The content between the Ford Motor Co. and the national labor relations board may finally come up for a showdown on the question of free speech, and the Ford employees may find themselves in positions where it is likely to come to a violent clash.

Mr. Ford has tried to outlaw union meetings on company property, and if he does not succeed in this, he may have to give way to the law. The company is not likely to try to stop the meetings of different organizations, but it is likely to make it difficult to hold them.

The meetings have been going on for some time, and the company has not been able to prevent them. The company has tried to stop some of the meetings, but it has not been able to do so.
