

High School Band To Play Saturday In New Uniforms

Members of the Baldwin high school band will make their first appearance in their new uniforms Saturday, when they will participate in the Southeastern Michigan Band and Orchestra festival at the Gross Pointe high school. The uniforms were shipped by the manufacturer Tuesday and they are expected to arrive in time for the trip.

The festival will begin at 1 o'clock and will be open to the public. The Birmingham band will play at 5 o'clock. The musicians will make the trip to Gross Pointe in an Eastern Michigan motorbus.

Baldwin band members won honors at the concert given Friday evening at the Masonic temple in Detroit, as part of the North Central Music Conference, held there all last week. A 12-piece allstate band and an allstate orchestra of 124 pieces took part in the Friday evening program. Baldwin students honored were George Austin, who was first chair clarinetist in the all-state band; Harold Jones, first chair trumpeter; and Charles Lewis, first chair alto saxophonist. Ruth Savage, alto clarinetist; Peggy a solo with the band and played Hadjiskay, cellist, was soloist with the orchestra.

Friday was Michigan night at the national music supervisors' conference, at which 13 states were represented.

Asks Information On Bicycle Problem

Mrs. Stanley Spiegel, 687 Vinewood avenue, representing a group of west side residents, appeared before the City Commission at its meeting Monday night, seeking information as to where in the city children are permitted to ride bicycles on sidewalks. She stated that her children and others in the district had been ordered from the sidewalks. The Commission took the matter under advisement.

In a statement on bicycles issued Wednesday by Chief of Police John P. Hackett, he said that under the traffic ordinance, bicycles on sidewalks are prohibited, but that under the new one, children were permitted to ride bicycles on sidewalks in residential areas if they are forbidden, however, in business districts, he stated. The police has said he has had a number of complaints recently, about children riding bicycles on the sidewalk in the business area.

PHONE RATES

(Continued from Page 1) that it adjusts. Generally, there should be a reduction in rates from the present 10-cent rate on calls between adjoining suburbs and from 15 to 20 cents for long distance calls. Adjustments also are made in rates for calls between one suburb and another. They do not adjust, charges graduating downwards as the distance decreases. The rates for calls between Wayne and Grosse Pointe, and between Roseville and Grosse Pointe, will be slightly increased. In these cases, however, the volume of calls is small.

Calls between zones of the new district exchange will be charged for in units of four or five cents each, dependent upon the classification of the user service under the plan. The number of units to be charged for a call will depend upon the zone or zones of the calling telephone is located, the zone or area called, and the length of the conversation.

New Service Offered

A new class of service also is offered under the plan, by means of which it is desired to have an "extended area" service, whereby, for the payment of a slightly higher local monthly service charge than that which applies to local zone service, a lower unit cost per call—four cents instead of five—will apply to interzone calls. For instance, a user of extended area service will be charged only 4 cents for an interzone call that otherwise would cost 10 cents, while a 12-cent call would be reduced to 14 cents.

The monthly charge for residential extended area service in the suburban zones will increase an unlimited number of calls to all one-cent points, greatly enlarging the local calling area in what was residence extended area service users in the Birmingham zone will save the privilege of making "local" calls to Royal Oak, without additional charge.

The new district exchange, included in the new district exchange, an extended area service will be made available on an individual and two-party line basis. No charge will be made for changing from local zone service to extended area service, if it is desired.

Unit Charges Tabulated

The tables below show the unit charges for calls between Detroit and other suburban zones in the new district exchange, with and without the optional "extended area" service, under the new zoning plan.

For customers who retain their present local service, interzone calls are 15 cents. A long distance call between Birmingham and Detroit Area 4 shows a charge of 15 cents. Multiplying this by 2 units gives the charge for the call—30 cents.

Outstanding among the ordinances adopted by the present Commission since 1936, are the zoning ordinance, and those regarding the extension of parking spaces, and the state trades ordinance prohibiting small children from peddling. More recent ordinances adopted include the new traffic ordinance and the billboard ordinance, which was approved by the Commission a week ago.

