30 Organizations Will Participate In This Program

From one of Birmingham's prominent clubs come word this week of a "Community Institute" which is scheduled to be held in the Community House, Nov. 8.

Thirty organizations have been invited by the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women to cooperate in putting on the day's program devoted to community problems.

This institute, the outcome of a feeling held by many prominent civic workers that much more effective work could be done if there were some sort of organization between groups. For example, practically every club has a social service committee. Alone this committee does a small, but valuable job. However, with cooperation, these isolated pieces of good work could be united into an effective program capable of serving the whole community.

This institute, a portion of the civic activities of the A. A. U. W. is in charge of Mrs. Cleveland Walcutt, who has been working on the project for several months.

The feeling of the need of coordinating efforts of the city club groups has not been limited to individuals, for some of the local groups have already expressed themselves in accordance with the movement: American Legion Auxiliary, Birmingham Musicals, Catholic Council, Piety Hill Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, University of Michigan Alumnae, P. T. A. Council, Priblar Sisters, Rotary club and the Birmingham branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden club.
