

POLICE NAB DRIVER USING OLD LICENSE One person driving an automobile with a 1938 license was arrested yesterday in Birmingham. Deadline for old license plates was midnight Tuesday and Chief of Police J. P. Hackett had issued a warning Tuesday to motorists that the use of 1938 plates would not be permitted and that all cars carrying these plates after midnight would be impounded. and so much color. It is beyond verbal description! Then St. Charles Street, the interesting thoroughfare of Canal Street was also packed with shouting, cajoling, dancing, and marching people.

Not A Single Sewal I suppose, in the ten hours that Mrs. Averill and I were mingling in the Mardi Gras throngs, we passed several thousands of men and women, boys and girls, honestly, folks, I can't remember seeing a single sewal on a single countenance—but I do remember that most of them were laughing or smiling; there is a substantial essence of friendliness on the occasion of a child's party.

A Beautiful City New Orleans is a hospitable city. It is also a beautiful city. Its more than a half million inhabitants live in one of the cleanest, atmospheric sections of the United States, and in history, New Orleans goes back to the flags of the French and the Spanish of two and a quarter centuries ago.

As a Northerner, I've joined the millions of others north of the Mason & Dixon line in a reasonable lack of interest in the problems of other sections of the country.

We Reach Greenville Now let's get back to Cairo, Illinois. We stayed there the night, our third day out. The next morning we crossed the rising Ohio River to get into Kentucky, being our intention to use its east banks to and through Memphis, Tennessee.

1000 Miles Long Do you know that the Mississippi River, from Cairo to New Orleans, is a thousand miles long? That its great valley, consisting of 29,000 square miles area, was as fertile as the Nile in Egypt?

(Continued from Page 1) hearing. In her first big role for the Players she was utterly at a loss for what to do but a bow for her wistful appeal and the strength of her characterization of an uneducated girl.

A Star Is Born In the midst of the gunfire and swift action, Clarke E. Pardee took his place as a star.

George M. Dweelly aged about 20 years, the use of his own "Gramps," who neither quavered nor doddered but remained a wicked and thoroughly likeable old man to the very end.

Featured Players Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. McCarty, Arthur L. Croning, Mrs. Charles E. Asper and Robert G. Bradley were among the reasons why it was so hard to pick out any one person as star.

Extra entertainment was provided by the entertainment club. Ruth Rorphy, who played Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" with the finish which has marked other appearances of the young pianist.

Must Take Chances "Of course," she continued, "we will have to take our chances on finding that person who will return. A large American and English colony was living in Barcelona when it began their life at once. It will be interesting to us to see the kind of country the Rebels have been."

Sweet Chimney (M.P.A.)—When Pete Wanko started to build a fire in a home recently purchased in Birmingham, the fire would not burn. He climbed on the roof and poked a long stick down the chimney. It came up covered with honey. There was a space over three feet solid with honey, which yielded about 10 pounds.
