prised to learn that sheet metal craft had advanced to the point where only assembly with nuts and bolts was necessary.
The property in question is a lot facing Lincoln avenue, next to McKee's gasoline station.
City Manager Donald C. Egbert was of the opinion that a shop of the kind described was less objectionable than gasoline stations, certain stores and tire repair shops which are now permitted in "Business A" zones. Several of the Commissioners felt the ordinance should be redefined to permit in "Business A" districts the types of business which are quiet and unobjectionable.

Postmaster Tells Exchange Club of National Convention

What goes on at a national convention was told to the Birmingham Exchange Club Tuesday by Postmaster Joseph A. Byrne, a delegate to the recent 23rd convocation held at Atlantic City.
He told of the long round of conferences and dinners at which business of the club was transacted, and later of a transfer of the scene of activities to New York for an inspection of the Fair.
The first Exchange Club was formed in Detroit on March 11, 1911, by Charles A. Berkey and 12 of his friends and business associates. Berkey is still an active member of his home club. The second Exchange club was formed in Toledo in 1915, and shortly afterward, clubs were formed in Cleveland and Grand Rapids. The National Exchange Club was incorporated as a non-profit organization in 1917. There are now 31,000 members.
Following is the club's Covenant of Service:
"To promote the divine privilege of single and collective responsibility as life's noblest gift, I consent with my fellow Exchange-ites."
"To consecrate my best energies to the uplifting of social, religious, political and business ideals."
"To declare the debt I owe to those of high and low estate who have served and sacrificed that the heritage of American citizenship might be mine."
"To honor and respect law, to serve my fellowmen, and to uphold the ideals and institutions of my country."
"To implant the life-giving, society-building spirit of service of comradeship in my social and business relationships."
"To serve in unity with those seeking better conditions, better understandings and greater opportunities for all."

'Victory' Speaker

The Rev. Marshall Reed, D. D., pastor of the Nardin Park Methodist Church, Detroit, will be the principal speaker at the local Methodist Church's "Victory Dinner," Friday at 7 p. m. at the Community House. The dinner will mark the church's freedom from debt. Dr. Reed is known as an aggressive, interesting speaker.

Lions Club Learns That Beet or Cane Sugar's the Same

Glenn E. Larke, editor of the Sugar Beet Journal and educational secretary of the Farmers' and Manufacturers' Beet Sugar association, was the speaker Wednesday, at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club at the Community House. Saying sugar is the food which gives the greatest amount of energy, he claimed its consumption to be 100 pounds a year per person.
Mr. Larke declared sugar is identical in chemical structure, whether derived from beets or sugar cane. He told of the beet sugar industry in Michigan, saying its production was responsible for 27,000,000 man hours of labor.
Tracing the history of sugar, he said it was discovered as a food before the time of Christ and was first used in America in 1870. Production of beet sugar in Michigan, he said, started in 1898 in Essexville.
The Lions will meet with the Rotary and Exchange clubs Monday at the Community House with the Rotary as host. Oct. 18, the club will have a joint meeting with the University Lions Club of Detroit at the Perry-Morse Seed Company near Royal Oak.
The luncheon, members will visit the Leader Dog Foundation and later, will hold a pheasant hunt.

I can't say that I would follow much different a path from the one I did," he continued.
But the best advice I can give is to counsel the thing I take the greatest satisfaction in—doing things for other people. I am convinced that is the one great investment in my life that has paid real dividends—something that depression can't ever touch."
There was J. B. Howarth's success story! And advice that was best enunciated in the sermon on the Mount: "He who loathes his life shall find it." J. B. Howarth has lost himself in so many worthwhile endeavors during his long life span that they are too numerous to recount.
A Builder
For five years, he was president of the Detroit Y. M. C. A., and he likes to recall the days when he and the late J. L. Hudson toiled long and arduously collecting funds for the "Y" headquarters. He helped build St. Paul's Cathedral in Detroit; he and his wife donated property to Detroit for a children's playground; he served 15 months in France organizing and administering soldiers' canteens, and was in Paris during the city's worst air raid.
In brief, J. B. Howarth has been so busy that he has never had time to worry about his health or the perils of old age. Service for others has been his Fountain of Youth!

blind obedience to a dictator. He is subject to all the difficulties of democracy. Decisions are not arrived at as promptly as they would be if some one man made them all. The Britisher has been listening and discussing for more than a year. The decision that his government has made is one with which he agrees.
That decision is that Hitlerism, with its ruthlessness, its everlasting grasp for power, land and wealth, must for the safety of humanity, come to an end.

