Thieves Raid Two Used Car Lots Here

Thieves raided two Birmingham used car lots Monday night and made off with two automobiles, one of which was recovered early Tuesday morning.

One car, taken from the Birmingham Chevrolet Company's lot, was reported missing at 9:30 p. m. Monday, and was recovered in the rear of the Walcott building, where it had been abandoned.

The second car, a 1938 Chevrolet coupe, taken from the Birmingham Motor Sales lot some time during the night, had not yet been found Tuesday afternoon.

What Your City Commission Is Doing

September 11, 1939

Bills were approved in an amount of $12,914.60.

Assessment Roll No. 212, covering the cost of sewers on Worth and Hayes Street was confirmed.

A petition was received from Thad Leiland requesting that the matter of amending the Zoning Ordinance to permit construction of multiple family dwellings on his property at Woodward and Vinewood be re-considered by the Commission. The request was referred to the city manager for investigation.

The manager was authorized to purchase copper pipe, to execute an agreement with the Worthington Gamon Company for the purchase of water meters, and to install two water services to replace broken services, on a deferred payment basis.

Exchange of collateral on city deposits in Birmingham National Bank was authorized.

IRENE E. HANLEY, City Clerk

Big Beaver School Has 434 Students Enrolled Thus Far

Big Beaver School opened its doors to another year Monday, Sept. 11. A hasty check showed that a total of 434 pupils had registered for the coming year.

Later enrollments are expected to increase this number.

The enrollment was distributed as follows: Kindergarten, 33; 1st, 29; 2nd, 30; 3rd, 29; 4th, 46; 5th, 42; 6th, 36; 7th, 36; 8th, 41; 9th, 42; 10th, 29; 11th, 17, and 12th, 24.

Expect Enrollment At U of M to Set A New High Record

ANN ARBOR—Indications that a new enrollment record may be set again this year at the University of Michigan are to be found in early admissions of students, records of which have just been made public.

While not all students admitted to the University at this date will be in attendance when the fall semester begins Sept. 25, it is probably safe to predict that sizeable increases in admissions will be followed by an increase in total enrollment.

In the seven divisions of the University which admit students directly from high school, a total of 1925 freshman students had been admitted on Aug. 31 of this year, as compared with 1,710 on the same date in 1938. These divisions include the literary college, engineering, architecture, education, pharmacy, music, and dental hygiene.

The College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, largest division of the University, had admitted 1,301 freshmen on August 31, an increase of nearly 200 over last year. On this date, the College had admitted 522 transfer students from other colleges and universities. This figure is not only more than 100 higher than that of the same date last year, but is greater than the total admission of transfer students for the whole first semester of last year.

In the College of Engineering, admissions are well ahead of the 1938 figures. Total enrollment during the 1938-39 school year reached a new high of 11,777, and, if admission figures are an accurate guide to final enrollment, a new record will be set in the 1939-40 regular session.
