

Adams School P.T.A. Lists Complete Program For Milk Fund Benefit Show

ONE-ACT PLAYS, MUSICAL GROUPS TO BE FEATURED

A variety entertainment, including two one-act plays, will make up a benefit performance for the Adams School milk fund at eight o'clock on the evening of Wednesday, March 22. The Parent Teacher Association of the school, which is sponsoring the performance, supports the fund as one of its main projects, to provide milk for underprivileged children. The public will be welcome.

Mrs. Charles F. Butters, last year's P. T. A. president, is general chairman of arrangements, assisted by W. F. Thomas, principal of the school. George W. Mullin heads the ticket committee, and Mrs. T. Norville Hubbard is in charge of publicity. H. L. Smiley, of the Adams faculty, is chairman of properties.

"A Young Man's Fancy," by Hilda Manning, is the first play. Mrs. E. J. Moore will direct it, assisted by Mrs. Ada Moore. In the cast are Mrs. Ernest W. Seaholm, Miss Natalie Seaholm, John D. Maynard, Russell H. Fisher, Miss Virginia Staniford and Sheldon Olsen.

Hostreiter will direct and produce "What Never Dies," by Percival Wilde. Mrs. Moore will assist him in this. The cast includes Mrs. George M. Dweley, Mrs. Arthur L. Genung, Mrs. Harold E. Middleton and George Howard.

Songs will be presented between the acts by the ninth graders chorus of the school. The Adams band will also be featured in several selections. As additional entertainment, the Mother Singers, a chorus composed of members from the Parent Teacher Association throughout Birmingham, will offer a number of songs.

LANDSCAPING IS THEME OF TALK TO GARDEN UNIT

"Practical Landscaping of the Home" was discussed by D. I. Gregg before the Birmingham Unit of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association at the monthly meeting on Monday at the Community House. The speaker is a landscape architect and specialist at Michigan State College. He was introduced by Mrs. William McCallum.

"Rounded flower beds are in poor taste," asserted Mr. Gregg. "A broad sweep of lawn is considered spacious. And your grounds will look larger with a sweep, too." In relation to the spacious motif, he remarked: "To achieve the best result, do not plant young trees so close together that the branches will interlace as they grow. The trees in the yard are best by crowding. Around the house, use small trees that can be pruned."

Mentions Small Lots
For small lots, the speaker advised small shrubs. He recommended that only low shrubs be used around windows. As a hint to gardens containing spiraea, he said that the plant should be pruned at either top or bottom and that it was best used at a screening type.

"Small areas of flowers, well kept, are better than large areas of flowers," he said. "Most gardeners do not realize this and plant more than they can keep up properly."

Tea followed the program. The lovely table decorations, which were the work of Mrs. Hiram Perry Holmes, featured the use of white lilies and stock in a white vase. Flanking the blossoms were flowers in matching holders and Lennox bonbon dishes. The table was laid with a green cloth. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. McCallum and Mrs. William C. Howe. Mrs. J. Rodney Weeks, chairman of hostesses for the day, was assisted by Mrs. Evan J. Parker, Jr., Mrs. Edwin M. Beresford and Mrs. Arthur H. Otis.

Plan Convention
Plans are being made by the Birmingham Unit for the National convention of the Association, to be held in Detroit, June 8-8. The Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills Units will take an active part in the convention, acting as hostesses on the opening day.

FOLK DANCE CENTER PLANS ASSEMBLY

Continuing the activity which began with the recent Douglas Kennedy lecture, the Birmingham Center of the English Folk Song and Dance Society of America will hold its monthly assembly on Wednesday evening, March 22, at the Community House. Members will take part in a program of representative dances.

Those interested in being listed as charter members of the Center are urged to attend the meeting, after which the membership organization's international offices. Later in the season, Center members and their guests will follow the old tradition of "dancing the green," with assemblies held in the gardens of members. Meetings will be held on Wednesday of each month.

Ebbert-Prentice Rites Read Before All White Background At St. James

St. James Episcopal Church was the scene of a lovely spring wedding on Saturday, when Miss Kathleen Mary Prentice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Prentice of Ann Street, became the bride of Robert James Ebbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Ebbert of Angola, Ind. The Rev. Warner L. Forsyth read the rites at four o'clock in the afternoon.

White blossoms, calla lilies, carnations and stock filled the altar vases. On either side were seven-branched floor candelabra, holding white cathedral tapers. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white brocaded marquisette, fashioned over ivory satin. A short train was cut into the full skirt, out of which rose a fitted bodice with long sleeves and a heart-shaped neckline.

WILL ENTERTAIN

Miss Louise Cobb will extend hospitality to her friends at tea on Saturday afternoon, in her home on Aspen road. The affair will take the form of a farewell gathering, preceding her departure with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner M. Cobb, for a seven-months' stay in New York.