ORDERS TAXES

Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati.
The drain bonds were declared invalid in 1932 by the Oakland Circuit Court, and no taxes have been assessed since that date. Consequently, the back taxes which will have to be paid, if Judge Moinet's ruling is not reversed by a higher court, will be very large. The Oakland Hills Country Club will be wholly affected.
Drain Commissioner Clark said that the two drainage districts roughly embrace the land lying west of Birmingham to the Telegraph road, and the territory between Quanton road and the 14-Mile road. The Bloomfield Village Drainage District bonds, issued in 1925, totaled $420,000; while the Bloomfield No. 1 Storm Sewer Drain bonds, issued in 1928, totaled $255,000. Interest which must be paid may even double those amounts, if there is not a refunding operation.
Holds Bonds Legal
The Michigan courts ruled the bonds were invalid because the constructions were sewers, not drains, and that, therefore, the Drain Commissioner had no power to construct them. Judge Moinet held that the bonds were entirely legal, and the special assessments valid. He ordered the Board of Supervisors take steps to levy the assessments and any supplemental assessments necessary to pay off the bonds.
Whether the county general fund shall be liable for the bonds is a moot point. Judge Moinet ordered payment from this fund, under the proviso that his order should not force violation of constitutional limitations on debt. The full significance of this part of the court's order is not yet clear. It is possible that all county taxpayers may be forced to pay taxes to pay off the bonds.
The City of Birmingham was notified of the court judgment by its attorneys, Goodenough, Voorhies, Long & Ryan, of Detroit. The City has an interest in the matter because the 66 acres recently bought for the sewage disposal plant lies within the assessment district. The taxes are believed to amount to about $20,000. However, in buying the tract from the Detroit Fire & Marine Insurance Company, the City stipulated that the Company should be liable for the drain taxes, and a $20,000 surety bond was posted.
City Manager Donald C. Egbert will have legal counsel to notify the insurance company that the taxes should be paid. He was authorized to take these steps by the Commission, Monday night.

Hunter Construction Nearing Completion

Hunter Boulevard construction is rapidly nearing completion, but it is not expected that the entire highway will be opened for travel until Nov. 3, it was said today by C. M. Kruger, superintendent for the contractor.
The last big concrete pouring job is now under way at the south intersection with Woodward avenue, while curbing should be finished soon, it was said. The northern intersection is completed. Curbing has been put in at the Maple avenue intersection, and it was said that the detour sign would be removed on Maple probably by Thursday of this week. There is also work to be done at the Oakland avenue intersection.

area and found that where 28 cars could be parked at an angle, there was now space for 19.
The Eccentric was informed today that several merchants had reported complaints by customers over the new parking arrangement.
The Retail Merchants' resolution follows:
RESOLUTION
"WHEREAS at least ninety (90) per cent of the traffic on the present Woodward Avenue will be diverted to the new Hunter Boulevard upon its completion, and
"WHEREAS Act No. 318 of the Public Acts of 1939 prohibits angle parking on all State trunk roads effective September 29, 1939, of which Woodward Avenue is and has been considered under such classification, and
"WHEREAS parallel parking as ordered by such Act will reduce the available space for parking by at least fifty (50) per cent, and
"WHEREAS it is the unanimous opinion of this Association that such change will definitely curtail the income of the merchants due to the lack of adequate parking facilities and will likewise greatly inconvenience the shopping public of the city of Birmingham."
THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that this Association go on record as opposing the operation of said Act insofar as it prohibits angle parking on Woodward Avenue.
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of this Association transmit a copy of this resolution to the Birmingham City Commission and the State Highway Department and further request said City Commission and State Highway Department be respectfully petitioned to exempt the foregoing section of Woodward Avenue in the operation of said Act and that in pursuance thereof to do any and all things necessary to accomplish this purpose."
It is suggested that your Honorable body file a protest to the State Highway Department because of the reasons hereinabove set forth. You may be assured the whole-hearted support of this Association in any action you may take to accomplish the desired result.

pretty good job of getting a big share of the money," he said.
After he had presented many other facts and angles on the matter, Dr. Roehm rose and "went to bat" for what he thought was the correct side of the controversy.
"There is no question but what there have been plenty of abuses," he said. "The medical profession has the same caliber of men as to be found in business, in the law, in newspaper and other fields," he declared.
He deplored the lack of proper control and the political advantage which had been taken of the law's former liberality, but declared that the legislature had slashed the funds too drastically.
"The appropriation cut the figure to only 50 per cent of its former level, and provided not as much as half of the funds needed to carry on the work," he told the club.
Rep. Estlin was accused as a speaker by Elmer Huston, and was introduced by George R. Averill.
