From the Women's Angle

By Marjorie Elaine Porter. This is just a friendly reminder. From me to you, as friend to friend, is the spirit of this bit of advice. But it's meant in all seriousness and for the good of the cause...

If you become publicity chairman, remember. But before you accept, you can't spare the time it requires, be firm, refuse to assume the responsibility. In all fairness, if you can't fill the job so as to gain as much legitimate publicity for your club as its activities merit, don't be weak-minded enough to take it on.

Send your advance notice in early enough before the club meeting. Simply write out the facts, taking care to put the full name of the organization and the name of the person to whom you will be referring. This done, look for your name in the program and see that it is correctly spelled and that initials are accurate.
