

Two Big Shows Under One Tent To Be in Detroit

The Big Show—Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey—moving on four long railcars and carrying 1600 people, 50 elephants, 1000 menagerie animals, hundreds of horses and gargantuan great, world's largest and most ferocious captive gorilla, now displayed for close-up views in the menagerie, will exhibit in Detroit three days, Sunday, July 16th at E. Warren and Conant, Monday and Tuesday, July 17th and 18th at Liverno and Elmhurst, with its huge big top air conditioned and re-styled in rain-bow hues.

Twenty-two air cooling units, installed at intervals around the circumference of the world's largest tent, make it comfortable for the thousands in the stands on hot days. Drapes and gold tassels, gold and silver poles make the interior something new under the circus sun.

The new inaugural spectacle, produced by Charles Le Maire, former designer for the Ziegfeld Follies, is a street-scene pageant of almost unbelievable splendor. It is titled: "The World Comes to the World's Fair," and 2000 people and animals take part in its enactment.

Terrell Jacobs, renowned trainer, presents the largest group of performing wild animals ever assembled in America—50 lions, tigers and leopards in an amazing display.

Dorothy Herbert, madcap rider of rearing and fire hurdling horses, back from European triumphs heads a Kentucky with 70 girl riders on 100 four-year-olds.

Under a blue big top ceiling, lighted as is a big New York Musical show, the displays of The Greatest Show on Earth surpass all the massed attractions of former years.

The horse numbers of the show are extraordinarily appealing, with William Heyer, Tamara Heyer and Dorothy Herbert featured in new and sensational numbers. Tex Elmundt again scores with new liberty horse acts.

The world famous Riding Christians, bareback thrillers, with Lucio and Belmonte starring; the two Flying Concello troups and the Flying Comets, with Antoinette Concello, only girl triple somersaulter; the Walkiris, aerial perch marvels; the Torrence Dolors, flying perch wonders; the Rooneys, stellar double trapeze artists—these are some of the other outstanding features.

Different Reactions.
The Professor—"When I get close to nature it makes me feel like a little bug."
The Other—"A little? It makes me feel like a lot. I eat like a horse when I'm in the country."

His Inspiration
"What made you a millionaire?"
"Curiosity had a lot to do with it. I wanted to see if there was any income my wife couldn't live beyond."

Reds Head for Flag With Power and Sound Pitching

BY IRVING REX

THEIR haven't had a pennant in Cincinnati in 20 long years, but Fountain Square fans finally believe their time has come.

Rhineland baseball bugs are particularly pepped up over the current edition of the Reds because the one world champion Cincinnati did win was at the expense of the ill-famed Chicago Black Sox in 1919.

Right now, Bill McCormick is the toast of the town. Wilkinsburg will in two seasons have pulled the Reds out of the doldrums and put them on top of the heap.

With the July 4 milestone passed there is every indication that the Reds will remain on top. The best combination of hitting and pitching in the senior circuit should be insurance enough.

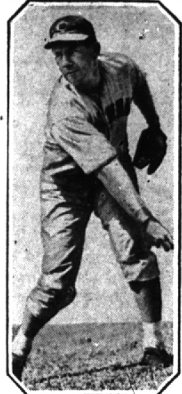

But if McCormick doesn't hit a homer, Ival Goodman does, and if Goodman doesn't come through, then Eric Lombardi is sure to connect. The Reds are the Yankees of the National League and McCormick, Goodman and Lombardi are as potent a trio as any three of the Broadway Bombers.

DEFENSIVELY the Reds were bolstered greatly by the acquisition of Bill Werber from the A's. Lonnie Feyer has rewarded McCormick's faith in him at second, and the Reds' mound staff includes five starters who are moving along at a merry clip.

Paul Derringer, right-handed star of the staff, is the leading pitcher in the league, and very possibly will end the season in the same way.

Other starters are Bucky Walters, Johnny Vander Meer of two-time, no-hit fame, Lee Grissom, the big left-hander, and Lloyd Moore. So far this season there has been nothing particularly brilliant about any of them except Derringer, but for Cincinnati they're a hard bunch to beat.

Small wonder the fans around Fountain Square are all worked up these days.

Paul Derringer... league's best.

Federal Symphony To Give Concert

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Valter Poole, will present the third in its series of four summer concerts on the campus of the Grosse Pointe high school this evening at 8:15.

The all-French program tonight is in commemoration of Bastille Day, the French national holiday which will be celebrated tomorrow throughout France.

Included in the program tonight are the overture, "Maximilian Robespierre" by Litolff; "Marche, An Supplique," "La Symphonie Fantastique" by Berlioz; Danse Macabre and the Marche Militaire by Saint Saens.

