Faye Anderson Wins Popularity Contest

Votes have been tabulated and Art Miller and Dick Eustice, sales managers for "The Piper," Baldwin high school's annual magazine, announce that Miss Faye Anderson, a member of the senior class of January 1940, is the winner of the popularity contest held by their staff in "The Piper" sales campaign early in April.

Faye is a blue-eyed blonde and one of Baldwin's most accomplished dancers. She is also talented in other ways. She is an honor student, president of her home room last semester, and secretary of her class as a junior. Among her favorite hobbies are swimming, riding, chortling, and dancing. Other girls nominated were Pat Houff, a senior, Dorothy Prussing, Jean Houff, Ruth Navin, and Madeline Pease, juniors.

Baldwin Students Organize to Plan Trip East in 1940

Two meetings of next year's Washington group have been held at Baldwin high school during the last week in order to organize plans for the 1940 trip.

At the first meeting, Friday, the group discussed the possible itinerary of the trip. Several students suggested moving going to New York, but W. S. Toothaker, the temporary advisor, explained that it is just as reasonable to visit both cities. A surprisingly large group of about 105 students attended the meeting.

Monday, April 24, the group met, and selected Dick Harrell as its chairman. Nominations were made for several of the other officers.

The selection of advisors will take place in several weeks. Many students from the last Washington trip are planning to accompany the group again next year, having enjoyed the trip this year so thoroughly.

Senior Control Day to Be Observed At Baldwin High for Fourth Year

Tomorrow the seniors of Baldwin high school will take over all teaching, clerical, and administrative positions in the high school. This privilege is given to the seniors every year while the teachers are in Ann Arbor attending the School Masters' Club.

Each senior interested in teaching, clerical, and administrative positions in the high school applies to the senior high school applies to the senior high school applies to the senior high school.

The directing committee consists of a student representative and the home room teacher of each senior home room, a representative of a student congress, and the principal. They are Mrs. Adelaide Halliday, Mrs. Hazel Murray, Miss Virginia McGiffin, J. W. Jenkins, Carol Darling, Miss Elizabeth Clark, Harold Borden, Julian Feiler, Lawrence Colgrove, Martha McElroy, Miss Elizabeth Thomas, Charles Fiske, George Mullin, student chairman, and R. H. Bechtold, principal.

Principal Bill Holmes, Mr. Bechtold will be replaced by Bill Holmes. The school clerk will be Eva Trux and Pat Houff, while Florence Groves will act as attendance clerk. The study halls will be taken by George Mealin, Bill Cobb, Alan Hopkins, and Dick Eustice who have divided the different periods among themselves.

The assignment of the classes for the rest of the Baldwin faculty are as follows: Miss Florence McGiffin, Jim Dahn and George McCutcheon; Miss Dorothy Allen, Eleanor Kelly; Miss Leah Baldwin, Librarian, Ennie Gifford and Ruth Spomer; Lloyd Chapman, Marilyn Ely; Miss Margaret Cook, Cecilia Eise; Clifford Harvey, and Barbara Fris; Max Horton, and Julian Feiler; Miss Rhoda Desmure, Fish Williams; Miss Lucille Dowan, Ed Wolf and Constance Peck; Mrs. Geraldine Forsythe, Warren Dalley; Bob Slosser, and Julian Feiler; Mrs. Adele Halliday, Jane Thomas, Anita Kurth, and Barbara Goodrich; Mrs. Elizabeth Haskard, Arthur Underwood and Herbert Moore; E. A. Hubbard, Bill Vinton and Dick Williams; Miss Ruth Hall, Bill Seligmann; J. W. Did you kids know that Sally Gemma and Warren Forsyth are becoming quite an item?

It seems that Dorothy Ann Dye had a pretty good time on the boat going to Bermuda... you wouldn't wish 12 boys to make the voyage more interesting? By the way, Dore looks plenty neat with that swiggle tan and her zippulac cashmere sweater (Bermuda brand).

What about all those daring lads that are taking flying lessons? Get the parents word of interest... very interested to know just who some of the ace acrobats are.

Students Confer With Dr. Emmons Of Wayne Faculty

"The Activity Period" was the subject which the all-school committee, chosen by the Baldwin Student Congress, activity period committee, discussed with Dr. Emmons, of Wayne University, in a meeting last Wednesday at the high school.

That the discussion was interesting was proved by the fact that the meeting started at 9 o'clock and was not adjourned until noon. The list of suggestions was the longest list of suggestions which the members came away.

The members of the committee, Richard Gray, Rose Berlin, Bill Holmes, Bill Vinton, Margaret Corryell, Marion Kirk, Jane Gibbons, Constance Peck, Betty Newell, Charles Fiske, Bill Roberts, Frank Spahr, Jack Dunn, Ward Crockett, and Doris Franklin, submitted many suggestions they had. Dr. Emmons and the group informally discussed them, and they were worthwhile they were added to the list if not they were discarded.

During the course of the meeting, Dr. Emmons told of his experiences with the activity period in other schools. At the end of the meeting, everyone left with a new list of suggestions to carry to his home, and with a clearer view of the problems and of how to solve them.

Forming an interested and active group, the students, under the leadership of Dr. Emmons, are responsible for obtaining Dr. Emmons' services as consultant; Howard D. Crull, superintendent of Birmingham schools; Ray H. Bechtold, principal of Baldwin high school, and several other members of the faculty.

Pontiac Orators Guests of Senior English Classes

At the request of the senior English classes of Baldwin high school, a group of Pontiac high school spoke Tuesday about current events in international affairs.

