Students Making Preparations For Busy Year Away From Home

Census of the middle of September and hopes of the prolongation of this season show that the attendance of the students and social life of the University have increased. At the same time, there is a large group of students who are busy arranging accommodations for their fall term. The list, although incomplete, includes a number of students who will be living in the University dormitories.

Auxiliary Names

With the thought of new work and the desire to start fresh in the new semester, the University offered the following new names:

Madsen-Watkins

Rites Announced

Announcement was made this week of the establishment of the Madsen-Watkins Rites. The rites will be performed on Monday evening, the 15th of October, at the Home of the Rites. The ceremony will be conducted by Rev. T. W. Hall, minister of the First Congregational church, of the bride and groom.
