H. Kenneth Bingham to Speak Before Manuscript Club Friday

The Birmingham Manuscript club will open the fifth year with the annual fall tea on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Satia York Osborne, 685 Pierce street. The guest speaker will be H. Kenneth Bingham who will speak on amateur plays and in particular those suited to the work of St. Dunstan's Guild. Mr. Bingham is an authority on the little theater movement and as a speaker is much in demand. He has been active on different groups of players from college days but of late especially in St. Dunstan's Guild of which he was president last season and in which he has been prominent for seven of the nine years of its existence. He has taken many parts in plays in the Village Players in the past 12 years.

Following the program tea will be served to about forty members and guests, including many from Detroit, Pontiac, and Royal Oak as well as from Birmingham and the Hills. Invitations have been sent in Birmingham and the Hills to: Mrs. Raymond M. Shock, Mrs. Thomas L. Thurber, Mrs. Rex Frye, Mrs. J. Hayward Parsons, Mrs. Kate Drumm, Mrs. E. J. Shipman, Mrs. Effie Alger Allen, Mrs. Richard C. Streb, Mrs. Donald C. Egbert, Mrs. T. A. Henshaw, Mrs. James J. Reilly, Mrs. E. F. Painter, Mrs. L. J. Hannah, and Mrs. M. C. Borland.

Tuesday Is Date Of Fashion Show At Oakland Hills

The spirit of autumn, the season of falling leaves, will be evident in the decorations and atmosphere of the bridge luncheon which will be held at Oakland Hills Country Club Tuesday, Oct. 10.

Fall fashions will be shown and will include an impressive collection of original creations and Paris adaptations in the fall styles for all occasions including daytime and evening gowns, suits, coats, furs and millinery for formal and sports wear.

The fire places in the club will be banked with autumn leaves, and fall flowers in the red and orange colors of autumn will be used in profusion about the club rooms. The fall shades will be carried out even in the menu of the luncheon with ice cream molds of corn, pumpkins, apples and bunches of grapes.

Many from Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills have already made reservations for this affair, one of the last of the current season. Mrs. J. L. Dostal, as chairman of the entertainment committee of the club, is general chairman of the luncheon and fashion show.

Miss Nancy Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Weeks of Glengary drive spent last week end in Birmingham. Nancy is attending Denison University in Granville, O.
