

Group to Meet On Tuesday at Community House

Several Birmingham clubs have already given their approval to the Community Institute which is scheduled to be held in the Community House on Nov. 8 and have contacted Mrs. Cleveland Walcutt to announce that they will have a member of their organization on the steering committee to organize the steering committee at the Community House.

Thirty organizations have been invited by the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women to cooperate in planning on a day's program devoted to community problems. Mrs. Walcutt as program chairman of the A. A. U. W. has been largely responsible for the formation of this Community Institute.

Among those who have signified their approval and who will either come themselves or intend to send a delegate are Mrs. Roy F. Smith of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Ray A. Palmer of the Exchange club, Mrs. S. Haswell of the Birmingham Woman's club, Mrs. Helen Fitzmaurice Wendell of the League of Women Voters, William Hartwood of the Knights of Pythias, Ray H. Hochford of the Rotary club and Mrs. Leo A. Whelan of the University of Michigan Alumnae.

To Hold Small Sessions The aim of the institute is to break down the large group into small discussion groups, thus permitting the individual to select the subject in which he is most interested. Each group will be headed by a leader in the community well versed in the subject under his supervision.

The problems studied could be recreation and sanitation, education, recreation, tax delinquency, domestic help, etc. The selection and set up of these problems as well as the choice of speakers and leaders, will be the work of the steering committee. This committee is representative of a representative of each group cooperating in the institute.

The program for the Community Institute is expected to take the following form: Speaker to give at 10 o'clock; 10-11:30 discussion groups are expected to be held from 11 to 12 o'clock; following luncheon at which the speaker will address the group there will be discussion periods from 12:30 to 2:30. Mrs. Walcutt announced this week that if any club in Birmingham had not been contacted and invited to send a delegate to the steering committee meeting on Tuesday it was through an unavoidable error. Every club is invited to attend.

Adele Skillman, Robert Adams Wed At Christ Church Cranbrook Affair

Christ Church Cranbrook was the scene Saturday evening of the marriage of Adele Skillman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Skillman of Detroit and Lake Angelus, who became the bride of Robert Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman D. Adams also of Lake Angelus and Detroit.

The Rev. Charles H. Cadigan read the service which was performed at 8:30 in the evening before an altar which was flanked with clobium ferns, palms and Madonia lilies. Tall standards of ivory cathedral candles burned in front of the heavily banked altar.

The bride was gowned in heavy slipper satin in the new Madonna blue. The gown was made with a cowl neckline and had a heavily shirred blouse which was gathered into a tightly fitted girde. The sleeves were puffed at the top and tight along her arms, coming to points over her wrists. The skirt, which was very full in back, ended in a long full train. Her blue lustrous veil, which was fashioned into a court headdress and held at the back by three ostrich feathers, reached to her knees. She carried lilies of the valley and gardenias.

Mrs. Harry Skillman, H. who attended her sister-in-law, the matron of honor, wore an Empire style gown of sateen rose satin. She wore a bandeau of shaded rose velvet with streamers falling to the floor. She carried a shower bouquet of red and white pink carnations and pale blue delphinium.