Mr. Moody has been a resident of Birmingham since 1928. As a business man he has been active in many of the city's executive experience with General Motors Corporation. For the past 10 years he has been associated with the General Motors Truck Company of Pontiac, now holding the position of Assistant Factory Manager.

Mr. Heacock, who lives at 652 Ann street, is a resident of Birmingham for the past 20 years, and a resident of Bloomfield Township all his life. He is a member of the Commission for the Board of Review in Bloomfield Township and for the City of Birmingham.

He has made an extensive study of the tax problem of the city and county. When a student of Southfield, he served as treasurer of the School District there. Mr. Heacock has been a member of the executive board of Greenwald County Association for the past five years. He is a member of the City of Birmingham on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors for the past five years. He has been engaged in the building business in Birmingham for 25 years. Mr. Heacock has been active in the construction of the Water Woodward highway.

Served on School Board

Mr. Palmer has made his home in Birmingham for the past 10 years. His civic record here dates back to 1926, when he was elected to membership in the school board. He served as a member of the Board for nine years, during four of which he acted as president. Mr. Palmer's term of service included the depression years, when the school district was beset with pressing financial problems, which he aided in bringing to a solution.

Mr. Palmer gained experience in handling civic affairs when he served on the City Commission of East Grand Rapids. During this time he served on special appointment district committees, and as chairman of the committee which installed water and sewer systems. He has been a member of the Birmingham City Commission for the past three years.

Upheld's Zoning Plan

Mr. Gavne resides at 717 Glenhurst drive, and has lived in Birmingham for three years. He stated: "To my mind, the future of the city lies in the hands of the voters. It is their duty to elect representatives who will give us the best possible government."

Obituary

Mrs. Louisa V. Buckridge, 79, mother of Justin O. Buckridge, of Birmingham, died Saturday, at her home in Port Huron. She was the widow of Hiel B. Buckridge, well-known Port Huron resident and one-time newspaper publisher. She was born Sept. 28, 1859, near Rattle Run, daughter of Francis and Victoria Phoenix, who settled in Mount Clemens in the early 1800's. The family moved to Port Huron in 1870 and Mrs. Buckridge lived there ever since.

One of Mrs. Buckridge's earliest memories was of hearing the City of Port Huron named in the will of William Lincoln. At that time, she was five years old.

Born Louisa V. Buckridge, she is survived by two other sons, Francis P. Buckridge of Port Huron, Texas, and Arthur B. Buckridge of New York City, and two daughters, Mrs. Ardon J. Sweet of Ypsilanti and Mrs. George Van Pelt of Detroit.

members on school board decision. Mrs. William E. Essary, member of the League board, who made the original motion, informed the group that a Scholastic League composed of seven instead of five members would tend to correct an old misunderstanding on the part of voters that had been carried into five "school districts" all of which are entitled to "representation" on the governing board.

One School District

"It may not be generally understood that Birmingham is divided into five precincts which apply only to city and general elections. Mrs. Essary said that the five precincts are in no way related to school board elections. There is only one school district in Birmingham which includes the entire city and all of its schools. A seven-member board would, the League believes, make it clear to voters that members of the Board of Education are elected at large. This any mistake in some of 'logically' to what was formerly considered a separate school district would be eliminated, and the one place of choice, choosing individuals who qualify, regardless of the section of the city in which they happen to live."

Population Over 6,000

An inquiry as to Birmingham's present population was answered by figures secured from City Manager Donald C. Egbert, giving the present estimated population as more than 11,000, showing a growth from the approximate 10,000 estimated by Mr. Egbert for 1936.

In the event that the proclamation requested in the motion is made by the State Superintendent of Education, the next step would be to present a petition to the School Board bearing the signatures of five or more legal voters in this district, asking that the Board put the question of adoption of the third class status of the city before a regular election, or at an especially called for the purpose. The final vote, however, would be determined by a referendum ballot. A majority vote on the referendum would allow all third class district provisions to be automatically.
