South Bay, Me., picks a pony for Bunny McLean as a reward for Sunday greetings. Believed the oldest active member of Grange in the United States, the Civil War veteran has been farming for 78 years.

phrased the idea the other day, explaining purge failures: "It sometimes takes years for the past to catch up with the present."