Among her guests will be Mrs. J. Good Alexander, Mrs. Robert Jay Vinton, Yvonne Gay, Margaret Seriven and her house guests, Alberta Stevens, Betty Hill, Jane Reitter, Rhoda Medbury, Virginia Ford, Carol Dweley, Evelyn Wragley, Marguerite Usher, Helen Brown, Mary Elizabeth Robinson, Marjorie Adams, Mary Quinn and Tom Grosse Pointe, Betty King and Mrs. A. Louis O'Connor, Jr.

When her parents leave, at the end of the month, Miss Cobb will accompany them as far as Lebanon, Pa. There, she will be the house guest of her former roommate, Miss Florence Wagner of Long Island. Miss Wagner and Miss Cobb will later journey to New York together.

Famous Journalist Will Lecture Here

The Kingswood-Cranbrook lecture series will continue on Saturday evening, March 18, in the Cranbrook auditorium, with a discussion of European problems by Sir Arthur Willmore, a distinguished diplomat, publisher and authority on international affairs, has been hailed as one of the greatest journalists England has ever produced. After 25 years of international experience. As an author, his books on European affairs have been highly praised.

His countryman, Sir Phillip Gibbs, has said of him: "He is as good a guide as one could follow on a European tour for the purpose of inquiring into the present state of things." He has the gift of putting great knowledge into simple and direct style."

Plays To Benefit Adams Milk Fund
Wednesday evening, March 22, has been set as the date of the plays to be given by the Adams School Parent-Teachers association to raise money for the school milk fund.

Mrs. Ada Moore is assisting Mrs. Olson and the cast of "A Young Man's Fancy" includes Mrs. Ernest W. Seaholm, Natalie Seaholm, Virginia Stanley, John Maynard, Russell Fisher and Sheldon Olsen. In "What Never Dies" will be seen George Howard, Fox, Mrs. Harold E. Middleton, Mrs. Arthur L. Genung and Mr. George M. Dweley.

LOCAL TRIO WILL REPRESENT CLUB FOR FEDERATION

Members of the Birmingham Musicals will fill three important positions as delegates to the 23rd annual convention of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs, to be held in Muskegon, March 22 through 25.

Mrs. H. H. Gardner of Aspen road, treasurer of the State Federation, will depart for the scene of the convention on Tuesday, and will remain there through the Saturday sessions. She will present the annual report during the business meeting.

Mrs. D. L. Tate of Westchester Way, newly-elected president of the local organization, will attend the Wednesday through Friday sessions. Also planning to attend is Mrs. Earl P. Foster of River oak avenue, who will probably leave with Mrs. Tate. Mrs. Potter was recently made director of the Detroit district, an office which has also been held by Mrs. Norman Lyle and Mrs. William L. Graham.

The occasion of much interest among Federation members is the scheduled appearance of Mrs. Ober will be at the convention for the full time. Percy Grainger, among the prominent musicians who will appear, will give a concert on Wednesday evening.

Local Hostesses To Assist With Show

Members of the Birmingham Unit of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will serve as hostesses at the Detroit Flower Show, on Tuesday, March 28. The list of local matrons who have been invited to assist includes the names of Mrs. Delbert C. James, Mrs. William C. Howe, Mrs. William McCallum, Mrs. Jonathan M. Ball, Mrs. Donald G. Ende, Mrs. Robert F. Grundley, and Mrs. Aaron H. Webster.

Women's Union To Name Officers

Members of the Women's Union of the First Presbyterian Church will elect officers for the coming year at their annual meeting and luncheon, to be held at the Church at one o'clock on Wednesday, March 22. Mrs. H. D. Harris, president, will preside during the afternoon.

The post-luncheon luncheon, at one o'clock, will open the program. The business meeting will start at two, under the leadership of Mrs. Harris. The election of officers will form the main part of the business. Also at this meeting, reports of Division Chairmen and all standing chairmen of the organization, will be heard. They will summarize the various activities pursued by the committees throughout the year.

Rotary Anns will meet for luncheon and a program at one o'clock on Monday afternoon, March 20. Mrs. J. G. Kehoe will open her home on Ridgeland avenue for the occasion, since she is unable to entertain the group at last month's meeting.

"Bees" will be the subject of a talk after the luncheon. Principal speaker of the day will be Kenneth McVittis of Pontiac.

Triangle Club Begins New Program

The Triangle Club has been reorganized according to an agreement made this week by Miss Alice Savage, publicity chairman. Plans for the future are designed for the pleasure of any young persons of college age or over who are anxious to make friends and develop new interests.

Until further notice, the group will convene at the Community House at four o'clock every Sunday afternoon. The results of last week's discussion will be explained to those attending the forthcoming gathering. Division for 20 Sunday afternoons has already been arranged, Miss Savage continued. The serving of refreshments will conclude the meeting.

Mrs. Carl Fintennann and her son, Donald, of Lowell court, returned Monday, from four weeks' stay in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.
