

Cook Cucumbers for Variety in Summer Menus, Say Those Wise in Culinary Art

Cucumbers are at the height of their season and in the best possible condition. They used to be eaten when raw, but today we make them into countless dishes. Try these unusual recipes on your family.

Cucumber Puffs
Peel 2 medium sized cucumbers, cut into thin slices, removing as many seeds as possible. Cook 10 minutes in boiling salted water, then drain and cool. Make a batter of 1/2 cup of flour, sifted with 1/2 teaspoon each of salt and baking powder. Add 1/2 cup of milk, 1 well-beaten egg and 1 tablespoon melted butter. Dip the pieces of cucumber in the batter and fry in deep fat until delicately browned. Drain on paper, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Serve hot.

Cucumber-Ham Remeniks
Peel 2 medium sized cucumbers, cut in small pieces and cook in boiling salted water 10 minutes. Drain and mix with 1 1/2 cups of white sauce and 1 cup of ground meat, turn into remeniks, cover with buttered bread crumbs. Bake 5 minutes in an oven 400 degrees.

Cucumber Rings
Cut 2 medium sized cucumbers into rings 1 inch thick. Pare each side downward in thin strips, leaving a striped effect. Boil 10 minutes in salted water. Then chop out the pulp as much as possible and fill with a stuffing made of 1/2 cup chopped sautéed mushrooms, seasoned with 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper and paprika to taste, and 1 tablespoon of chopped parsley. Roll the rings with butter and bake a delicate brown in an oven 350 degrees. Serve each cucumber ring on a slice of tomato which has been dipped in French dressing and sprinkled with parsley. This is a very good accompaniment to broiled steak.

Cucumber Hollows
Pare cucumber, run the tines of a fork lengthwise to make a cut outer edge and cut in half on slices. Hollow out the centers lightly and stuff with divided onions. Garnish with a bit of celery and insert a toothpick in the side of each circle for a holder. Excellent for tea or as an appetizer.

Creamed Cucumbers
3 medium sized cucumbers.
2 tablespoons oil.
1 cup milk.
1 1/2 tablespoons flour.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
Pepper.
Peel cucumbers and cut in one inch strips. Remove the seeds. Cook in boiling salted water 10 minutes. Drain. Make a sauce of the fat, milk and flour.

College Knowledge

By SOPHIE MORE

Headline makers this week—all from all the universities, colleges and schools for MILES around. And right along with 'em are all their classmates who'll keep on at the respective alma maters, winning all KINDS of honors.

Eastern Grad
At Ashburnham, Mass., Monday was an eventful day because of the graduation exercises at Cushing Academy. And Douglas Herrick was among the members of the June class? This Becham had been schooling in the east long enough so that his friends here will be delighted to have him back for a while. And of course his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl E. Herick of Madison avenue here, are also very pleased and proud. So you'll be seeing him soon.

Actress Friend
At Lindenwood College, in St. Charles, Mo., graduation was made doutly exciting by the class play, among extra features. And our own Betty Minor Forsyth, who has already proved her ability here, was among the actresses. Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice" was the vehicle selected, for presentation Friday evening, at the school. And now our dramatic friend will be with us for only a BRIEF while before shipping off for a northern vacation which, however, she certainly earned.

Dorm Press
'Twasn't very long ago that they held all-college elections at Olivet. So it seems entirely natural to announce that Virginia Thompson is now president of Dole Hall there, and will serve next year. It's no empty honor either for Dole, besides being the girls' dormitory, is also the center of the school's social life, from meals, to the BIG dances. And speaking of dances, the girls' spring formal came right after the elections, so Tom Reaney came up to squire the new president. And just to make it more of a party, brother George Thompson was also on hand. His date was petite Gladys Smith of Royal Oak, whom many of you know.

Co-Editor
'Honors are still pouring down upon the heads of the Becham colony at the University of Michigan. So now it is announced that Jim Allen has been appointed co-editor of "Perspectives," University literary magazine! As you know, the very SMARTEST students publish their stories, articles, poems, etc. in the magazine. And DID you know that Harvey Whalen, who's now instructing up there is also illustrating for "Perspectives"? With such a combination, great things are predicted for next year's issues.