BASEBALL

In the American League, Detroit, New York, Philadelphia and St. Louis were hosts on the July 4th holiday games, while in the National League, Boston, Brooklyn, Chicago and Pittsburgh played at their home parks. Both leagues are now turning all eyes to the 7th annual All-Star game to be held in New York on the 11th at Yankee Stadium. Each year, for seven years, the best in the National League have matched power and skill with the best in the American League, with the Americans winning four of the six games played.

BASEBALL ODDITIES

That spirited New York Giant rally and surge forward has sent a cold chill down the backs of many a Cincinnati fan, and, perhaps, many a Cardinal fan as well. The Giants one day last June suddenly woke up, turned on the Cincinnati Reds with a record pile of homers and jolted them to the tune of 17-3. Well, that was just an accident—maybe—thought Cincinnati fans, but when just recently New York bred into Cincinnati's home park, knocked them off three in a row, and completed a record of 13 wins in 15 starts, fans started wondering.

Brooklyn's delicious Dodgers invaded Boston recently and a few of them got over five hits of baseball for their money. Ending at 2-2, after 23 innings, the Boston Dons were most disappointed the feat they performed in 1920 in setting the record for the longest game—26 innings.

Young Whitlow Wyatt, of the Dodgers, remained on the mound for 16 innings, when he was removed for a pinch-hitter. However, neither team scored after the 8th inning, after which was played 15 innings of shut-out baseball. Each team used four hurlers to set a record in both leagues for 1939.

On the same day that the Giants moved into second place in the National League the Philadelphia Athletics dusted off the Philadelphia Athletics in both ends of a double-header and left no doubt as to being the Champions of the World. The Athletics, who seemed very unamused by it all, were thrashed 23 to 2 and 10 to 0.

The World's Champions hung up about three new records. In the first game they handed Farnon an 8-run margin—all homers—Their total of hits in that game was in the twenties when we lost count.

But the Athletics came right back and took another licking by the shut-out score of 10 to 0. In this frame the Yankees lost five more balls over the fence and set a new record—13 homers in two consecutive games.

After the first battle had ceased the Yankees were found to have gained 53 bases, breaking their own record of 50 made in 1932.

The record of 8 homers in the first game broke the record of 7 which had been tied by the Giants lately, but had stood since 1886. The record of 13 circuit clouts in two successive games broke the record of 11, set in 1936.

OUTBOARD RACING

Recently young Gar Wood, Jr., zoomed home in the Class A and B events at Montauk, Long Island, not only winning Class A and B events but setting new records in each. He probably would have won Class C honors also, had not been such a dare-devil on the south turn—and as a result he took a bath in very choppy, salty water. The wind was blowing at half-gale force and Wood was breezing along at about 50 per, when he, with throttle wide open, tried to make the turn. Cold water, Wood?

BOXING

After the game Two-Ton Tony said "Goodnight all" in Yankee Stadium at about 9:35 on the 28th, Lou Nova is wondering if Lou really is all that bad, and if he really will meet the Bomber in late Summer or Fall.

Expert opinion is divided on the question whether Nova is ready for Lou, but if a large gate is assured, Nova will probably say "I'll kill that big Louis," sign up and have everybody wondering about next September what his chances are.

Important: see your Scoutmaster or acting Scoutmaster about the Scout ball game at Briggs Stadium. The game is next Monday, July 17, and every Scoutmaster who plans to go has made arrangements for the tickets by now. The tigers will play the Boston Red Sox.

Mr. Ebersoll is Scoutmaster of troop B-3, now that Mr. Murray has moved away. He was formerly chairman of the troop committee.

Troop B-2 is disbanded until fall, when the question of its sponsorship will be decided. The Veterans of Foreign Wars will probably sponsor it and Charles Zeigler of Detroit may be its Scoutmaster Mr. Zeigler, by the way, was our District Commissioner's first scribe when Mr. Main was a scoutmaster in Pennsylvania. (It's a small world)

Troop B-1 is sending a patrol to the Camporee at Rouge Park next Saturday and Sunday for the first time. The patrol consists of the troops senior Scouts, and on account of the absence of several of them it will be a "short" patrol of only six Scouts. They are Jim Juhl, P. L.; Jack Dunn, A. P. L.

Paul Westerbe, scribe; Glenn Watson, signalmann; Earl Reuter, rger; and Don Thornton, woodman. Plans have been made with Falcons, of B-5, for a joint camp fire on Saturday night.

Ernest Engel, of troop B-4 is working on his Master's degree next year, and so will be unable to continue as scoutmaster of troop Don Terry, chairman of a troop committee, will take Engel's place.