Bill Seligmann, president of the senior English class, introduced the speakers who were as follows: Roy Stenback, who spoke of "Chamberlain, A Peace Prize or an Honorary Swastika"; Clarence Carlson, who spoke of "Blood and Iron"; and Archeloe Goldshian, whose talk was entitled "America for Me."

The talks were followed by a general discussion in which members of the audience gave their opinions on the topics under discussion and asked questions about them and about Pontiac high school's speech program.

Interest in hearing these people speak grew out of discussion held in the English and senior English classes. These concerned the making of a brief on the question of rearmament in the United States and its justification.

The students from Pontiac were the same ones who spoke to the Rotary Club last week.

Nautical Posters Advertise 'Pinafore'

Posters, all in a nautical theme, will bring the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "H. M. S. Pinafore," before the public eye Monday, when the nautical campaign for the operetta, which will be presented by the music department of Baldwin high school, Friday May 12, begins.

Under the chairmanship of Miss Dorothy Allen, the posters are being made by students of Baldwin high school, and Mrs. John J. Gault, Hilltop Lane, has been selected to select the best one, the designer of which will receive two reserved seats for the operetta.

The posters will be judged Monday morning, and will then be placed in various rooms of the school and rotated each day. Posters will also be placed in the other Birmingham schools.

Lewis Wins Prize In Poster Contest

Roy Lewis, Baldwin High, won the $10 Winningham contest prize this year for the second consecutive time, submitting four pen and ink designs and layout.

Charles Winningham, Chevrolet dealer, offers a prize each year to the Baldwin student who submits the best advertisement for "The Piper." Many students compete in the contest.

Girls Make Costumes For School Operetta

Many hours of hard work are being put on making costumes by the girls who will appear in the chorus of the school operetta, "Her Majesty's Ship the Pinafore," to be presented Friday evening, May 12, at eight o'clock in the Baldwin high school auditorium.

The girls' dresses, which will follow the style of the Victorian age, will have long full skirts held out by hoops, to be made by the manual art classes.

The girls, wearing pastel colored gowns and accompanied by boys in white sailor suits, will create a colorful spectacle on the stage. The sailor suits will be secured from the Naval Reserve offices.

Little make-up will probably be required except by those students who will portray somewhat older characters in this famous Gilbert and Sullivan operetta.

Washington Group Visits Congressman While on Jaunt to National Capital

Through the courtesy of George A. Dondero, Congressional representative from the Seventeenth district, the Birmingham Washington group was introduced to George Horon Miller, Congressional Custodian, who, accompanied by Mr. Dondero, took the group into the House and Senate reading rooms, where very few visitors are permitted.

He demonstrated the various mechanical devices used to obtain quick access to books and also the devices for transferring books from one building to another.

The group accidentally ran into Mr. Dondero where he was showing some friends the library. Upon discovering where the group was from, he immediately joined the party.

The following evening Mr. and Mrs. Dondero dined with the group at the New Colonial Hotel. Mr. Dondero, who was seated with a mixed group of students, discussed the various government processes and duties. Mrs. Dondero, who had just attended a tea at the White House, related the details of the tea to an interested group of girls.

At the conclusion of the meal, Mr. Dondero addressed the group in a brief informal talk. Mr. Dondero summed up his talk by stressing the fact that if the students didn't get anything else out of their visit to the capital, through their various experiences and from what they detected, they would come to the conclusion that when they were living in the United States, they were living in the best country in the world.

Class Treasurer Reports on Fund For Reception

A flourishing financial condition was the substance of the report given by Cameron Biggers, treasurer of the junior class of Baldwin high school, last Friday. Approximately $800 will be on hand when the reception is held June 9.

Approximately $70 was turned in by homeroom 27 and $74 by homeroom 222. The magazine sale accounted for $50 and the school play, "You Can't Take It With You," for $315. The other cash on hand makes the total balance $826. As yet the class dues have not been collected and there is still approximately $100 to collect in on future candy sales. Miss Biggers reported.

Bob Eade is in charge of the annual reception which will be given early in June. Orchestras and clubs are now being looked over and will be selected soon.

Camera Club Hears Talk By Detroit

"Factual Composition in Photography" was the subject of an informal talk by Rev. J. G. Widdifield of Detroit to Baldwin high school camera club and its guests at Baldwin high school last night.

Participants in the activities are Rodney Grambeau, Bob Andrews, Ruth Anderson, Ruth Navin, Winnie Watkins, Clara Phelps, and Marilynne Ely.

The journalism classes of the last two years have tried to make a complete file but this is the first time that progress has really been made.

The group hopes to have the morgue finished by June.

Mr. Widdifield explained how to obtain good composition in pictorial shots, and then criticized some of his own prints, besides some of those submitted by the camera club members.

Mr. Widdifield is a member of an exclusive group of photographers in Detroit and its vicinity, and has had prints in exhibits all over the world, many of them gaining international recognition.

Electric cooking costs HALF AS MUCH as you think!

The Dutch Susan electric cooker will prepare a whole meal at one time—two vegetables, a roast, potatoes and gravy—at a cost of about 2 cents. Women say: "An economical way of cooking, it is unequalled." "I have no other oven so I use the cooker for everything. My only regret is that I didn't get it sooner." "Not only saves the natural flavor of foods, but also your 'sweet disposition' in hot weather. I'd hate to do without it!" "I like the small amount it costs to operate." Over two million electric cookers are now in use in the United States. See them on display at your electrical or hardware dealer, department stores, or any Detroit Edison office. Priced $9.50 up.
